A-Weapons Said Ready To Protect Allies in Pacific

Tokyo — (U.P.) — The United States is ready to use atomic weapons to protect its Pacific allies against Communist aggression, well informed sources said today.

These sources said they understood the United States was prepared to use atomic weapons to defend Japan, Formosa, the Philippines and the Republic of Korea.

They declined to discuss the types of atomic weapons that would be brought into use against any Red aggressor in the Pacific but it was presumed the United States would use any device that might be needed.

Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff, already has said the United States will use atomic weapons to defend the Republic of Korea if the Reds open new aggression, there.

For some time there has been considerable speculation that the United States has atomic weapons stockpiled in Asia, but there never has been any official confirmation.

Guam and Okinawa have been mentioned as likely spots for storing atomic weapons, especially bombs.

The United States has mutual defense treaties with Japan, the Republic of Korea, the Philippines and one with Formosa awaiting ratification. If any of these nations were attacked, the United States could swing into action immediately.

Reports of American readiness came soon after atomic authorities in Washington said nuclear weapons now have become standard equipment for all the armed services.

Survey Shows More Men Than Women In US Hospitals

Chicago — (U.P.) — More men are hospitalized than women, a nationwide-survey shows.

This is true despite the fact that one-sixth of all persons admitted to hospitals in one year were pregnant women.

The survey was made by the Bureau of Medical Economic Research of the American Medical association and reported in the AMA Journal.

It showed that on one day in 1953 there were 1,206,592 persons in 6539 of the nation's 6840 registered hospitals. This included 642,156 men and 564,436 women — or 77,720 more men.

Men Shown Sicklier

Frank G. Dickinson, director of the bureau, said this "strongly implies that men are the sicklier and more hospitalized sex," but the survey gave no definite reason for the ratio.

The survey showed that even in the childbearing years of life, between 15 and 44, men exceeded women in hospitals by 13,000.

There were 98,605 more males than females in Veterans Administration hospitals and also more men than women in other federal hospitals. However, in general nongovernmental hospitals women exceeded men by 64,631. In state hospitals the number of males and females was practically the same, 277,546 and 277,270.

U.S. Will Press For Verdine Release

Washington — (U.P.) — Diplomatic officials said today that the United States will continue to press for the freedom of Pvt. William A. Verdine, 28, of Starks, La., who was reported arrested by the Russians in 1949 and held in jail ever since.

The State Department also is giving some consideration to a request that Moscow be contacted about the detention of Mrs. Erika Glaser Wallach, wife of an American citizen, in a Siberian prison camp.

Verdine is being held in the same Russian prison camp where two other Americans, freed Saturday by the Soviets, were held. They are John H. Noble, 28, of Detroit, and Pvt. William T. Marchuk, 38, of Brackinridge, Pa.

Pope May Not Again Resume Full Duties

Vatican City— (U.P.)—Vatican sources said today Pope Pius XII may never again return to the fast pace of carrying on his full duties as spiritual leader of 425,000,000 Roman Catholics.

These sources noted that although the Pope is out of danger he now gets up an hour later and goes to bed four hours earlier, at 10 p.m. instead of 2 a.m.

The Pope's amazing battle against gastritis that almost killed him last month has left him in a weakened state in the most critical winter of his 16-year reign.

Doctors attending the Pope said his heart and lungs are in excellent condition but have ordered him to rest.

"For the Pope, there is no rest," the Pope has often told the doctors.

Ten Outstanding Young Men of '54 Selected by USJC

Tulsa, Okla.—(U.P.)—A college president, a football coach and explorers of test tubes, space and darkest Africa were among the ten outstanding young men of 1954 named Sunday by the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The ten are the 17th annual group to be named by the chamber, which will honor them at a Louisville, Ky., banquet Jan. 22.

Those selected were:

Lodge Operator Faces Loss of U.S. Permit

Portland — (U.P.)—Charles W. Slaney, ousted operator of Timberline lodge on Mt. Hood, said today he would fight the U.S. Forest Service's move "to the last drop of legal procedure."

Slaney's permit to operate the federally - owned resort and chairlift was cancelled Friday because of unsatisfactory management. He said he will seek a court injunction if a new permit is not given to him.

Slaney said he has a $385,000 business at stake and is losing it because of "unfair criticism."

The Forest Service charged that he failed to install pumps to furnish water for the fire alarm sprinkler system in the wintertime and that his operation of the chairlift was hazardous.

Red China, Yugoslavia Establish Relations

Tokyo — (U.P.) — Communist China announced today it is establishing diplomatic relations with Yugoslavia.

A Peiping Radio broadcast heard in Tokyo said both countries will exchange ambassadors.

Negotiations leading to the establishment of diplomatic relations were carried out in Moscow by each country's respective ambassador to the Soviet Union, Peiping said.

Chinese Premier Chou En-lai wrote Coca Popovic, state secretary for foreign affairs of Yugoslavia that Communist China "welcomes" the establishment of diplomatic relations and the exchange of ambassadors.

Washington — (U.P.)—Democrats and Republicans in the House and Senate worked backstage Saturday in an effort to complete committee assignments so the new Democratic - controlled congress can get to business.

As We Live

By ELIZABETH HURLOCK, PH.D.

Should She Invite Ex-Steady To Prom?

The senior prom is the high point in the year for most high school students. Naturally, a girl wants to spend that time with the boy she likes best.

(Q) "I have been going steady with a boy in my class in school ever since the beginning of the sophomore year. This year he said he did not want to go steady, because he wanted to have more time for his studies and to do things with the boys. In our school the girls invite the boys to the senior prom. Should I invite this boy, even though we are no longer going steady? I still like him very much, and I hope he will ask me to go steady again before our senior year is over. My mother thinks I should not invite him to the prom because he might think I was trying to get him to go steady again. But there is no other boy I would enjoy going with as much."

(A) Because the memory of your senior prom will be one of the most lasting of your school days, you want it to be as happy as possible. For this reason the boy you ask to the prom should be one you would most enjoy being with.

Dr. Hurlock

You do not have to be going steady with a boy to invite him to a dance, even one as important as a senior prom. And because you have gone steady with this lad for the major part of your high school career, he is the logical one for you to ask.

The only thing that might hold you back is the knowledge that he has lost interest in you or that he is going steady with another girl. Under such circumstances it would be best not to invite him. He might turn down your invitation, and this alone would be enough to spoil the prom for you. If, on the other hand, his only reason for not wanting to go steady is what he said it was, then he will expect you to invite him to the prom.

COW ALOFT

Meriden, Conn. —(U.P.)— Two policemen, while patrolling the city's outskirts, saw a cow on a barn roof. Together with the amazed farm they discovered that bossie had walked out of a loft window onto the roof. They arranged a makeshift ramp and coaxed the cow down. They closed their report at headquarters in the routine form: "No damage to barn or cow."
