The "Family Looks Ahead for 1955," a leaflet prepared by Miss Mary Beth Minden, Oregon State college, indicated that farmers will have less income with expenses about the same as in previous years. Other families should have about the same income as before, but all families should adjust their spending to their income, the leaflet said.

Hardings Home From Trip South

McLeod—Mr. and Mrs. Harry Harding have returned home after spending the past several weeks in southern California. The Hardings left in mid-December and first visited in Vallejo and in Oakland. Continuing to North Hollywood, they spent Christmas and the New Year holidays with relatives.

The Hardings particularly enjoyed a trip through Woodland Hills in the San Fernando Valley to see the elaborate Christmas decorations, the houses on each street being decorated in one theme, and also the coronation ceremonies for the queen of the Pasadena Tournament of Roses. They also attended the tournament parade and game.

Another event was a smorgasbord given by the Norwegian society, with costumed dancers giving a program of Scandinavian dances, and the couple attended church services in St. David's Episcopal church in North Hollywood.

The Hardings spent several days in Death Valley, visiting Death Valley Scotty's castle, and spent some time at the ghost town of Rhyolite, Nev., famous for its early-day gold mining operations. They visited Furnace Creek inn where an old 20-mule team borax wagon is a tourist attraction.

They returned home by way of Las Vegas, Nev.
