Counselor Urges Husbands to Take Valentine to Wife

Chicago—(U.P.)—Take home a Valentine to your wife, a marriage counselor advised husbands today.

And make it one of the lacy, syrupy, hearts-and-flowers type, she said.

Dr. Frieda S. Kehm, director of the Association for Family Living, said a woman "wants and needs constant assurance of affection and security."

"Expressions of love and endearment are an important part of a woman's life," Dr. Kehm said. "To a man, these things aren't quite so important. He tends to take his wife's love for granted."

The average man, Dr. Kehm said, feels a little embarrassed about expressing the tenderness he feels for his spouse.

"But Valentine greetings make it easy," she said. "All he has to do is select the one which says it for him."

Despite their "emancipation," Dr. Kehm said, most women are still "highly dependent upon men from the psychological and emotional standpoint."

This, she said, is especially true of homemakers. "Their whole life is bound up emotionally in the subject of love or manifestations of love, their husbands, their children, their homes, and their daily task on behalf of their families," she said.

"Also, the housewife needs recognition. Where her husband is receiving recognition every day for his work, even in such a simple thing as a paycheck, the wife seldom receives praise."

Dr. Kehm said she favors the hearts-and-flowers Valentine because "the humorous type may seem clever but it isn't directed at her with an outright statement that someone loves her."

Legislator's Wife Describes Dinner Given by Eugene Chamber of Commerce

By FRANCES LITTELL

Salem — On Thursday Oregon's Republican Central committee gathered in Salem. Jackson county was well represented. We met and visited with Mrs. Frank Bash, Mrs. Curtis Hopkins, the Robert Elliotts and Hervey Wilson. Jackson county was also represented at the speakers table during the luncheon meeting with the presence of Mr. Mann here. The speakers were Mr. Newberry and Mr. Unander. Governor Patterson was the dinner speaker. All three speeches have been published.

All the State officers, the legislators and their wives were entertained by the Eugene Chamber of Commerce February 4. At 3:15 p.m. we met on the steps of the State House and went aboard four Greyhound buses. It was a rainy afternoon and trip over was very quiet as most of us napped. At the outskirts of Eugene, we met and given a police escort with sirens to the Eugene hotel, where the reception and dinner were to be held.

We were greeted by Dr. and Mrs. O. Meredith Wilson. The Wilsons had just been in Ashland and Medford so they briefed us on our mutual friends. The ladies (huge ones). Ed G. Boehnke, state chairman of the Central committee, sat on Al's right at dinner. The Phil Lowrys were also at our table. After dinner we were again given a police escort and with Governor Patterson's car in the lead were taken to McArthur Court for the Oregon and Washington basketball game, where we saw a hard fought game in which the Ducks were beaten, the score being 54-52. Had a short visit with Lee and Hester Bishop during the game.

The trip home was more lively, as we had some good singing voices in our bus. However we decided our songs dated us.

All bills are read three times. On the third reading, a member of the committee from which they were assigned must speak for them. This is called "flooring a bill." On Wednesday of last week, Al floored his first bill. His opening remark was, "This is my maiden voyage." His maiden voyage was a success. The bill was passed unanimously. The legislators now have a Rotary club of their own. They met for the first time on Wednesday at 7 a.m. in the Marion hotel for breakfast with 15 members.

The legislators' wives were feted with two teas last week—the Oregon Medical society tea is being held this afternoon, Thursday, at the home of Mrs. H. McGee. The Salem Women's club invitation is for Friday afternoon.

Those who have been here from home this week are Orrin Brown, who was working on a meat inspection bill; Vic Milnes; Judge (Rod) Keating, who had a birthday while here. The Herb Hardys gave a dinner party in his honor, and we were invited, too.

The dean of the legislators in the House this year is Dr. Ferdinand Dammach, who offers a helping hand to the freshmen, and his petite, white-haired wife, Maja (say Mya) gives the wives a guiding hand when needed.

Card Party Held For Lady Lions Of District 'E'

In a setting brightened by Valentine-inspired decorations, members of the Medford Lady Lions, Grants Pass, South Grants Pass, Rogue River and Medford Crater Lions' auxiliaries gathered Friday evening at the Medford hotel for a District E "get acquainted" card party.

The annual event, under the chairmanship this year of Mrs. Robert B. Morris of the Crater Lions auxiliary, has been sponsored previously by the Medford Lady Lions and the Phoenix Lions' auxiliary.

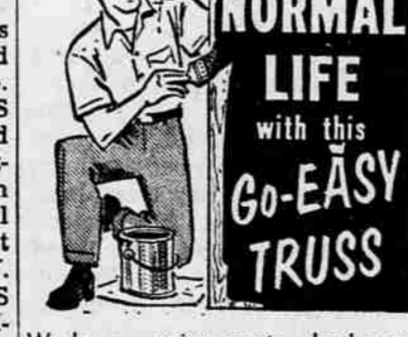

Auxiliary members spent the evening playing bridge, pinochle or canasta. Prizes were awarded to Mrs. Ken Campbell, Medford, for high bridge; Mrs. Manville Heisel, Medford, low bridge; Mrs. Al Peterson, Grants Pass, high pinochle; Mrs. Bill Rollings, Grants Pass, pinochle low; Mrs. Murray Dumas, Medford, high canasta, and Mrs. Pete Petrie, Rogue River, low canasta.

The Medford Lady Lions club won a prize for having the highest percentage of members present.

Medford Woman Attends Meeting Of WCTU Board

Mrs. Minnie Bryant returned to Medford last week after a trip north. Mrs. Bryant stopped first in Roseburg where she visited Mrs. E. C. Abbey, O'Brien, recovering in a Roseburg hospital from injuries received in an auto accident several weeks ago. The Abbeys are well known in IOOF and Rebekah circles of the state.

In Eugene Mrs. Bryant visited Mrs. May Allanbaugh and Dr. and Mrs. W. E. Buchanan. In Corvallis she spent some time with Mr. and Mrs. William Schenley, former managers of the Children's Farm home at Corvallis and with Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Willson. Mrs. Bryant also spent a day at the children's home, where she was a guest in Frances Willard cottage.

Mrs. Bryant then continued to Portland where she visited the IOOF home, and attended a concert of the Portland Symphony orchestra. Tuesday she attended a meeting of the executive board of Oregon WCTU, and returned to Medford Wednesday.

During the board meeting plans were made for the state convention of WCTU to be held in Medford in September 7-9.
