First Anniversary Marked At Congregational Church

The members of the Congregational church at 300 Oakwood dr. in the east section of Medford will celebrate next Sunday the first anniversary of the organization of the church. Recognition will be given to the charter members at the 11 a.m. service.

The minister's sermon topic will be, "Growing."

Begins Series
At this time the Rev. Thomas McCamant will also begin a series of children's sermons based on the poetry of A. A. Milne. The first one will be, "The Little Black Hen." There will be a solo by George McUine.

At the time of the organization the congregation called on the Rev. Mr. McCamant to be their pastor and he has served the church since that time. He with Mrs. McCamant and family arrived in Medford by appointment the fall previous, to organize the church.

This church was organized a year ago with 32 members. There are now 53, and another group has begun a series of classes looking forward to membership. The attendance at Easter of between two and three times the membership indicates an increasing number of people who look to this as their church home. The Sunday school has also showed a continuing growth and has expanded into a new educational unit which has now been made ready for use, although it is not yet complete.
