The Rev. N. K. Tully performed the double ring ceremony at 1 o'clock in the afternoon. About 25 guests attended. The bride chose the church since it also was the scene of her baptismal rites.

Mr. Evans gave his daughter in marriage.

For her wedding the bride wore a blue suit with white trim and navy blue accessories. Her flowers were white gardenias with pink carnations.

Service League Style Show Is Kindergarten Benefit

Rogue Valley Country club became a French cafe last week for the annual spring style show of Medford Junior Service league. Tables were set up under gay striped awnings, spring blossoms were sold from flower stalls and models paraded across a stage which was set as a sidewalk cafe.

Two jaunty Frenchmen tried to attract the interest of the models as they crossed the stage while an organ grinder with music box and monkey, and an artist with paint boxes and easel were under the watchful eye of a gendarme wearing an authentic red and blue uniform.

The show was staged Thursday and Friday afternoons, and Friday evening, and proceeds will go for the support of the league's kindergarten for deaf children.

Opening scene of the show was given over to the small fry in the care of Mrs. John C. Collins, dressed as a French nurse. Children who modeled were Connie Herman, Mary Lyn Ellis, Allen Collins, Debbie Temple, Gary Holden, Karen Morgan, Mark Spiegelberg, Lee Wimberley, Chris Bartels and Sherry Baker. Mrs. R. B. Thierolf and daughter, Karla, then modeled matching mother and daughter dresses.

The show continued with sports, TV, shopping and afternoon apparel. Applause from the audience indicated special interest in two dresses modeled by Mrs. Frank Hopewell, these showing Mexican and Navajo influence with exotic embroidery and very full skirts of tiny pleats. Mrs. C. H. Buffington modeled an imported British tweed suit which had the "very newest" cut for the coat, and Mrs. Robert Cunningham wore Harlequin "beachcoming" pants with Italian shirt. One ensemble which Mrs. Donald Herried modeled was a dark plaid cotton dress with linen bolero jacket.

The women in the audience also showed much interest in a flannel suit with trumpet skirt modeled by Mrs. Richard Reum, and a frock of white cotton lace over black taffeta modeled by Mrs. Carl Wimberly Jr. After intermission the show continued with Mrs. Robert Taylor wearing a lavender colored frock first worn by Dorothy Malone, movie actress, in "Young at Heart." The dress was borrowed from Warner brothers.

Mrs. Edward Collins modeled an empire sheath dress which was set off by two enormous brown and white roses, and Mrs. James Henry brought applause when she appeared in a cotton dress with huge polka dots.

Mrs. George Lewis wore a black and white silk formal gown designed with a bustle bow so large that it covered the entire back of the frock, and Mrs. Buffington's pink taffeta formal dress was set off by a fluffy muff of pink fur.

When Mrs. Jack Lewis modeled a pink brocade formal gown with blue fox stole, her coiffure was accented with a streak of blue-silver paint.

For the wedding party Mrs. Lawrence Ellis was the bride,

Mrs. T. N. Tibbitt and Mrs. Fred Spiegelberg were the bridesmaids and Mrs. Ralph Hibbs, matron-of-honor.

Mrs. Donald Wood, substituting for a member who was ill, modeled a tie silk polka dot sheath dress with white bolero, as well as other dresses.

Shops cooperating for the show were Penney's, Mann's, Needlecraft, Leon's, Big Y Tot shop, Jean Hart, Pick's, Fashionette, Adrienne's, Burelson's, Town and Country, Hadley's, Bert Price, Brophy's, Maude Coddington, Johnston and Stewart, Buster Brown, six beauty salons, including Cook's, Lady Medford, East Side, Mann's, Victor's and Burelson's shop.

Mrs. B. Brondt Bartels, Mrs. Floyd H. Baker and Mrs. C. H. Buffington were general chairmen. Mrs. Bartels, Mrs. R. B. Temple, Mrs. George McGill, Mrs. Emil Mohr, Mrs. Berwick Wood and Mrs. James Keeble made up the cast for the sidewalk scene.

Among those from out-of-town at the show were a number of guests of Mrs. Alex Tummers, Central Point. Included in the group were Mrs. Sidney Brazett, Mrs. Tom Cudd and Mrs. Howard Hall, Grants Pass; Mrs. Ed Bolt, Homestead-on-the-Rogue; Mrs. Richard Reynen, Ashland; Mrs. O. D. Martin and Mrs. W. E. Thomas, Medford.
