

CIO Auto Workers Open Talks With American Motors

Detroit — (U.P.) — CIO United Auto Workers negotiators today extended their battle for a guaranteed annual wage to a third front as they opened talks with American Motors Corp.

American Motors was the first of the so-called "independents" of the auto industry to enter negotiations with the UAW on the controversial GAW issue which could wreck five years of labor peace in the industry.

Ford Motor Company opened similar talks with the union yesterday and GM began talks with the UAW last week.

American Motors employs about 13,000 workers in Nash plants in Wisconsin and Hudson and Kelvintor plants in Michigan. UAW contracts with the plants expire at various intervals between June 1 and Oct. 1.

Delayed Action

Final action in the American Motors negotiations was expected to be held off until some sort of pattern was set in the GM and Ford negotiations.

Chrysler Corp. and two smaller auto firms also are expected to follow a pattern established by the Ford and GM negotiations. Chrysler, the last of the industry's "big three," and the other two independents will begin talks with the union at a later date.

Union officials said no pattern has been set at present in talks with the auto industry's two biggest producers. They gave no indication of when the pattern could be expected to jell.

Jacksonville High Events Are Listed

Jacksonville — The Jacksonville High school senior prom and junior banquet will be held May 6, it was announced today.

Scene of the senior prom will be the Jacksonville community hall, and the banquet will be held at the Jacksonville Rebe-kah hall.

Carmen Cabler is the senior class member in charge of the prom, and Carol Iverson, junior, is in charge of the banquet committee.

The Jacksonville Lions club is sponsoring a carnival, set for Friday, April 22, at the community hall. All proceeds from the event will go toward purchase of uniforms for the school band.

The Gloom Chasers, a National School Assemblies program, was conducted at the high school Tuesday for high and grade school students. The program featured magic and memory acts.

Greenspun Trial Under Way in Vegas

Las Vegas, Nev. — (U.P.) — The Federal Court trial of Publisher H. M. (Hank) Greenspun begins today on charges he sought to "incite the murder or assassination" of Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy in his newspaper, the Las Vegas Sun.

Selection of a jury was scheduled to begin before Federal Judge John R. Ross, of Carson City, Nev. Ninety-six prospective jurors have been summoned.

U.S. Atty. Madison B. Graves and an assistant, Peter Rittenhouse, were to prosecute the case, while Greenspun was represented by four attorneys — Edward R. Morgan of Washington, D.C.; Joseph and Thomas Foley of Las Vegas; and Bruce Thompson of Reno, a former U.S. attorney.

The 45-year-old publisher was indicted by a federal grand jury Jan. 8, 1934. He was charged with violation of postal regulations by causing to be deposited 874 copies of the Morning Sun which contained non-mailable matter of an indecent character tending to incite murder or assassination.

Funeral To Be Friday For Ashland Man, 79

Ashland — Funeral services for Loyal Hubert Dyer, 79, a resident of Ashland for more than 72 years, will be conducted Friday at 3 p.m. in Mountain View chapel. Burial will follow in the family plot in the old Hill cemetery here.

Mr. Dyer died early Tuesday after several years of failing health. A native of Tehama county, Calif., he moved to Oregon as a small child, and lived on an Emigrant creek homestead of his grandfather, W. H. Shepherd, a pioneer settler who came here in 1861.

He was a charter member of the Ashland Nazarene church, and was the only survivor of the charter group at the time of his death. He suffered a paralytic disease, possibly polio, as a child, and suffered from impaired sight and hearing. A brother, Arvel, with whom he lived, survives.

On The Side By E. V. Durling

(Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

To this truth we owe,
All the love between us two!
Let's not you and I inquire
What has been our past desire;
Or what men you have smiled
Or what women I have beguiled.

—Edmund Waller
(Above was written over 300 years before the currently popular song titled "How Important Can It Be?")

Only one man in ten knows how to give himself a good shave. Here's how: 1—Wash the face. 2—Rub olive oil on the beard. 3—Use cold water to lather. 4—Dip razor frequently in boiling water while using it. 5—Stretch the skin as far as possible by making faces. 6—Use short rapid strokes.

Asking

Queries from clients. Q.—Who introduced the song titled "She Was Happy Till She Met You?" A.—It was Imogene Comer, who also popularized those touching ballads titled "She was More to Be Pitied Than Censured," and "Take Back Your Engagement Ring." Q.—Why are girls named Margaret called "Peggy"? A.—Your query has me baffled. I'll ask Peggy King the next time I see her. Q.—Isn't James Cagney, the actor, of Irish descent? A.—Mr. Cagney's father was Irish, his mother was Swedish.

Get It Right

Most people pronounce the name of the Crescent City as "New Orleans." That's wrong. Pronounce it "New Or-ly-uns." One of the most frequently misspelled words in the English language is sacrilegious. Even proofreaders miss on that word and pass it when spelled "sac-religious."

Up The Ladder

Blanca Holmes, distinguished astrologer, once said, "In over twenty-five years of research I have found that seven out of ten women born under Gemini (May 21-June 20) marry more than once and usually up the ladder. That is, they do better each time."

Asides

"Silver Dollar" Smith, picturesque owner of the New York saloon that had silver dollars imbedded in the floor, was 6 feet 6 and weighed 300. . . A hosiery manufacturer of long experience says the perfect feminine leg measurements are as follows: ankle, eight inches; calf, twelve or twelve and a quarter; and thigh, eighteen and a half.

Sidelights

Thoroughbreds having post position five, win the most races. Since 1900 horses having that post position have won the Kentucky Derby nine times. . . Two thirds of the people in the United States are over 21. Perhaps you knew that. But do the producers of television programs know it?

Horses and Women

The photograph on the cover of a periodical is of a young woman described as being attired in "Dior's New A-line." That's the most ridiculous fashion since the hobble skirt. Makes a woman look like a clown. It has the same effect on a female's appearance as wearing a round flat hat on the head. Why do men feature styles that make them look foolish and moronic? I may give up trying to understand women and devote all my time to trying to understand horses.

Salk's Parents Humble, Proud

New York — (U.P.) — Dora and Daniel Salk, with humility and quiet pride, saw over a closed television circuit Tuesday night their scientist son take an honored place in medical history.

The 65-year-old parents of Dr. Jonas E. Salk were part of an audience of 54,000 persons — mostly doctors — who watched the story of the development of the Salk vaccine to conquer polio.

They went to the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel to view the historic report relayed from the University of Michigan. The program lasted one hour and climaxed a day of happy excitement for the Salks which began at 7 a.m., when they got up to wait for the announcement.

Earlier in the day at their five-room, West Side apartment, Mrs. Salk cried a little when reporters and photographers visited them. She was visibly moved over the world admiration her son had won.

"Whatever he touched, he made a success," the blue-eyed, white-haired mother of the now famous scientist said.

Salk's father, a white-haired, 6-foot retired blouse manufacturer, said, "I feel great. I feel great for every parent."

The Cliff House in San Francisco, overlooking Seal Rocks, is a modern restaurant noted for its sea-view dining room.

Loyd George Dairy Herd Tops March List of Association

A herd of 12 cows owned by Loyd George produced an average of 941 pounds of milk with 50.2 pounds of butterfat to top the Jackson County Dairy Herd Improvement association's March summary. Rosebud, a cow owned by Allen Rollins was the top cow with 1,469 pounds of milk, and 95.5 pounds of butterfat in 41 days in milk.

Other top herds last month included 21 cows owned by P. K. Nelson which produced 759 pounds of milk and 41.9 pounds of butterfat; 24 cows owned by Chet Jensen produced 757 pounds of milk and 38.5 pounds of butterfat; 103 cows on Gilman's Dairy farm produced 938 pounds of milk and 37.9 pounds of butterfat; and 33 cows owned by R. L. Wyant produced 620 pounds of milk and 37.5 pounds of butterfat.

Top Cows

The other top nine cows, showing owner, pounds of milk and butterfat and days in milk were:

Sandra, owned by Richard Westerberg, 1,721 pounds, 94.7 pounds, 41 days; 77, owned by Straus brothers, 1,559 pounds, 79.5 pounds, 110 days; R. Faye, owned by Lewis and Ruth Clark, 1,587 pounds, 79.4 pounds; Bouquet, owned by Westerberg, 1,175 pounds, 78.7 pounds, 110 days; 78, owned by Gilman's Dairy Farm, 2,176 pounds, 78.3 pounds, 60 days; Bloom, owned by Westerberg, 908 pounds, 78.1 pounds, 334 days; 78, owned by Straus brothers, 2,151 pounds, 77.4 pounds, 82 days; 57, owned by Gilman's Dairy Farm, 1,786 pounds, 76.8 pounds, 35 days; and 3, owned by Gilman, 1,894 pounds, 75.8 pounds, 41 days.

Henry Helsel Still on Stand

San Francisco — (U.P.) — J. Henry Helsel, head of the Portland, Ore., investment firm bearing his name, took the stand for the fifth day today to defend his firm against charges of fraud.

The Securities and Exchange Commission is seeking an injunction against the J. Henry Helsel Co., to restrain it from practices which the SEC charges are violations of fraud provisions of the securities laws.

Yesterday Helsel denied that his firm bought securities in blocks while claiming to give accounts individual attention. He testified that his company bought and sold in odd lot sizes, but "got round lot prices on odd lot sales" due to over-all volume.

Helsel testified that his company solicited the advice and criticism of the SEC in 1930 when the firm first published its brochures explaining company methods.

The SEC, however, charges that the brochures were misleading and did not truly reflect the nature of the firm's service to clients.

Oregonian Cleared In Oklahoma Murder

Stillwater, Okla. — (U.P.) — Sherman Johnson, 67, of Portland, Ore., brought here on murder charges, was cleared by a lie detector test and said today he was happy it is over and "I can go back to Oregon."

Johnson underwent the lie detector test yesterday at his own request. Prosecutor Bob Murphy said it provided the "final piece of evidence we needed to clear the suspect."

Murphy said the test results, together with other evidence, proved conclusively Johnson was not the slayer.

Johnson was arrested in Portland after a woman thought she recognized him as Charlie Goss, suspected of shooting her sister and another person in a Cushing, Okla., dance hall in 1928. Johnson, brought to Stillwater last month, denied all along he was Goss.
