Card Players Startled By Cock Pheasant

Gresham, Neb.—(U.P.)—A cock pheasant startled a group of card players in Ralph's Place by flying through the plate glass window of the establishment. One man, eager to take advantage of the opportunity, leaped at the dazed bird with a skillet. But the pheasant took off like a shot, reversed its flight, and went right through the opening it had broken in the window.

Around Hollywood

Hollywood — (U.P.) — Bettie Davis, back from the wilds of Maine for her first movie in three years, told today how a critical operation kept her off the screen and nearly spelled curtains for one of film's first ladies. The big-eyed Miss Davis, a little curvier but still with her decisive gestures and dramatic voice, brought a little life back to Hollywood when she swept into town to star in "Sir Walter Raleigh" at 20th Century-Fox.

For three years she has been living in virtual retirement near Portland, Me., with her husband actor Cary Merrill. But it was not just the beauties of Maine that kept her from the film cameras, she said.

"I was operated on two years ago for a bone tumor on my jaw," she explained as she rested in her Bel-Air Hotel room after a day of wardrobe tests at the studio.

"Two years ago last month, and I'm only now recovered. It was a very strange experience. I haven't been in pictures because I wasn't allowed to work. I've been quite ill, but I'm much better now. My face will always be a little numb, I guess.

"It took me so long to get back to feeling good. After such an operation you have to rebuild your entire system. Any doctor will tell you there's no rougher operation."

No scars are visible on the famous Davis face, however. As she was being fitted earlier at the studio for 12 neck ruffs she'll wear in the movie, she looked much the same as she did when she created the identical Queen Elizabeth role in 1939 for "The Private Lives of Elizabeth and Essex."

"This always has been one of my favorite parts," she said. "They mentioned this film two years ago and now that I'm
