MEDFORD HIGH HOOPMEN GARNER OREGON A TOURNEY BERTH

Comets Fail Second Time To Tornado

District 4A championship honors being celebrated today had Medford high school in a festive mood but the mighty Black Tornado still was seriously looking ahead to greater glory and a greater challenge to cap off one of the finest basketball seasons in the history of the school.

Medford, the favorite in the area throughout the year, tucked away the district bunting here Saturday night with a 77 to 43 triumph over Crater high of Central Point. The victory, second straight in a play-off with the small school subdistrict champions, sends Medford in into the Class A prep tournament at Eugene opening March 15.

There are a number of prep conflicts to be played between now and the tourney opening. But the Black Tornado, rated No. 1 in two Oregon press polls for many weeks, will undoubtedly carry that reputation and burden into the tournament where some of the keenest, toughest rivalry of the whole year is anticipated. Medford has 23 victories, 22 straight, in 24 games.

Roelandt Rides

Enthusiastic but taunting chants of "Medford's going to State" swept up from the Tornado cheering section Saturday night in the fourth quarter as another cheering section Saturday night in the fourth quarter as another win over Crater seemed certain. And, when the final buzzer sounded and well-wishers and players surged onto the floor, the jubilant Medfordites gave their coach, Frank Roelandt, the traditional ride to the dressing room on their shoulders.

The Saturday Tornado victory followed much the same pattern as the Friday night 96 to 49 win over the Comets at Central Point. Crater was, however, more stubborn and scrappy, particularly in the early portion of the game.

Medford came through again with torrid shooting, averaging .508 for the night while Crater, cold as well as being unable to penetrate Tornado defense much of the time, shot a frigid .192. Rebound control also went to Medford, two to one. The Tornado advantages was 47 to 28 and it was combination of hotter hitting, board control and smoother, sharper, more aggressive playing that won a gain for Medford. The Comets got only 10 field goals in the game, only one each in the first and second quarters and two in the third.

Rector, Copple Hit

The Southern Oregon Conference Big Four titlist never trailed on Saturday but didn't get a field goal, itself until the fray was 3½ minutes old. Then the incomparable guard combination of Larry Copple and Frank Rector began swishing 'em and Medford had a 14 to 7 margin at the quarter.

Rector got seven field goals, Copple six and Kalapus three to spur Medford to a 36 to 18 halfway lead. Fred Hogue got the only fielders for the Comets in the half.

In the third quarter with Glenn Peterson, Kalapus, Copple and Rector all aiding, the Tornado ran up 16 points while Crater went scoreless for four minutes and pushed its advantage to 52 to 18. Medford picked up four more points during the period and Crater managed eight for a 56 to 26 count.

Roelandt began feeding reserves into the mix in the third quarter and they played almost the last period as a unit. The Medford margin slipped once to 25 points at 64 and 39. But Bob Tisdel, Ed McCullough, John Foust, Bill Cochran, Ed Reinking and Warren Deakins got in on the scoring for the final 34-point bulge.

Kalapus on Boards

Medford made 32 out of 63 field tries and Crater 10 out of 52. Crater made 23 points on free shots with Bob Gray getting eight, Harvey Tonn seven and Vern Parent five.

Kalapus was in his usual role as top Medford rebounder with 10. Bud Kastner picked off seven, as did Foust.

Copple was high gunner with 18 tallies, Rector got 16 and Kalapus 12. Gray headed Crater with 10.

Medford players were to rest today. They may or may not have a workout Tuesday. If they do, it will be light. Heavier drills will resume Wednesday.

Malin Wrests 5B Basketball Flag From Talent Bulldogs

Klamath Falls —Malin high annexed the District 5B basketball championship and a state tournament bid Saturday night by nicking the Talent Bulldogs 44 to 40 in overtime here for its second consecutive win in a two-out-of three title series.

It was another heartbreaker loss for Talent, Jackson county champ and 1954 district winner. Malin tipped Talent 49 to 47 on Friday here after the Bulldogs had lead most of the way.

Saturday night's struggle was a thriller throughout and close almost all the way. The Klamath and Jackson county subdistrict victors were knotted 12-all at the quarter and 21-all at the half. Malin held a 31 to 29 margin after three cantos but at the end of their regular playing time the quints were locked at 38-all.

The Mustangs worked to a 35 to 31 advantage in the final quarter but Talent fought on top 36 to 35. Malin regained front spot at 37 to 36 but the Bulldogs climbed ahead again 38 to 37. With 30 seconds left in the fourth stanza Norm Oliva made one of two free heaves to tie up the tangle.

Oliva, Dokken Tally

In the overtime Ray Johnson got a fielder for Malin and J. Lloyd Wood two free shots for the Bulldogs. Oliva scored a lay-in for a 42 to 40 Mustang count with half a minute to go. Roger Dokken poked in another Malin goal from under the bucket with a second to play.

Widest spread in the conflict was eight points on Malin's 29 to 21 gap at the start of the third quarter.

Jim McAbee and Wood of Talent were high scorers with 16 and 14, respectively. Dokken led well spread out Malin point making with 10.

Malin was second in the Klamath County B League regular season and won its county tournament for the subdistrict laurels. Talent tied Rogue River in the 10-game Jackson B slate and then beat the Chieftains in a single game play-off.

Bend Team Accepted by SO League

Bend was admitted as seventh team in the Southern Oregon Baseball League and a 24-game loop slate was adopted Sunday in a meeting at Roseburg.

Opening series will be on May 28 and 29 and the season will close with games on August 27 and 28.

Other clubs in the circuit are the Medford Cheney Studs, Brookings Beavers, Drain Black Sox, Coquille Loggers, Grants Pass Cavemen and Bandon.

Loop officials expressed strong desire for entry of Roseburg in the circuit but no community interest or support in a club there was indicated at the meeting. Although the session was held at the Roseburg city hall, only one resident of that community attended.

The league season will span 14 weeks. Each team will face each other one four times, twice each at home. No dates were left for making up rained out games. Directors voted, however, that such contests should be played on or before Labor Day week end if they have any effect on the final standings of the league.

Matters of speeding up games, securing competent umpires and arranging news coverage and publicity were discussed.

Making the trip from here were Don Faber, Central Point, president of the league, Bill Askwith, Central Point, business manager of the Studs, and Dick Jewtet, sports editor of the Mail Tribune.

Faber has suggested that men interested in umpiring in the SOL should contact him.

SOFTBALL REMINDER

President Herb Vessey has issued a reminder concerning the Medford Softball association meeting at 8:15 o'clock tonight at the YMCA. Representatives of all of last year's MSA teams are asked to attend. Representatives of Medford Independent Basketball League teams are invited.

Medford Boxers Win Five Out of Eight On Amateur Program

A fair-sized crowd which made up in noise what it lacked in numbers watched a slam-bang action-filled amateur boxing card at Merrick's arena here Saturday night. It was the first full-scale promotion effort of the recently-formed Police Athletic league and fans were unanimous in their opinion that they would welcome another card.

Medford entries won five out of the eight contests in which they participated, Portland entries won four out of seven, the lone Eugene entry won, and Eureka boxers failed to get a decision in three matches.

Larry Lewis Scores KO

While it would be difficult to pin-point any particular bout as the standout of the evening, probably the action which brought the greatest shouts and screams from the fans was Larry Lewis' second round knockout over Lane Lowden, Eureka. The little Medford dynamiter caught Lowden in a corner in the second stanza, trapped him there for keeps, and kept flailing away until his opponent slumped to the mat. Lowden was stretched full length on the canvas and didn't move until his handlers dragged him to his corner. He probably would have gone down sooner had Lewis quit punching long enough to let him fall. Time was 1:52.

Jackie Puscas, Eugene, Northwest AAU welterweight champion, wasn't too impressive in gaining a unanimous decision over Tucker Spot, Eureka. Spot was content to get in a corner and wait for Puscas to come to him. He protected his head pretty good but took a sound pounding to the body. Puscas' best licks failed to wipe the smile from Spot's face although body punching slowed him to a walk early in the second round.

Outstanding Exhibition

Opponents for Denny Moyer, Portland, Northwest light-welterweight champion, and Tommy Thomas, Portland Air Base, middleweight king, failed to appear so Moyer and Thomas went three rounds in an exhibition match. While they obviously were "pulling" their punches, the fans "oohed and awed" throughout the bout at the cleverness, weaving, slipping and all-around outstanding boxing skill dipslayed by each boy.

Aubrey Henderson, Portland Air Base, didn't do much punching but when he did open up Dan Tuggle, Medford, was knocked out in 1:15 of the first round. Tuggle was dumped on his pants for a nine count from a flurry to the head and was dropped again with a straight left to the head. Referee Don Cain of the Oregon State Police didn't even bother to count.

Loren Christean, Medford, ran out of gas in the second round and took quite a beating from Harvey Rice, Portland Air Base during the last round but managed to go the distance although losing a unanimous decision.

Wright's Decision Booed

Billy Wright, Medford, drew to boos of the crowd when he won a split decision from Wayne Miller, Portland. While Wright did most of the chasing, Miller seemed to be landing the heavy artillery but Wright apparently was the most impressive.

Maxie Green, Eureka, showed a lot of class when more than arm's length from Burt Singer, Portland, in the finale but didn't like to get hit well enough to stand up and take it. Green was in bad shape at the end of the final round from body punching and lost a unanimous decision.

Bobby Lyons, Medford, Oregon AAU flyweight champion, lost on a technical knockout to Dawson Carlisle, Portland Air Base, in the first round. Referee Cain stopped the match, which promised to be a dilly, when Lyons suffered a scalp cut.

Jimmy Evans, Medford, got off to a slow start but picked up enough steam to outpoint Larry Snodgrass, Portland, on a split decision.

Bobby Little, Medford, threw lots of leather to gain a split nod over Mike Ames, Portland. A good third round piled up enough points for Little to squeeze out the verdict.

Don Wolfe, Portland, won a unanimous decision over his stablemate, Larry Nord, in a lively bout which opened the card.

Jayvees Win 21st Tussle

Completing a 22-game season with its 21st victory, the Medford high junior varsity basketball crew defeated Crater 56 to 47 here Saturday night.

The Medfordites won more easily than on Friday, when they sneaked by 53 to 51, but the Comets did threaten in the final stanza, slimming the Medford margin to seven points on a couple of occasions.

A wide lead in the early portion of the fray was a big reason for Medford victory. The junior Tornado headed 9 to 3 at the quarter and 24 to 9 at the half. Its third quarter spread was 13 points, 40 to 27.

Don Goyette, Crater, was high point man with 14 and John Hawley had 13 for Medford.

The Beavers, led by 7 foot 3 inch center Wade (Swede) Halbrook, clobbered the Uclans 82-75 Friday night and 83-64 Saturday night at Corvallis. The big Swede dumped in a total of 60 points, 35 in the first game and 25 in the second, to secure the unqualified admiration of OSC fans.

The NCAA regionals, also featuring Utah, the Skyline conference titleholder, will be played at Corvallis this coming Friday and Saturday nights.

Utah Meets USF

OSC will play the winner of the Seattle university - Idaho State game, booked into San Francisco's Cow Palace Tuesday night. Utah will meet the winner of the University of San Francisco-West Texas State game, scheduled for the same night.

Coach Johnny Wooden of UCLA said that the Bruins played as well in the first half as they had all season. UCLA led 36-35 at intermission.

Swede Halbrook was the big hero, scoring 60 points in the two games and playing a tremendous rebound and defensive game each night. Another hero was Tex Whiteman who came off the bench Saturday night to score 19 points.

Oregon State players agreed that UCLA was the toughest team they have played all season.

Since the return of Halbrook, Oregon State has now won 17 out of 18. The big Swede has a 20.8 scoring average and 249 rebounds.
