Famous Pianist To Give Concert For Civic Music

Alexander Brailowsky, internationally known pianist, will be heard here in concert through the Civic Music association series Monday, March 14, at 8 p.m., in the Medford Senior High school auditorium.

The pianist, now a resident of this country, has received high acclaim as one of the popular pianists on the concert stage. He is known not only for his "impeccable technique, exquisite sensitivity and penetrating musicianship," but for his versatility. Although he is most frequently hailed as the greatest of all living interpreters of Chopin's compositions, he also is known as "a born Schumann player," and "an ideal interpreter of Beethoven."

Brailowsky's Chopin cycle, presenting the life work of the great Polish master, was the climatic event of the musical season in New York city six years ago. The series was, and will probably remain a box-office record unbroken by any living artist, it is said. In 22 years he has played the cycle 16 times, in Paris, Brussels, Zurich, Mexico City, Buenos Aires, Rio de Janeiro, Montevideo and in New York.

He was born in Kiev, Russia, and at 13 was taken to Vienna, Austria, to become a pupil of the great Leschetizky, who also taught Ignace Jan Paderewski.

With his family Brailowsky moved at the outbreak of the First World War to Switzerland, and later they moved to France. He later returned to Switzerland and lived there until recently when he moved to this country to make his home in New York City. Summers, he and his wife spend at their Connecticut home.

The dates are March 17 and 18 in the afternoon, and March 18 in the evening, and the place will be Rogue Valley Country club.

Starting their dreams and schemes several weeks ago, the league committee chose "Printemps au Paris" as the theme for the show and since that time the plans have grown more interesting. An evening show was added to the usual two afternoon shows, with luncheon to be served at 12:30 p.m. Thursday and Friday, and dinner at 7 o'clock Friday night. It is hoped that business women, unable to attend an afternoon show, and men will attend the evening performance.
