

Fifty-Four Attend Flower School In Central Point

Central Point—Eleven garden clubs were represented at the flower show school given last week in Central Point according to Mrs. Gaston Floux, flower show school chairman for Siskiyou district, Oregon Federation of Gardens clubs.

Fifty-four registered for the course, and 25 members took the examinations. Instructors for the classes were Mrs. Harry C. Smith, Cave Junction, state horticulture chairman, and Mrs. C. F. Gregg, Eugene, state flower show school chairman.

Mrs. Floux has expressed her thanks to all who aided with the school. Mrs. Floux states that the second school will be held the last week in October, unless there are conflicting dates. Persons having missed the first school, and wishing to attend the second may make up the course, it is stated. The first school will not be repeated in this district for three years, but will be given in other districts, she said.

Camp Fire Girls To Give Pageant On Year's Theme

To call attention to Camp Fire and its 1955 theme, "Let Freedom Ring," members of the Rogue Camp Fire groups plan an historical pageant based on the founding of communities in the valley. Rehearsals for this have already started.

This week groups throughout the nation are observing the 45th anniversary of Camp Fire organization and Mrs. Alan Pattison, council president, states that the week "signals the start of a year of renewed activity for more than 392,000 Camp Fire members, and directed toward a greater appreciation and support of the ideals upon which this country was founded.

Because the theme recalls the part bells have played in America's struggle for liberty and independence, Mrs. Pattison pointed out "the freedom which was first proclaimed by bells sounded by the defenders of our democracy has been echoed through years of both war and peace by chimes from schools, churches, and civic centers, symbols of the American way of life."

One of the recent activities of Camp Fire Girls was aiding the financial campaign for restoration of the famed Liberty Bell.

"The nation's oldest service organization for girls from 7 to 18, boasting more than four million 'alumnae,' will herald its Birthday Week throughout the land with a backward glance at the founding fathers, and a steady gaze into the future that its membership will help to mold," Mrs. Pattison added.
