

FLAMES FILL NIGHT SKY—Towering wall of fire looms before firemen as they battle four-alarm waterfront fire in San Francisco. Four empty warehouses were destroyed at estimated quarter-million-dollar loss. Flames threatened the Navy attack transport USS Merrick but her crew cast lines and let her drift into the bay with the tide. Two fireboats and 31 pieces of equipment manned by 130 firemen battled the inferno.

Rock Museum Sets Opening This Week

The Crater Rock Museum, located on Scenic ave. about a quarter mile east of Highway 99 a mile north of Central Point, is opening to the public this week end, according to Delmar Smith, the proprietor.

No admission will be charged, he said. Smith claims his collection of cut and polished agates and other gems is among the largest in the state, and represents stones from all parts of the U. S., and from a number of foreign countries. He said he has more than 1,000 pieces, representing a collection started 10 years ago.

Smith, a beekeeper, sells native honey in connection with the museum.

Last Thursday morning the Jackson County Chamber of Commerce "Kaffee Klatsch" visited the museum, and about 40 members inspected it.

Texas Cow Girls Set Series With Cabbies On Friday, Saturday

The world-famous Texas Cow Girls basketball team will make one of its rare southern Oregon appearances and its first in several years when it takes on Yellow Cab, district 10 AAU champions, in a two-game series next Friday and Saturday.

The teams will vie at St. Mary's gym, 11th and Holly sts., Friday, March 11, and at Crater high school gym in Central Point Saturday, March 12.

Selected for their basketball ability, moral character, beauty and showmanship, the Cow Girls tour the nation each year meeting the top men's teams and play men's rules. They ask no quarter from their opponents and their record of 432 victories in 643 games shows that they give none. The team is said to average 57 points per game.

They have played some of the top professional basketball teams and are the only girls' team to have played in Madison Square Garden. They also have appeared in Boston Garden, Chicago Stadium and other well-known hoop centers across the nation.

The girls come onto the playing floor attired with holsters and six guns, boleros and western hats and ready for action. Their antics throughout the game will make it a series valley basketball fans will not soon forget.

Cherokee-Jeri, western song stylist traveling with the Cow Girls, will provide halftime entertainment.

Bills in Legislature

Salem — (U.P.)—A bill which would stiffen loyalty requirements for state civil defense workers has been sent back to the Military Affairs Committee by the House.

Rep. Alfred Corbett (D-Portland) attacked the bill as an assault on personal liberties and said he was surprised and shocked that such a proposal should have come from a committee of a Democratic Legislature.

The bill would deny persons the right to be employed by civil defense agencies or be associated with the agencies if they ever had personally advocated or been an affiliate of any political party or organization advocating change or overthrow of the government by force.

Corbett criticized the bill on two principal points—the use of the word affiliate and the denial of employment to persons who may have participated in activities in the past when such activities were not considered subversive.

Salem — (U.P.)—A measure to permit private clubs, not serving the general public, to serve liquor by the drink whether they serve food or not has lost out in the Senate in a tie vote, 15 to 15.

Sen. John P. Hounsell (R-Portland) immediately changed his vote from aye to no and served notice he would move for reconsideration.

consideration. A tie vote loses a measure, which must have a majority, or at least 16 votes to pass.

Salem — (U.P.)—A bill to give State Supreme Court justices a salary boost of $3,000 has been introduced in the Senate and it appeared to have a good chance of passing.

Present salary of the justices is $12,000.

The bi-partisan bill was signed by 21 to 30 senators and 35 of 60 representatives.

Salem — (U.P.)—A bill has been introduced in the Senate which would suspend the license of physicians who have been adjudged to be mentally ill or admitted to a state mental hospital for treatment. The suspension would continue until the Board of Medical Examiners receives competent evidence that the former practitioner is no longer mentally ill and the privilege to practice may be safely restored.

Salem — (U.P.)—A measure already approved by the House to enable the Oregon Development Commission to do limited advertising to promote industry in this state lost out in the Senate in a 15-15 tie vote. Sen. John C. F. Merrifield (R-Portland) changed his vote to no and served notice he would move for reconsideration.
