Eskimo Scouts Keep Watchful Eye for Soviet Shenanigans

Fort Richardson, Alaska—(U.P.)—Within the icy ring of the Arctic Circle, where a white man freezes to death in his own sweat, Eskimo Scouts in muskrat parkas are on guard 24 hours a day against any threatening sign from Soviet soldiers across the Bering Strait.

One of the most colorful military outfits in the world, the Eskimo Scout crest is a blue thunderbird on a silver shield and their motto is "Yun Yek"—On Guard.

These are the natives of the Northland who slay the polar bear, hunt seals and walrus for food and trap mink, ermine and wolverine.

They are as sturdy and impervious to cold as the malamutes that pull their sleds and they can follow an invisible trail for 100 miles across trackless ice as easily as a stateside American can follow Route 66 in his automobile.

Here at Fort Richardson, a few miles from Anchorage, a handful of earnest young GI's, most of them sergeants, have the duty of schooling the young eskimos to be the non-coms of the Eskimo Scouts.

Head of this group is 1st Lt. A. B. Bruck, operations and training officer for the Scouts, who was born in Germany, raised in Beverly Hills, Calif., and now calls Juneau his permanent home.

Bruck explained that the Eskimo Scouts are composed of two battalions, about 1200 men in all, one covering the northern territory bordering on the Arctic ocean and the other assigned to the west along the coast of the Bering Strait some 70 miles from Russia's Chukotski Peninsula.

The scout units are scattered among the native villages. Some may have only one squad, others may be as large as a platoon. Thus a series of village units forms a rough semicircle around the "critical" coasts of Alaska, making a chain of trained civilian soldier groups to keep a watch on what the "other side" may be doing.

"They are the only National Guard outfit in the country who are voluntarily on year round active duty," Bruck said.

Benjamin Franklin, whose birthday is January 17, was expert in handling money and his advice is as sound today as 200 years ago. All quotations here are from his booklet, "The Way To Wealth," published 1760.

Ben Franklin gives you some expert advice about Payroll Savings

"What though you have found no Treasure, nor has any rich Relation left you a legacy, Diligence is the Mother of Good Luck."

Have you ever wished you had $1,000, $5,000 or more—to buy a car, get a home, help you toward retirement? Today, it is actually easy to save such large sums! Because, today, you can have your saving done for you—with automatic diligence—through the Payroll Savings Plan.

"If you would have a faithful Servant, and one that you like, serve yourself."

Serving yourself means keeping some of the money you make each week and investing it, for yourself. Here's how: you just name a sum to your company's pay office—a few dollars or as much as you want. Each payday, that sum will be saved from your pay, before you get your check and invested for you in one of the world's finest investments, U. S. Series E Savings Bonds!

"Little Strokes fell great Oaks."

Because Savings Bonds earn good interest, they're soon worth more than the money you've invested in them. And how your savings mount up! Sign for as little as $5.00 a week and in 9 years, 8 months, you'll have $2,850 cash. In 19 years, 8 months, you'll have $6,872!

"One To-day is worth two To-morrows, and farther, Have you somewhat to do To-morrow, do it To-day."

For your own sake, don't put off joining the 8 million Americans who are making their dreams come true through Payroll Savings. Sign up for Payroll Savings today. Or, if you're self-employed, invest in Savings Bonds regularly where you bank. If you want your interest as current income, ask your banker about 3% Series H Bonds which pay interest semiannually by Treasury check.
