

Rogue River Clubs Plan Spring Show

Rogue River—Plans for the eighth annual flower show sponsored by the Rogue River Garden club are being made and committee appointments were announced last week. The show is scheduled for April 16. Also participating in putting on the show are members of the Laurel and Evans clubs.

Rogue River Garden club chairman, Mrs. Walter Shock, named the committees. Mrs. Claire Douglas of the Evans Valley club and Mrs. James Whipple of Laurel Garden club will be co-chairmen with Mrs. Shock.

In charge of entries will be the Mesdames Earl Brooks and Paul Hughes; overseeing placements, Mesdames Walter Carroll, Hayden Williams and Sam Bellah; placements, Mesdames Harry Condrey, Everett Lapham, F. L. Shontz and Frank Stamm.

Tea chairman will be Mrs. Larry Bassett, with Mrs. William Krauss, Willard Tenney and Roland C. Miller; ribbons, Mrs. James Plank; plant sales, Mesdames Phil Strahan and Cameron Parr; comments, Mrs. Henry L. Bonney.

Mrs. Paul Hughes is in charge of posters; Mrs. Harold Dunham, juniors; and Mesdames Herbert Brooks, Hobart Barbour and Adolph C. Range will register the guests.

During the meeting Tuesday when the announcements were made Mrs. Larry Bassett was hostess at her home and Mrs. F. L. Shontz and Mrs. Harold Dunham assisted the hostess in serving a dessert luncheon in the Valentine theme. Mrs. Marie Terpenning was a guest of Mrs. Shontz, and Mrs. Florence Bradfield was a guest of Mrs. Charles O. McAllen, acting president.

Roll call was answered with gardening tips and flowers displayed included heather, stylis iris, snowdrops, primroses and yellow crocus. Mrs. Andrew J. Guffin, conservation chairman, read an article on the golden anniversary of the forestry service.

Mrs. Dunham spoke on primroses and pointed out three "musts" in growing the flowers. She enumerated first, soil composition of peat moss, sand and fertilizer; two, sun and shade, and ample water with good drainage.

Wax Recommended for Marble-Topped Tables

A little wax will keep marble-topped tables looking beautiful, according to Myrtle Carter, home furnishings specialist at Oregon State college.

A marble surface, especially if it is highly polished, will accept very little wax, she says. But the wax does help prevent the accumulation of dirt and stains, and it delays scratches and stains.

For light marble, she recommends a natural paste wax. And for darker types, a colored wax. Natural wax may be colored with colors-in-oil. You can get these in small tubes.

Wax the marble by placing a small amount of wax between several layers of cloth. Apply a thin coat in a circular motion, then buff the surface.

A brick can be put inside a wooden cloth or an old piece of carpet to be used as a buffer.

"A Wandering Minstrel I" . . . Nanki-Poo played by Gene Brown, Ashland, rehearses his song of love with which he woos Yum Yum, Tresa Matlock, Medford. All this is from "The Mikado," to be presented at Southern Oregon college March 3, 4 and 5. Modern American dress will give way to modish Oriental costumes, hair-styling and make-up for the production, a college-community endeavor.

Pythian Sisters Make First Plans For Chief's Visit
Committees were appointed to plan for the coming visit of Mrs. Ruby Zacher, grand chief, at a meeting of Pythian Sisters Tuesday night. Mrs. Zacher will be here March 15.

A short skit was presented by Mrs. James Cech.
The charter was draped for a past supreme chief, Mrs. Belle Quinlan, Wisconsin, and a past supreme manager, Florence Shoff Renfro of Texas.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Polly Offutt and Mrs. John Fugill. The committee for the next meeting, March 1, will be Mrs. Cech, Mrs. Mabel Nicholson and Mrs. William Youngberg.

Past Chiefs' club of Pythian Sisters met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Harry Bryant, 1312 Reddy avenue, for a covered dish luncheon.
Mrs. Carl Fichtner will be hostess for the next meeting, March 2.

Pythian club will meet Tuesday at 8 p.m. at the Girls' Community club. Hostesses for the evening will be Mrs. John Rusell and Mrs. Joe Fritsch.

Oregon Trees Topic for Club In Butte Falls

Butte Falls—A conservation talk on Oregon trees was given by Mrs. Harry Dalton at the last meeting of Butte Falls Federated Garden clubs. Her information was taken from "Trees to Know in Oregon," by Charles R. Ross, and "A Pocket Guide to Trees," by Rutherford Platt.

The Douglas fir, Oregon state tree, is not a true fir. Its scientific name, "pseudotsuga taxifolia," means "false hemlock with yew-like leaves." It is easy to identify because of its "pitch-forks," thin three-pointed bracts that protrude between the scales on its cones. The middle point is longer than the other two. In general appearance Douglas fir resembles the true fir and spruces, but Douglas fir cones hang down from the branches and fall to the ground intact while the cones of the true fir stand erect on the branches and break up into many pieces and fall to the ground.

Douglas fir needles are soft and usually blunt on the ends. These firs are used extensively for Christmas trees, as well as supplying two-thirds of the timber cut in the northwest. The Ponderosa pine is Oregon's number two tree. Other useful trees are sugar pine, lodge pole pine, Port Orford cedar, western red cedar, Sitka spruce, western juniper and redwoods.

Oregon also has "the unique four," namely the Oregon myrtle, madrone, golden chinquapin and the tanbark oak.

Members were asked to compete in a quiz concerning the identification of shrubs and trees and the spelling of flowers.

Mrs. Ralph Conard read an article by Jessie Ash Arndt telling of the necessity of planned plantings of gardens for the most satisfaction. Suggested were "richness, through abundance in the planting; freshness through order; strength through pattern and design; gaiety through hospitality with many sitting places, eating and bathing for the birds, places for games and open places.

Mrs. Clay Conley spoke on the accomplishments in the development of the many varieties of pansy. A newcomer, the Felix, has dark "cat whisker" stripes radiating from the center in a yellow background instead of the usual velvety blotch in the throat. This is a start in a new design in pansies.

A tour of the green house at the home of the hostess revealed an array of beautiful blooms in the midst of winter weather.

Guests were Mrs. Brittain Ash, Mrs. Cecil Taunton, Mrs. Leslie Casey, and Mrs. Leonard Richmond, Butte Falls.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Elga Abbott.

Shady Cove Unit To Give Party Monday Afternoon
Shady Cove—Fourth in a series of card parties sponsored by the Shady Cove Home Extension unit will be held at noon Monday, February 21 at the home of Mrs. C. Watson. Luncheon will be served by Mrs. Watson and Mrs. William Croucher.

During a meeting of the unit Tuesday, Mrs. J. Hicks, Mrs. E. Golberg, and Mrs. L. C. Duzenberry were appointed as a nominating committee.

Mrs. Ralph Lane presided as chairman and the session was held at the home of Mrs. William Shepherd on Rogue River drive.

A report was given on the March of Dimes drive projects, in which the unit members and PTA members worked together. It was reported that $50 had been turned over to the MOD drive.

In the slip cover workshop a chair was covered under the leadership of Mrs. William Bishop. Mrs. E. Houston reported on progress of 4-H work. The Home Making club with Mrs. T. M. Littlefield and Mrs. Houston as leaders has an enrollment of 18 members.

The unit women plan to furnish cakes for refreshments during a program and card party Saturday evening which is sponsored by the Shady Cove Grange. The event is to benefit the fire department and will be held at the Shady Cove gymnasium. Admissions will be by donations.

Mrs. A. C. Larson gave more information on early Rogue Valley history and a valentine exchange was conducted.

Miss D. Eula Wintermote gave the lesson regarding weight and health.

Mrs. T. R. Daw is leader for refinishing furniture. Leaders for the March unit meeting will be Mrs. Max Hawks and Mrs. Watson, and the session will be at the Watson home.

LDS Association Announces Dance

This year's annual Gold and Green ball of the Latter Day Saints church will be held Saturday, February 26 at 8 p.m., in the Willard hotel at Klamath Falls. The event is a formal dance and is sponsored by the Mutual Improvement association of the stake.

An orchestra will provide music for the dancing and a floor show will be staged.

Mrs. Douglas Shepherd of Medford is making plans for the local group. She is president of the Young Ladies Mutual Improvement association for the stake.

The stake is made up of associations from Klamath Falls, Ashland, Grants Pass, Medford and northern California points.

When using nylon thread for hand sewing, cut and use shorter lengths than when hand sewing with cotton. Cut the thread, don't break it at the end of the seam. It is easier to thread a needle with a cut thread.

MEDFORD (OREGON) MAIL TRIBUNE—SEVEN

Grand Officer Of Eastern Star To Visit Valley

Miss Carlotta Wiseman, Grants Pass, associate grand matron of the grand chapter of Oregon, Order of the Eastern Star, will conduct schools of instruction at valley chapters during the week.

Reames chapter will convene Thursday, February 24 at 8 p.m. in the Masonic temple, and a potluck dinner at 6 p.m., will precede the meeting. The chapter will furnish rolls and members and visitors are invited.

Adarel chapter members also plan a 6 o'clock potluck dinner to precede their session of instruction scheduled for 8 p.m., Saturday, February 26 at the Jacksonville Masonic hall.

Miss Wiseman is visiting Alpha chapter, Ashland, today and Nevada chapter members will conduct their meeting during the evening of Friday, February 25.

Golden Link Class To Meet on Thursday

Golden Link Bible class of First Baptist church will meet for study and devotions Thursday, February 24, at the home of Mrs. Boyd Kline, 953 Jasper.

Dessert will be served at 1 p.m. by Mesdames Fred Whitman, R. B. Gardner, and R. E. Rawson. Devotions will be given by Mrs. R. B. Gardner.

The study on "Mary, the Mother of Jesus" will be given by Mrs. Crocker Hunter.

Use warm rather than hot water in laundering fabrics treated with crease-resistant finishes. Home economists say that excessively hot water may remove the finish after a number of washings.

Dead line Sunday Classified is at noon Saturday; 10 a.m. Monday for Monday; other days 5:30 previous day.
