

Oregon Ranked 8th in Final Poll

USF Rated Best Crew For Season

By NORMAN MILLER
New York — (U.P.) — San Francisco's defensive-minded Dons, who rose from obscurity to fame this season and surprised a lot of "experts" in the process, today were acclaimed the United Press national college basketball champions for the 1952-53 season.

Coach Phil Woolpert's Dons, possessors of a remarkable 23-1 record that earned them a berth in the CAA tournament, were

New York — (U.P.) — Oregon State's basketball team wound up in the final United Press basketball ratings just where the coaches who pick the top teams thought it would.

In the pre-season poll, Oregon State was ranked eighth. In the final poll announced today, Oregon State ranked eighth.

The No. 1 choice of 28 members of the 35-man United Press Board of Coaches in the final ratings of the campaign.

Kentucky's Southeastern conference champions ranked second, 62 points behind San Francisco, while La Salle, which opens its quest for a second straight CAA championship tonight, was third. La Salle was picked by the coaches before the start of the season as the "best bet" for the national championship.

Victory String "Alive"

The West Coast Dons' prospects were regarded so lightly before the start of the campaign that not a single coach mentioned them in the pre-season sump of the race. But Woolpert's men, led by All-American center Bill Russell, fooled a host of basketball authorities.

San Francisco lost the third game of the season, Dec. 11, by a 47-40 score to UCLA and then it ran off a string of 21 consecutive victories that is still "alive."

Although the coaches may have misjudged San Francisco's potential, they accurately predicted seven of the teams which eventually finished among the top 10.

Here is a comparison of how the coaches listed the teams in their final ratings, and how they picked them before the start of the season:

1—San Francisco	La Salle—1
2—Kentucky	Iowa—2
3—La Salle	Duquesne—3
4—Utah	Indiana—4
5—Iowa	Kentucky—5
6—N.C. State	Holy Cross—6
7—Duquesne	N. C. State—7
8—Oregon State	Ore. State—8
9—Marquette	So. Cal.—9
10—Dayton	Dayton—10

Nine in Tournaments

Iowa, the Big Ten champion; Oregon State, which beat UCLA two straight games for the right to represent the Pacific Coast Conference in the NCAA tournament; and Dayton all finished strong in the final week's ratings.

In addition to the top three teams, Utah, Iowa, Oregon State and Marquette also are in the NCAA tournament. Duquesne and Dayton are entered in the National Invitational tournament in New York.

Colorado, the Big Seven conference champion, advanced to the top of the second 10 group, followed in order by UCLA, Minnesota, Tulsa and George Washington. There was a tie for the 16th ranking, between Illinois and Niagara, with St. Louis and Holy Cross next in order. Cincinnati and Southern Methodist were tied for 20th.

Missouri, Duke, Villanova, West Virginia, Maryland and Canisius were other teams that received votes in the final ratings.

McGinty Elected By Hound Group

Hugh McGinty Jr., Medford, was elected president of the Southern Oregon Hound association at a meeting Friday evening at the Calvin Briley home in Talent. Other officers elected then are L. W. Schlegel, Ashland, vice-president; Mrs. McGinty, secretary; and Mrs. Virginia Jones, Ashland, treasurer.

A meeting of the association is set for Sunday, March 13 at 10 a.m., at the Briley home when hounds will be tattooed with owners' identifications.

Field trials are being planned by the members and will be held as soon as weather permits.

Ball Crowds To Increase, Frick Says

By UNITED PRESS
Both the major and minor leagues will bask in the sunshine of increased attendance during the coming season, with the majors each drawing "about 10 per cent more" to go well over the 8,000,000 mark, Commissioner Ford Frick predicted today.

And, now, the commissioner added, it would be nice if the long-suffering pitchers were given a "break," too, by the return of the "spit ball."

Frick made his forecast on attendance as he stopped off at the Philadelphia Phillies' camp in Clearwater, Fla., on his tour through the spring training sites of all the major league clubs. He also predicted a six-club pennant race in the National league and a three-club pennant race in the American, but did not name the teams.

Frick's major league forecast appeared fairly safe since the National league drew 8,013,519, while the American league just missed Frick's figure with 7,922,364. The shift of the Philadelphia A's to Kansas City is expected to provide the American league with a sizable increase.

Frick said he would like to see something done for the pitchers because, at present, the batters have "all the best of it" in the rules. The return of the "spit ball," he believes, would be only doing what is right for the hurlers.

Macias Favored 2-1 in Fight With Songkitrat

San Francisco — (U.P.) — Raul Macias, the "Mighty Mouse" of Mexico, should be a 2-1 favorite when he steps into the ring with Thailand's Chamern Songkitrat tomorrow night for their 12-round bantamweight "title" bout.

Although the State of California has refused to recognize the battle as a title fight, the winner will receive the National Boxing association's championship belt.

Pancho Rosales, Macias' manager, figures that his 117 pounder should knock out the Thai police lieutenant "sometime after the fifth round."

Eugene, Corvallis Seek AAU Title

Hermiston — (U.P.) — Eugene and Corvallis play tonight for the Oregon state AAU basketball title and the dubious honor of meeting powerful Buchanan's Bakers of Seattle for a berth in the national AAU tournament at Baker.

Eugene, represented by Martin Sign, trounced Hermiston 65-56 and Corvallis, represented by Alsea Lumber, trimmed the Condon Elks, 64-43 in semi-final rounds games here last night.

Ninth Grade Win Streak 31 Straight

Medford junior high ninth grade basketball aggregation, in ringing up its second unbeaten season in a row, scored 474 points to opponents' 345 and stretched the Bulldog varsity winning streak to 31 straight over a 2½-year period.

Tom Hamlin led the Bulldogs in individual scoring during the past season and was voted most valuable player on the squad. Tony Brauner was elected captain of the team.

Hamlin had a total of 120 points for the year and also paced the junior high in field goals with 52. Jim Funston was second high scorer with 79 and had the most free shots, 21. Third high scoring laurels went to Mike Russell with 69.

The Bulldogs averaged 39.5 points per game to their rivals' 28.75.

SOC Hires Akins As Football Coach

Ashland—A former Cleveland Browns professional football player has been selected as new head football coach at Southern Oregon college, it was announced today by officials.

Albert C. Akins, 34, currently of Bellingham, Wash., has been chosen for the post. He is expected to assume his duties in late summer, officials added.

Akins will be the first full-time football coach since Bill Abbey was here several years ago. Dr. Alex Peterson Jr., assistant professor of physical education, has acted as coach for two years.

Akins has served the past three years as assistant football coach of the Lewis and Clark halfback for the Washington State college team before playing pro ball with the Browns.

Akins, who is married and has several children, will also be a mathematics and physical education instructor at SOC.

The acceptance of Akins in the post was telephoned here by President Elmo Stephenson, who is in Portland, according to Wayne Johnson, director of public relations.

Portland State, Whitworth Lose NAIA Openers

Kansas City, Mo. — (U.P.) — Portland State and Whitworth, the two Northwest entries in the NAIA basketball tourney, headed home today after being eliminated in opening-round action.

Portland State dropped a 68-56 decision to East Texas State, while Whitworth lost out to Beloit of Wisconsin 88-75.

Jack Viskov scored 20 and Paul Poetsch hit 11 points in Portland State's losing cause.

LaSalle, USF Favored Tonight

By JOHN GRIFFIN
United Press Sports Writer
Defending champion La Salle and national champion San Francisco are rated the top favorites as 16 teams open play at four widely-separated sites tonight in the NCAA Basketball Tournament.

La Salle, surprise winner of the crown last year, begins its title defense by meeting West Virginia in part of a triple-header at New York's Madison Square Garden, while San Francisco, hailed the nation's best during the regular season, opens with a game against West Texas State at San Francisco's Cow Palace.

In addition, there will be a double-header at Lexington, Ky., and a single game at Oklahoma City in this preliminary round play. Tonight's winners join eight other teams which drew byes in the first-round games at four other sites on Friday night.

Here is how tonight's NCAA program looks: with won-lost records in parentheses.

At New York
Canisius (16-6) vs. Williams (17-1); Villanova (16-9) vs. Duke (20-7); La Salle (22-4) vs. W. Va. (19-10).
At Lexington, Ky.
Penn St. (17-8) vs. Memphis St. (17-4); Marquette (22-2) vs. Miami, O. (14-8).
At Oklahoma City
Bradley (19-7) vs. Okla. City (17-9).
At San Francisco
San Francisco (23-1) vs. W. Texas St. (14-6); Idaho St. (18-7) vs. Seattle (20-5).
Only one berth in the 24-team tournament remains unfilled—that reserved for the Ivy League champion.

At Princeton, N. J., Monday night Princeton caused the Ivy League race to end in a three-way tie by beating Brown, 58-39, in the last regular-season game. The Tigers, taking a 29-21 halftime lead, rolled easily to victory as four players scored in double figures, led by sophomore Don Davidson with 19 points.

Ivy Playoff Set

Columbia and Pennsylvania, which tied with Princeton, met immediately afterward in a playoff, with Columbia winning, 73-71. Columbia and Princeton now will meet in another playoff Wednesday night at New Brunswick, N. J., for the NCAA berth. Chet (The Jet) Forte, Columbia's pint-sized guard, paced the victory with 26 points as the Lions staved off a late Pennsylvania rally.

La Salle again is led by Tom

Dead line Sunday classified is at noon Saturday, 10 a.m. Monday for Monday; other days 5:30 previous day.

Gola, who was voted basketball's "player of the year," but faces a stiff assignment in West Virginia, whose soph star "Hot Rod" Hundley was voted the top player in last weekend's Southern Conference Tournament.

San Francisco enters the tourney with a 21-game winning streak and the best defensive average of any team in the nation. The Dons rank a strong favorite over a West Texas State team that tied for the Border Conference title and entered the tourney by a flip of the coin.

Ron Delaney Takes Wilson

New York — (U.P.) — Southpaw Ronnie Delaney of Akron, Ohio, a dangerous contender for either the welterweight or middleweight crown, was so impressive in his first New York main event that he will fight again in St. Nicholas Arena on April 18 or 25.

Monday night Delaney, fighting as a welterweight, won a unanimous 10-round decision over lanky Al Wilson of New York in their widely televised bout at St. Nick's.

It was the first network TV appearance for the brawny Akron Negro who had won a surprise non-title decision over welterweight champion Johnny Saxton at Akron on Feb. 11.

Effective Jab

Delaney, who displayed a surprisingly effective right jab and hook for a southpaw, said, "I should have knocked out Wilson, but I was too eager in the early rounds, and I was a little rusty because I had only one other bout in the last eight months."

Ronnie, favored at 4-1, registered his 49th victory in 53 fights. The ring officials favored him on a rounds basis as follows: Referee Teedy Martin, 8-2; Judge Artie Schwartz, 7-3, and Judge Tony Rossi 6-4. The United Press agreed 7-3. It was Wilson's 14th defeat in 40 bouts.

In Monday night's TV fight at Brooklyn's Eastern Parkway arena welterweight Gil Turner of Philadelphia registered his fourth straight comeback victory with a technical knockout over Joe Miceli of New York at 48 seconds of the eighth round.

Miceli was bleeding badly from his left brow; his left eye was nearly closed and he was hopelessly beaten when Referee Pete Scalzo stopped the bout.
