In the special news release to the southwest region of the state, the Oregon State Game Commission stressed concerning the recently adopted 1955 fishing regulations that the changes made in the seasons on the Rogue and Applegate will not become effective until 1956.

For the fishermen using the January 1 to 31—Rogue river exclusive of tributaries below mouth of the Applegate open for angling for trout not less than 12 inches.

January 1 to February 28—Applegate river below the mouth of the Little Applegate river, exclusive of its tributaries and of that portion of the Applegate from Laurel Hill dam to Williams creek, open for angling for trout not less than 12 inches.

At present, the regulations as stated in the current fishing synopsis are still in effect.

The winter regulation changes announced by the game commission included:

REQUEST OBTAINED

The Applegate regulation effective next year fulfills the request of the Jackson County chapter of the Izaak Walton league for more accessible winter steelhead fishing for a longer season on a longer stretch of river. There's only slight difference. Waltonians suggested January 15 to March 15 and fishing up to McKee bridge. This year a month long angling season on the Applegate ends on February 15. Trout not less than 12 inches in length can be taken from the mouth of the river up to Williams creek.

Washington Tips Oregon In Overtime

Eugene—(U.P.)—Washington's Huskies went into overtime Friday night to defeat Oregon 54-52 in a Northern Division basketball game at McArthur court.

The Huskies, after leading throughout the game, were held scoreless for the last six minutes and 21 seconds while Oregon overcame an 11-point deficit and tied the score at 49-49.

Big Jim Loscutt, Duck ace who made 27 points for scoring honors, tipped in a missed free throw with slightly more than a minute left to put the game into overtime.

Washington took control of the overtime period, leading 54-50 with 30 seconds remaining. Another Loscutt tip-in brought the score to 54-52, but Oregon got its fourth loss of the conference season when a desperation shot missed as the period ended.

Dean Parsons, Husky center, was high for Washington with 26 points.

Oregon lost the game at the free throw line. The Ducks made 10 free tosses while missing 17. Washington picked up 18 points on free throw, and missed on only six gift tosses.

MC GEE TO RETURN

Eugene—(U.P.)—Jasper McGee, the standout sophomore fullback at the University of Oregon, has transferred to a junior college for winter term but he'll be back to play football next fall, it was announced. McGee is in good standing scholastically, school officials said, but decided to enroll either at an Oakland or San Francisco school for the one term in order to be closer to his home at Berkeley.

MIBL Clubs Eye Berths In Play-Off

Members of the Medford Independent Basketball League on Monday enter the last full week of the regular season and scuffles are slated on four nights. They will be topped off by a Thursday ruckus between Andy's Jewelers and Yellow Cab, both now unbeaten in the league.

Andy's has a Wednesday night scrape but Yellow Cab has no activity in the circuit before the skirmish with the Jewelers.

Both top quints have clinched spots in the single elimination tournament for the MIBL championship on February 16 and 17. Much interest this week will be on the battle for third and fourth places to qualify for play-off berths.

Five teams are still in the running. Among them Campus Five can do no worse than a fourth place tie in the final regular standings. Eagle Point can afford to lose one game and still be in contention. Hawkins Tires, Sacred Heart church and Prospect are still in the race. One loss each will put the church and Prospect out of the scrap.

All but one game this week will be at the Medford junior high. The 7 p.m. mix Monday puts Eagle Point against Sacred Heart while the Campus Five opposes Burelson's of Central Point at 8:30 p.m.

Tuesday rivalry matches YMCA and Prospect in the early hassle with Eagle Point to follow against Burelson's. Company A of the National Guard is the foe of Andy's in the first game on Wednesday with Skinner's Buick nightcapping against Headquarters Company of the National Guard.

Headquarters and Prospect start the evening off on Thursday with the Yellow Cab-Andy's bout following.

Campus Five and Hawkins Tires are scheduled for Thursday at 6:30 p.m. on Thursday at the Ashland high school gym. The tilt is a prelude to the Red Heads-National Guard All-Star attraction. A Hawkinsian protest of its December 9 game with Campus Five has been allowed by MIBL officials. The Thursday mix is expected to be the replay approved.

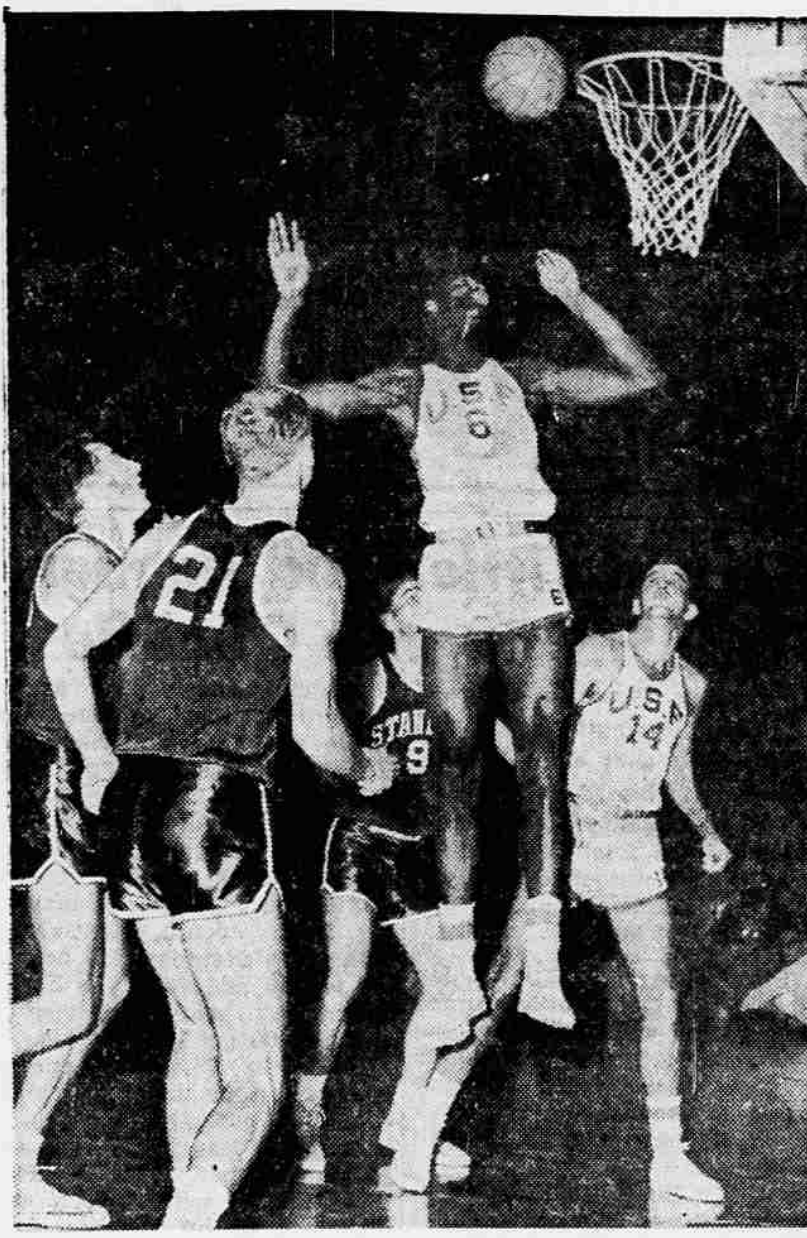

Last of the regularly scheduled MIBL frays will be on Tuesday, February 15. Eagle Point meets Hawkinsian and Prospect plays Sacred Heart. The two games originally were set for January 21 but were postponed when a junior high activity conflicted.

More than 1,300 spaces have been eliminated in each of the U. S. Army's combat infantry divisions during the past three years through restudy and revision of the tables of organization. The cut was made without any reduction in firepower.

DOING THE EXPECTED—Bill Russell (6), University of San Francisco's All-American candidate for center, leaps above surrounding Stanford University players to tip one in for two points. USF won the tilt, 76-60, before a record-breaking crowd of 13,824 in San Francisco's Cow Palace.

Bruins, Indians Maintain Pace

By UNITED PRESS

The UCLA Bruins and the Stanford Indians of the Pacific Coast conference are still battling head and head for the Southern division crown.

The Bruins kept on their winning way Friday night by walloping the California Bears, 83-64, despite a 26 point effort by Cal's great Bob McKeen. Don Bragg hit 22 points and Johnny Moore 21 for the Bruins.

Meanwhile Stanford's Ron Tomic scored 40 points to set a new Southern Division individual scoring record and lead the Indians to a 92-78 victory over Southern California's Trojans.

The sharp-shooting guard tallied 20 points in each half to eclipse the single game record of 38 held by himself and Ed Sheldrake of UCLA.

Stanford and UCLA now lead the Southern Division with identical 4-1 records.

Chiefs Defeat Pilots In Torrid Hoop Contest

Seattle—(U.P.)—Seattle University had a torrid night from the field Friday night and downed Portland University 98-83 in a race-horse basketball game here.

The Chieftains hit well over 56 per cent of their field goal attempts and got a 31-point performance from Sophomore Dick Stricklin. Cal Bauer hit 24 for the winners.

Ashland Awaits Red Head Team

Ashland—It's no joke, son—the Red Heads are coming to town.

Olsen's All-American Red Heads, girls' barnstorming basketball team, will play the National Guard All-Stars on Thursday night February 10, at the Ashland high school gymnasium.

The Red Heads oppose men's teams only on their tours and in the 1953 season they won from 134 of them in 190 games played. Men's rules are followed.

Regarded as the world champion girls' professional club, the feminine cage stars also known for fancy passing, trick shooting, novelty routines and zany antics. On the roster are girls

Neel's 50 Prep High for Season

Wasco, Ore.—(U.P.)—Tom Neel, Condon high school hooper, hit a new high for Oregon preppers this season by scoring 50 points Friday night as Condon defeated Wheeler 80-38.
