Thunderbirds	0	6	.000
Nico-Quint	0	7	.000

Tweakers will be out to end regular season unbeaten in the Saturday recreation league at the senior high school when they tussle with once-marred Senior Wieners this week end.

They are the only unblemished club in the circuit. After this Saturday's scraps, the loop will be divided into upper and lower divisions with each division to play a single elimination tournament. These games will be played after school the week after the state high school basketball tournament.

Slate Listed

Slate for this Saturday will be Mountain Boys versus Screwballs at 10 a. m., Salmon Backs versus Nico-Quint at 11 a. m., Tweakers versus Senior Wieners at 1 p. m. and Beany Boys versus Thunderbirds at 2 p. m.

Tweakers really romped in their last outing, clubbing Nico-Quint 125 to 5. The Salmon Backs rapped Beany Boys 31 to 17 and Flubbin' Five smashed Mountain Boys 48 to 9. The Thunderbirds forfeited to the Cotton pickers.

No games are slated on March 12 because of the free throw contest finals. There will, however, be some time for free play.

COLEMAN IN CLINIC

Corvallis — (U.P.) — Ralph Coleman, baseball coach at Oregon State, will be an instructor at an Army baseball clinic to be held at several places in Germany this month, it was disclosed today. Coleman will leave here March 12. The clinic will be conducted from March 21 through March 25. The trip will cause Coleman to miss Oregon State's early-season tour to California which starts late this month. The squad will be in charge of Freshman Coach Paul Valenti.

New York — (U.P.) — Whitey Bimstein and Freddie Brown, boxing trainers who are partners, have been forbidden to work opposition corners in Friday night's Billy Graham-Chico Vejar bout at Madison Square garden by Julius Helfand, N.Y. state boxing commissioner. "Since Bimstein and Brown are partners, it would not be in the best interests of boxing to have them in opposite corners," Helfand said.

Gold Hill, Pointers Vie In Tourney

Central Point—Central Point will play Gold Hill tonight in championship semi-finals in the Jackson county grade school basketball tournament here. Game time is 8 p. m. Winner will play Rogue River on Saturday in the tourney finals. Loser will be out of the tourney.

In a 7 p. m. scuffle Phoenix plays Butte Falls in a consolation semi-final with the victor to meet Talent on Saturday night.

In championship bracket contests last night Rogue River whipped St. Mary's of Medford 31 to 24 and Central Point beat Sams Valley 31 to 21. Consolation games in the afternoon saw Talent down Prospect 39 to 19 and Phoenix overpowered Eagle Point 41 to 9.

Third Place Fight

Losses put Sams Valley and St. Mary's into a Saturday evening battle for third place. There will be no games on Friday because of the Crater-Medford high school game here.

Rogue River had a 16 to 6 halfway lead over SM. Shaw got 15 points for the winners and Pavlat 10 for St. Mary's. CP headed Sams Valley 15 to 9 at halftime. Allen Barnes got nine for the Pointers and Mack eight for SV.

Talent had a half lead of 18 to 11. Loper and Kerns were sparks with eight counters each and Yorton got the same for Prospect. Phoenix ran away from EP after a 10 to 6 first half. Korth got 12 and Hanley 10 for Phoenix and Huffman six for Eagle Point.

DONS WANT GYM

San Francisco — (U.P.) — A campaign to raise $700,000 for a basketball gymnasium for the University of San Francisco was underway today. The San Francisco Dons, ranked as the nation's No. 1 team by the United Press Board of Coaches, have been playing their home games at Kezar pavilion and the Cow Palace.

One Organization for Softball, Basketball Here May Be Discussed

A meeting of the Medford Softball Association has been called for 8:15 p. m. on Monday, March 7 at the YMCA.

It will be the second meeting so far this year of the organization.

Officers and team managers of the Medford Independent Basketball League have been invited to the session and the possibility of forming one organization to administer both circuits is expected to be discussed.

Monday's meeting has been called by Herb Vessey. Russ McKechnie, who has been president, has moved to Albany to take over a Chrysler auto dealership. Vessey, who has been vice president, moved up into the presidency of the MSA.

Workers receiving old age and survivors insurance payments need to know about the change effective in 1955. The nearest social security office will supply the information.

Country Club Officials To Attend OGA Meeting

Ike Staples, Dr. L. P. Walker and George Harrington will leave Friday morning to attend the annual meeting that night in Portland of the Oregon Golf Association.

Staples is president of the OGA. Dr. Walker is president of Rogue Valley Country club and Harrington is manager of RVCC.

They will be joined in Portland by State Rep. Al Littrell, Medford, who is in Salem for sessions of the state legislature.

Dr. Walker has been named Rogue Valley's OGA director, replacing Staples, who is retiring.

Automation Seen Threat To End Labor-Management Harmony

Editor's Note: This is the last in a series of three dispatches on automation, the new production technique which is sweeping American industry.

By REY W. BRUNE
United Press Correspondent

Detroit — (U.P.) — Automation threatens to shatter the labor-management harmony which has prevailed in the automobile industry for the past five years.

Walter Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers, and most other union leaders see eye-to-eye with management on the ultimate significance of automation. They agree it could raise American living standards to unheard-of levels.

But they don't agree on how automation — the use of automatic equipment to perform many tasks now performed by human labor — should be introduced.

Reuther says the union is not "afraid" of automation itself, but fears the industry may rush into the automation age without regard to the individual worker. The UAW already has served notice that long-term contracts are out.

"Under contracts of short duration," the UAW said in a policy statement, "the union will be able to keep abreast of the various developments."

Automation is a key factor behind the UAW's drive for a guaranteed annual wage in contract negotiations this spring.

Severance pay provisions under a guaranteed wage agreement would discourage companies from laying off large numbers of employees to make way for automation in plants, the union believes. Instead, automation would be introduced during times of expanding markets when displaced workers could find other jobs more quickly.

The UAW has told its locals to resist any effort by management to cover new automated or semi-automated jobs with old classifications and pay rates.

The UAW says it is determined to see what automation is put to work "for the expansion of the economy with a minimum of displacement and hardships for workers."

automated plants rather than hire new workers.

The union says it is fearful the companies might use automation only for lowering production costs and increasing profits, not as a "tool for the creation of abundance." If this happens, the union would press for a reduction in the work week—perhaps to a 30 hour week—without reduction in pay.

The UAW has told its locals to resist any effort by management to cover new automated or semi-automated jobs with old classifications and pay rates.

The UAW says it is determined to see what automation is put to work "for the expansion of the economy with a minimum of displacement and hardships for workers."
