

McCarthy Attacks Army Secretary; Charges Deception

Washington — (U.P.) — Senator Joseph R. McCarthy Saturday switched his attack on Democrats to a favorite target, Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens, accusing him of "deliberate deception" in the Peress case.

McCarthy said Stevens withheld the names of Army Counselor John G. Adams and Maj. Gen. Walter L. Weible, deputy chief of staff, from a list of 30 persons involved in the promotion and honorable discharge of former Maj. Irving Peress.

Clashing With Army

McCarthy calls Peress, a New York dentist, a "Fifth Amendment Communist." The disputed list of 30 persons was furnished by Stevens last spring to a special subcommittee which investigated the Army-McCarthy controversy.

The stormy Wisconsin Republican has been clashing with the Army and Stevens off and on for almost a year about the Peress case.

McCarthy said in a letter to Stevens, which was released Saturday that the Army's new 10,000-word history of the Peress case showed that Adams and Weible "were the two men who were responsible for the sudden honorable discharge of Peress."

"At this time I would like to know who made the decision to keep this information from the Mundt committee and practice this deliberate deception upon that committee and the American people," McCarthy wrote.

The list which Stevens sent Sen. Karl E. Mundt (R-S.D.), chairman of the subcommittee, which heard the Army-McCarthy dispute, never has been made public. Mundt gave the list, unread, to McCarthy who read it but has not disclosed the 30 names.

McCarthy's new broadside against Stevens followed the bitter debate in the Senate yesterday after the Senate unanimously approved a resolution, pledging it to diligently search out Communists.

McCarthy said he was not "too hopeful" that the Democrats would continue his anti-Communist campaign. He said the party still is controlled "by the same group of men responsible for 20 dreary years of the Harry Dexter White type of treason."

Twice the presiding officer, Sen. Russell B. Long (D-La.), gaveled McCarthy to silence, and the Wisconsin Republican was forced to sit down for violating a Senate rule impugning the motives of colleagues.

Mildred Gail Chosen 4-H'er Of Month; Activities Cited

Mildred Gail, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Norman Gail, route 1, Gold Hill, has been selected as Jackson county's outstanding club member for the month of January.

Miss Gail has completed nine years in 4-H club work in which she has worked with sheep all nine years, beef eight years and dairy one year. During this time she has exhibited the reserve grand champion steer in 1948, and has been grand reserve champion sheep showman in 1946, was awarded the George Nichols' trophy for the outstanding club member with sheep at the 1951 county fair, and in 1953 was the grand champion sheep and grand champion beef showman.

She has exhibited at the state fair five different years with fat lambs and steers. She was awarded a trip to state fair on a judging team in 1951 and this past year was on the highest Oregon livestock judging team to judge at the Pacific International in Portland.

Miss Gail's other 4-H activities include working on the monthly radio program on station KMED, two years as a camp counselor in the 4-H summer camp and attendance at 4-H summer school at Corvallis where last year she was president of her living group. She has been a junior leader of the Gold Hill sheep club for the past four years and has been the general chairman of the Gold Hill Lamb show for the last three years handling the organization, judging and presentation of awards.

This year Miss Gail is vice-president of the student body at Crater High school in Central Point, is a member of the student council, Future Homemakers of America, Girls' League and the Torch National Honor society. One of her big interests is the "Curtain Callers" and her participation in debate and extemporaneous speech at Crater High school. One honor she is very proud of is the "Jerome" which she won in 1952 for being the outstanding actress at Crater High school for the part of Aunt Ella in the play "Hangman's Noose."

She is a member of the Methodist church and sings in the church choir and is active in the Methodist Youth fellowship. She enjoys hiking and swimming piano playing as some of her hobbies. Miss Gail is actively participating in the talent show to be held by the 4-H clubs of Jackson county in February as their master of ceremonies, a

Demos Planning To Let Record Answer 'Easy on Reds' Charge

Washington — (U.P.) — Democrats said Saturday they will let their Red hunting record in the next two years answer Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy's charge that their party will go easy on Communists.

McCarthy said he meant no slur on Sen. Price Daniel (D-Tex.), sponsor of the resolution, or many other Democrats like Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D-Va.), a southern conservative.

But he added, "The Truman-Acheson branch of the Democrat party has coddled, covered up and nurtured treason."

Long told McCarthy later that every president of the United States had been a patriotic American. He said they may have made mistakes of judgment but not of motive.

Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark), who succeeds the Wisconsin Republican as chairman of the Senate Permanent Investigating subcommittee, told newsmen, "I hope the record this subcommittee will make in the 84th Congress will be a good one. At any rate, it will speak accurately when made." But McClellan would not comment directly on McCarthy's charge since it did not mention him or the subcommittee.

Shady Cove-Trail News

Sen. Russell B. Long (D-La.), who tangled verbally with McCarthy in the Senate Friday, told reporters, "The Democrats' record will speak for itself on the efforts to investigate and ferret out subversive activities. There is a determination among the Democratic leaders to expose Communism wherever it might be."

Stirs Up Ruckus

McCarthy stirred up a ruckus Friday after the Senate passed a resolution promising to continue investigating Communists. He said he did not believe the Democratic party will allow Democratic senators to live up to the resolution.

"I am firmly convinced that the control of the Democratic party is held by the same group of men responsible for 20 years of Harry Dexter White type of treason," McCarthy said.

McCarthy said some of the 54 senators who signed the resolution were "trying to get some dirt off their hands."

Bang! went the gavel in the hands of Long, who was presiding over the sparsely populated Senate chamber. He ordered McCarthy to sit down, under the Senate rule which forbids questioning the motives of another senator.

Ordered Down Twice More

McCarthy was allowed to proceed, but was forced to take his seat twice more for rule infractions before the dispute subsided.

Long said it was the duty of the presiding officer to enforce the rules, and he intended to do it.
