

Family Life To Be Topic For Council

Medford Council of Church Women is preparing for the annual May Fellowship day luncheon set for Friday, May 6 at 1 p. m. at First Presbyterian church. Miss Elizabeth Burr is luncheon chairman.

Mrs. J. R. Sides has charge of the program on the theme, "The Responsible Christian Family."

The May Fellowship day spotlights some area needing united community action, it is said. United church women believe "the family circle is our first drill ground for Christian character." Since juvenile delinquency has increased 45 per cent in the past five years, church women throughout the world this year will discuss such questions as where does wrong begin, and what are we doing for our family? Are we making our homes a real construction plant for worth-while living? Who is responsible for the teen-agers trouble, trouble which often terminates in court. Church leaders state that children don't "just grow" into responsible citizens, but must be trained for citizenship.

A portion of the offering and the luncheon proceeds go to help the Christian education work in Jackson county among our youth.

Tickets for the luncheon may be procured from the presidents of women's church groups or by phoning 2-2914, Mrs. Claude Sparks, president of Medford Council of Church Women.

William R. Bullock

William Bullock Honored On Birthday Anniversary

About 50 friends called on William R. Bullock during open house events held Friday and Saturday afternoons in observance of his 90th birthday anniversary. The parties were held at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Karl J. Knutson, 615 North Columbus avenue. Numerous out-of-town relatives were here for the occasion.

Mr. Bullock came to Medford in April, 1900. He was born at Blanchard, Ia., April 14, 1865, the day that President Abraham Lincoln was assassinated. His family came to America in 1853 from Cornwall, England.

Before coming to Medford Mr. Bullock lived at Mesa, Ariz. He first located here on a 63 acre farm and orchard property near the present airport and later lived on a four acre tract on North Riverside avenue where he operated a truck garden.

Through the intervening years until 1938 when Mr. Bullock retired he was employed as a custodian first at Lincoln school, then the Roosevelt school when it first was built, later at the old Washington school on West Main street, Jackson school and Washington school.

Mr. Bullock still is an avid gardener and spends much of his time propagating flowers. He recalls his early days in Medford when there were no stores west of the railway tracks, and when the streets were deep with mud in winter time. He also recalls the old water tank where the city library now is located and which was pictured recently in The Mail Tribune.

Here from out of town were his daughters, Mrs. Albert Forgey, from Vancouver, Wash.,

Mrs. Rose V. Frost from Berkeley, Calif., who are twins, and Mrs. Loveda McGrew of Oakland, Calif. His son, the Rev. Ralph D. Bullock and his family live in Medford, and Mr. Bullock, the honored guest, lives at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Knutson.

Other relatives here were Mr. Forgey, a son-in-law; Steven Rogers, a great grandson also from Vancouver, Wash.; two granddaughters, Mrs. Don Fernquist, with her infant son, Mark, from Beaverton, and Mrs. Dorothy Kruger from Portland. He has seven grandchildren and 10 great grandchildren.
