Family Swimming Instruction Class Slated at YMCA

A family swimming instruction program will start at the Medford YMCA starting this week, it was announced by Dr. William H. Roberts, chairman of the "Y" aquatics program.

The classes are open to children over 6 years of age who are accompanied by one or both parents who cannot swim. Adults may register for the course, even if their children can swim. Dr. Roberts said, although the course is designed primarily for entire families.

Monday and Friday

The classes will be held Monday and Friday evenings beginning at 7 p. m. The first one will be Friday, April 15. Don Day, YMCA swimming instructor, will conduct the classes with Dr. Roberts assisting. Those interested are urged to register as soon as possible, he said, by calling the YMCA.

It was pointed out that the local "Y" has been conducting one of the outstanding swimming programs in the Pacific northwest. Last year 738 beginners were taught how to swim here, and during the last three months of 1954 the organization here led all other "Y" chapters in Oregon and Washington in the number of aquatic tests completed by student swimmers. The Medford total was 1,469 tests passed. Second was the Seattle YMCA with 1,100.
