Crater Nine Romps in 6th To Nip Klamath Falls 3-2

Central Point — Crater high, packing all its runs into the sixth inning, spilled the Klamath Falls Pelicans 3 to 2 here yesterday in a non-league baseball scuffle.

Klamath hurler Dave D'Olivo, who gave up three hits for one afternoon, threw effectively for five innings and had tight support from his mates. But in the sixth canto the roof collapsed on the Pels. The Comets combined a hit, a walk, two errors and two fielder's options to get their tallies.

The Pelicans gained their markers in the fourth and fifth frames after Crater Tossler Kay Kelley had faced just nine batters in the first three.

In the Fourth Ron Conner led off with a single and Jerry Burke and Don Taucher laid down successive sacrifice bunts to put him on third base. Craig McCarty's single drove in the run. Bill Hamblin began the fifth with a safety. He scampered all the way to third base on Dave Leeling's sacrifice blow and then swiped home.

For Klamath the sixth and seventh stanzas went like the first three. Kelley faced only six Pels in the last two frames.

Before the Comets came to bat in the sixth inning only three Crater men had reached base, one on a hit, one on a walk and one on a fielder's choice.

Two Misplays

Pitcher Kay Kelley became the fourth man to get aboard when he drew a walk. He was safe at second when Shortstop Butch Kimpston dropped the throw on an attempted force on Donn Johnson's rap. Johnson perched on first on the fielder's

A Nichol's Worth of ... Comment On This and That

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
United Press Feature Writer

Washington — (U.P.) — Napoleon Bonaparte was no different from mere man of any era. He spent a good bit of his time in the doghouse.

History does not make it clear just why the little corporal and his bride, Josephine, quarrelled, but apparently it was because he ate French peas with his knife.

Anyhow, he was forever showing the lovely Josephine with gifts, which is indicative enough. One gift was a priceless watch, which is on exhibit now at the Department of Commerce building and clock makers.

It's a little big as watches go today. About the size of a mashed-down pear, it is heart-shaped with a case set with 1741 pearls and 158 turquoises. The official value is $10,000, but one will give you a C-note you couldn't buy it off its present owners, U. S. Time (collectors), for money or love.

The watch went through the usual channels of time. It settled at one time in what was the who knows how long. Maybe it would still work.

Josephine like as not carried it in her purse when it wasn't in her locked jewel box. The weight of the thing surely would have put the pretty lady to listing to one side.

Five years were said to have been spent in gathering "matched" pearls for the case. Actually they do not match, but at this late date who cares?

Officially, the watch is known as the "Court Vanity Watch." According to the Time people it was made by a group of French watch makers and artists and jewelers on direct order of the small corporal. This was shortly after he revealed his ambitions, cast aside his pretense of a "regency" and had himself proclaimed Emperor of France.

Look the Watch

Napoleon, as you know, divorced Josephine. Naturally she took along the watch when she walked out. Josephine died before he did, but when the corporal himself passed along the watch was found in his possession, so his late former wife must have left it to him.

The watch went through the usual channels of time. It settled at one time in what was the

Solons Retain Lead; Beavers Club Seals

By PETER HAYES

Nippy Jones' home run kept Sacramento out in front in the Pacific Coast league today but the teams that drew the pre-season rave notices were jockeying into position to overhaul the unsung Solons.

Oakland's towering righthander Karl Drews was nursing a 2-1 lead going into the bottom of the eighth last night when Jones homered with Jackie Tobin aboard to give the Sacs a 3-2 win.

Sacramento needed that win to preserve its half game lead over second place San Diego. Last year's champions won their fourth straight, shading Los Angeles 2-1 by capitalizing on Angel pitcher Joe Hatten's fielding error and hit batsman.

Highly regarded Hollywood and Portland also won. The Stars, last year's runners-up, finally escaped the cellar by defeating Seattle, 5-4, and Lefty Bill Werle pitched the Beavers to a 4-2 win over San Francisco in his first PCL start since the Seals sold him to Pittsburgh in 1948.

Portland broke loose in the sixth inning with a four-run rally featuring Ed Mickelson's triple and homers by Don Eggert and Don Lundberg to disappoint 7,007 fans watching the Seals in their first game at home.

Werle throttled the Seals on four hits, one a homer by Ted Beard. He struck out four and walked only one as he returned to PCL action after seven years in the majors.

Steel Production May Push Near Capacity

New York — (U.P.) — Iron Age said today the "mushrooming" steel boom may push domestic production as high as 98 per cent of rated capacity this year, but predicted a steel shortage in Europe.

While American steel mills race against growing demand, the national metalworking weekly noted, "Foreign steel consumers are up against it."

"Foreign countries are short counterpart of a modern official museum.

At length, the watch came into the hands of a man named Carl Marfels, considered the greatest collector of antique and famous watches who ever lived.

At the age of 80 he began looking for buyers for his collection. A man by the name of Willard H. Wheeler, a rich Brooklynite and head of the Brooklyn museum, bought the timepiece.

It was supposed to forever remain a part of a recognized collection — not the private piece of an individual.

U. S. Time heard about the collection, valued at upwards of $750,000 and bought it.
