County Judge, Council Head Speak for Republican Women

Jackson County Republican Women elected officers yesterday and heard talks by John Snider, chairman of the city council and County Judge Rodney Keating on local level government. Mrs. Stephen G. Nye was re-elected to serve a second two-year term as president.

Serving with Mrs. Nye will be Mrs. Robert J. Keeney, first vice-president; Mrs. Wayne Stine, second vice-president; Mrs. Roy Rickard, third vice-president; Mrs. W. J. Moreland, secretary, and Mrs. John Pletsch, treasurer.

Mr. Snider spoke briefly of Medford's new city manager system of government and said it will work "if we let the city manager manage." The speaker pointed out that numerous functions going on inside the city are controlled by either county or state laws and officers, such as sanitation laws and the sale of liquor.

The city has to plan continually for the future, he said, pointing out that it is estimated Medford's population will be 40,000 by 1970. He urged citizens not to ally themselves with small pressure groups seeking something for the good of only a few, but to be tolerant, offer only constructive criticism and keep themselves informed on city government.

Mr. Snider pointed out that there has never been a woman member of the city council and said he felt that women should "accept their responsibilities in this field." In answer to a question, he said that the term of the city manager is indefinite.

Judge Keating pointed out that the county judge no longer has any judicial power, as in the past. The judge is now the chairman of the county court, composed of two county commissioners and the judge, and the function of this group is to manage the county's business. He discussed finances briefly and said "if our taxes are up, it's you who are raising them." The judge said all departments of the county were working well together, that much needed equipment has been purchased for the various offices and that "we are proud of our road department and our outstanding county engineer."

The judge also praised the county public health department, pointing out it is rated at the top among such departments in the nation. He added that he felt this was generally not known by Jackson County residents and that the public relations of the department should be improved in order that this fact would be known to all.

Mrs. O. A. Eden, member of the city planning commission, spoke concerning the proposal of the state highway department to build a freeway which would follow the course of Bear creek through the city. She pointed out that many believe this would detract materially from the beauty and use of Hawthorne park and the parking area near the Scout house, even though the proposed freeway would be elevated, and said that for many years it had been the plan of citizens to use the creek bank area for parks as far south as the Girl Scout day camp ground. She urged citizens to inform themselves concerning this and other proposed routes and communicate their opinions to city officials.

Mrs. Tom Ness reported on proposed by-law changes for the group which will be voted on at the next session. Mrs. Nye presided.

Nutrition Topic For Meeting of Medford Women

Mrs. James Massie, RN, spoke for a meeting of Medford Woman's Christian Temperance union held last Thursday at Girls Community club. Her topic was "Modern Nutritional Trends."

Mrs. Massie, active in the Natural Food association of southern Oregon, and a board member for the national NFA, stated that the way to better health is through better foods. She declared that whole wheat is one of the most important foods, since it contains large amounts of valuable nutrients.

The speaker declared that the remarkable stamina of the people of Russia and Germany is due to the fact that they eat bread made from whole grain flours.

Mrs. Massie answered questions concerning insecticides, and cited reports of eminent medical men to show that traces of DDT can now be found in the tissues of both men and domestic animals. Mrs. Mable Houck introduced the speaker.

A sound movie entitled "Gateway to Health" was shown. This movie was made under the guidance of Dr. Fred D. Miller, Altoona, Pa. Dr. Clive McKay of the school of Nutrition, Cornell university with Dr. W. W. Wainwright of Southern California College of Dentistry as consultant.

Lee Ragsdale of Medford Senior High school operated the projector for the film showing.

Mrs. Olaf Severson presented Mrs. Charles Ray for the devotional period and Mrs. Guy Cox, president, conducted the meeting.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Ernest Santo, Mrs. LeClerc and Mrs. Emma Perkins.

Club and Lodge Plan Meetings

Mrs. Richard Singler will be hostess for a meeting of Wenhonah club to be held Thursday, January 20, at 10 a.m. for sewing. A covered dish luncheon will be served at 12:30 p.m. Members are asked to take table service.

Pocahontas lodge will meet Friday, January 21 at 8 p.m. in Redman hall. Games will follow during the social hour and members attending are asked to take "white elephants" for prizes.

Honor Society Pledges Student

Miss Meta Jean Frink, junior at the University of Oregon, has been tapped for membership in Phi Chi Theta, women's business honorary, a release from the school states. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Frink, 1654 Thomas road.

Miss Frink is assistant treasurer of WYCA on the campus, and song leader for her sorority, Alpha Phi. She is a business education major.

4-H Club News

Antelope Clothing Club met January 8, at the Westover home. In previous years the Clothing Club has worked out a system by which members may earn points toward a silver thimble. The member with the highest points receives the thimble. They earn points by attending meetings, keeping their rooms clean and neat, by extra sewing, by dishwashing and ironing, and doing something for others. Lucy Gardener will keep a chart of the points the members earn.

The club decided to make tray mats for a hospital. Mrs. Malloroy, the club's leader, will see which hospital needs the mats the most.

Next meeting will be a workshop at the Malloroy home on January 22. Lucy Gardener Reporter

Trail Club "The Sewing Five" of Trail met for their first time Jan. 13 with a pajama party at the home of Joey and Jacky Hume. The new officers are: President, Toni Miller; vice-president, Willie B. Poltevin; secretary, Doris Darrohn; news reporter, Jackie Hume; and song leader, Joey Hume. Jackie Hume Reporter

Many Activities On Calendar for Phoenix Club

Phoenix — Officers and members of Phoenix Presbyterian church groups are busy this week with several activities.

Today a large group of women planned to attend the leadership training session at First Presbyterian church, Medford, presided over by Miss Elizabeth Manuel, San Francisco.

Tonight trustees will meet at the church to make plans for coming months and to acquaint new trustees with their work.

Also set for tonight is a meeting of the craft class for high school girls. This class, opened several weeks ago, is attended by a large number of girls who study different crafts under leaders provided by the church.

At the last meeting of the men's group of the church, 16 boys of the church and community were guests. Plans were started to organize a craft class for boys.

Friday, January 21, Dr. and Mrs. Bert Elliott will show films which they took on a trip to Cuba of mission work being carried on there. This will be a meeting of the Homemakers class, but an invitation is extended to all members of the church and anyone in the community who is interested. A covered dish dinner will be served at 6:30 p.m. and dessert will be provided by a committee.

Hosts for the meeting will be Mr. and Mrs. Rex Nicodemus, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Stothers and Mrs. Floyd Schmelzer.

Officers were installed for the church during services Sunday morning. They are Mrs. Schmelzer, Sunday school superintendent; Jim Gardner, church treasurer; Wade Loufborrow, deacon; W. H. Johnston, Charles Marrs and J. O. N. Poling, trustees; Robert Webster and Mrs. Gardner, elders.

Home

Mrs. F. Corning Kenly has returned to her home on Jacksonville-Phoenix road here after spending several weeks in Chicago and Boston. In Chicago she was a guest of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Granger Kenly, and in Boston she was with another son, Corning, and Mrs. Kenly.

Seven Local Men Join Armed Forces

Five Jackson county men and a transfer from outside the state were inducted into the Army at the Portland station last week, according to the Jackson county selective service board. Three of them were from Medford, Thomas Jennings Oakes, Elliott Sanford Dugman Jr., and Gene Roy Knutson. The others were Roy Delmar Wiltse, Ashland; Gerald Lee Wier, Phoenix, and Edgar Glenn Mathews, Applegate, a transfer from another state.

Two local men recently enlisted for four years in the U.S. Air Force, and are now taking basic training at Parks Air Force base, it was announced today by the Air Force recruiting office.

They are Keith Dwaine Herdman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Herdman, 1021 North Central ave., and Jimmie Rogers White, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hershel White, 2394 Corona ave. The young men enlisted under the "buddy" system, which permits them to take basic training together.

Past Grands Club Installs Officers At Last Meeting

Installation of officers was held at a meeting of Past Noble Grands' club, Olive Rebekah lodge, held at Girls Community club. Taking office were Mrs. Floyd Murray, president; Mrs. Margaret Davis, vice-president; Mrs. Dana Bowers, secretary and treasurer.

Mrs. Murray appointed a number of committee chairmen. They include Mrs. A. H. Gregory, publicity; Mrs. Clarence Jordan, chaplain; Mrs. Carl Pearson, musician; and Mrs. Earl Scripser, decorations. Mrs. Murray, Mrs. Gregory, the retiring president, and Mrs. Davis, with Mrs. W. H. Dyer and Mrs. James Fleming, make up the ways and means committee.

Serving on the visiting committee will be Mrs. Rozella Theesfeld, Mrs. Minnie Bryant, Mrs. Davis, Mrs. Rosa Young, Mrs. Fred Daugherty, Mrs. Gregory, Mrs. E. W. Pease and Mrs. Dyer. Mrs. Daugherty was appointed constitution chairman.

Mrs. Gregory concluded her work as president for the organization and reported on accomplishments of the year. Mrs. Carrie Milnes, junior past president, and Mrs. Lewis Thompson conducted the installation. Corsages made by Mrs. Dyer were presented to the new officers and Mrs. Daugherty decorated the rooms with flowers. Mrs. Gregory presented the retiring noble grand of Olive Rebekah lodge, Mrs. John Daniel, a pin and invited her to become a member of the group.

Last year's Sister Olives were revealed, and new names were drawn for the coming year.

Mrs. Daugherty, Mrs. Rogers, Mrs. Fern Hughes, Mrs. Orpha Wendell and Miss Caroline Leaders served refreshments.

The club, which now has 70 members, will hold initiation at the next session.

Morans Here

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Moran left today for their home in Molalla, Ore., after visiting with relatives in Medford. The Morans were accompanied here by their daughter, Mrs. Burl Walker, Arcata, Calif., who was en-route home after a visit with her parents. Mrs. Walker, the former Peggy Moran, left Medford by plane Monday.

Work-Saving Mechanisms Planned for New Kitchens

By ELIZABETH TOOMEY United Press Correspondent New York—(UP)—A friendly, talkative fellow named Leroy Kiefer is around these days bearing glad tidings for women. Kiefer is a man of vision. He envisions things that will make life simpler for housewives.

Better yet, he is in a position to turn wishful thinking into honest-to-goodness gadgets. He took time out from supervising the workmen who are setting up the "Kitchen of Tomorrow" to chat sensibly about future work-saving wonders.

"Almost everything has been thought of before by someone," he said. "But maybe their timing was wrong or they didn't go about it right."

He said that even a new kitchen stove with burners that flip over when not in use is based on an old idea.

Motorama "Much the same mechanism went into retractable headlights back in 1939," said Kiefer, who is director of product and exhibit design for the General Motors styling section. The Frigidaire "Kitchen of Tomorrow" is part of their Motorama opening here later this week.

"What happens when junior pushes the button to flip the burners while you're cooking dinner and dumps the string beans into the machinery?" an inquisitive bystander asked. "We thought of that," Kiefer said patiently. "Even the slight weight of an empty pan trips a gadget which keeps the burner from turning."

The kitchen looks like some kind of pink and plum-colored executive suite, with a desk at one side where the housewife plans her menus and can answer the telephone without touching it. All she does is wave her hand over the phone and an electronic proximity switch flips over so she can begin her conversation. The refrigerator doors slide up and down with the pressure of a forefinger and the glass oven door slides down like an automobile window at the touch of a button.

Reason For Everything There are sensible reasons behind the most amazing gadgets,

Kiefer said, even the recipe dial which works like a small movie screen to project microfilmed recipes in color for the cook. "Instead of buying a cookbook you'd buy a series of recipe cylinders," he said. "You can see exactly what the thing you're cooking is supposed to look like."
