Polio Fund Aided

Wednesday night community dances turned in $606.19 for the March of Dimes, it was announced today by Chairman Tom Reeder. Receipts showed $126.07 from Dreamland dance hall, $178.18 from Rogue Valley ballroom, $141.41 from the Jackson hotel Pioneer room, $64.53 from the YMCA square dance, and $96 from Jacksonville. Reeder expressed his thanks to local labor unions, Jacksonville and Medford Lions clubs, and organizations which aided in promotion efforts for their work in making the dances a success.

Polio Mystery Man Still Unidentified; New Clue Added

The March of Dimes Mystery Man went unidentified last night and another clue and two more prizes have been added.

POLIO'S MYSTERY MAN Military Abbreviation

The new clue is: My initials are a military abbreviation. The added prizes are $5 worth of laundry or dry cleaning from Al Dumas' Medford Laundry and the choice of any parakeet in the aviary at the Jungle Shop. Previous clues follow: He was born in the Evergreen state in 1906. He received his education in the Rose City, is married and is a father. He came to the Rogue Valley in 1925. Animals that roar are not always dangerous.

The other prize is the choice of any pair of Florsheim shoes at Robinson Brothers Men's store. A new clue and another prize will be added each day that the Mystery Man is unidentified.

Persons desiring to enter the contest are asked to send their name, address and telephone number to March of Dimes Mystery Man contest, PO Box 531, Medford. A telephone call will be made each night with the name to be called drawn from those who have entered the contest. A coupon for convenience of those entering the contest appears on this page.

Tonight's call comes from station KWIN at 6:15 p.m. and Friday's call will be made over station KBES-TV at 6:30 p.m.

First Heart Fund Donation Arrives From Atlanta, Ga.

A check from the Elizabeth McGlone Camarata Memorial Fund has been received as the first contribution to Medford's Heart fund campaign, which opens Feb. 1 and will be climaxed with Heart Sunday, Feb. 20.

John Camarata, Atlanta, Ga., contributed $100 to the Medford fund because he said, "Mrs. Camarata had her first heart attack in Medford, and the people of the hospital and town were so very nice to us all, so I feel it is most appropriate that the memorial start in Medford."

He has also given an Isolette to Sacred Heart hospital in memory of Mrs. Camarata.

The contribution was received by Raymond Reter, local Heart Fund chairman, who has also contributed a substantial amount in memory of Mrs. Camarata.

Visited Last Summer
Mrs. Camarata and her sister, Agnes McGlone, came to Medford last Aug. 25 to visit with Mr. and Mrs. Reter for a few days. While here she was stricken with her initial heart attack. Under care at Sacred Heart hospital she recovered sufficiently to go home to Atlanta the latter part of September. She arrived safely and apparently was approaching full recovery, but three weeks later suffered another attack which proved fatal.

Henry Keneally, Portland, program consultant for the Oregon Heart association, will be in Medford tomorrow to make final plans for the campaign here. Meetings are planned with Raymond Wise, special gifts chairman, and with representatives of the Business and Professional Women's club which is organizing the Heart Sunday campaign.

Many volunteers are needed for the Sunday drive, and those who are willing to give an hour's time to call at homes in their neighborhoods are asked to notify Mrs. Alberta Rossi, 2-9812, or Mrs. Marina Gates, 2-6171.

Trans-Atlantic Flier Buffeted by Storms

Belfast, Ireland (U.P.)—Max Conrad, 52, San Francisco, left Newfoundland for Shannon, Ireland, last night in a two-engined Apache plane and landed at a British Air Force base five hours late and 200 miles off course because of a raging Arctic storm.

His main radio failed while he was bucking the gales, but British air controllers got through on an emergency set and guided him in.

"The trip," he said, "wasn't bad... had to go some getting down, but I wasn't worried."

"Going to rest now. Get to Paris tomorrow. Find out then where the plane goes."

He plans to deliver the Apache to a customer in North Africa.

Wall Street

New York (U.P.)—Old Man Winter joined up with the bullish forces today to help industrial shares round out their eighth consecutive session of advance.

Oil shares perked up as icy blasts froze car wheels on the tracks in Chicago and whistled eastward where Wall Street hoped they wouldn't chill this hot stock market.

Over-Population Problem in Spain

Madrid (U.P.)—Spain, like Italy, has an over-population problem, and Minister of Foreign Affairs Martin Artajo said the government wants to ease the situation with a controlled emigration scheme.

Artajo, speaking during Marian Year ceremonies at Zaragoza, said "each year 350,000 more people are born in Spain than die here."

He said that a part of the surplus is being absorbed in expanding Spanish industry, while others find work in agricultural areas where irrigation schemes were being developed.

"But," he added, "there are always about 150,000 Spaniards left over who need to leave the country in search of a future."

While recognizing this, he said the government would not permit emigration to follow the "anarchical" lines which it has followed for centuries.

"Modern times," he said, "call for a technically directed emigration."

Traditionally, Spaniards go to Central or South America, where there are millions of them today, many still keeping close cultural and family ties with Spain.

Last year alone, according to figures published here, Spanish emigrants to the Americas set back to Spain 4,000,000,000 pesetas ($40,000,000).

Lowry Introduces Accident Reporting Clarification Bill

Salem—Under provisions of a measure introduced into the Oregon senate by Sen. Philip B. Lowry, Medford, the law governing the reporting of motor vehicle accidents resulting in the death or injury of any person, or damage to property, would be clarified, and more certain responsibility fixed as to the proper official to whom the accident report should be made.

Under Senator Lowry's proposal, the present law would be amended to spell out in clear and concise terms that such reports of accidents should be made to the sheriff of the county if the mishap occurs outside the corporate limits of a city.

On the other hand, the new proposal would write a new section into the present law providing that the chief of police, or other properly designated officer, would receive the report if the accident occurs within the corporate limits of a city.

Senator Lowry stated that his effort to change the law was merely an effort to clarify responsibility of the proper person to receive such reports. By channeling reports to the proper official, law enforcement bodies are enabled to properly pinpoint accident hazard points in their county or city and thus apply proper education, enforcement, and engineering measures to cut down the mounting toll of accidents and injuries.
