

Sen. Phil Lowery Terms New Income Tax Proposal 'Shocking' Document

Indefinite Delay In Vaccine Program

Portland — (U.P.) — The State Board of Health today said it had recommended indefinite postponement of the program to inoculate first and second grade school children with the Salk polio vaccine.

Dr. Harold M. Erickson, state health officer said the suggestion was mailed to the 34 health districts in the state after his office received a letter yesterday from the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

The letter said that eastern manufacturers of the Salk vaccine were delayed in releasing shipments because each lot had to be approved by the National Institute of Health.

Committee Plan Would Add Surtax; Lower Exemptions

By BILL FORCE
United Press Correspondence

Salem — (U.P.)—A second income tax plan was before the Oregon Legislature today, this one from the Senate Committee on Assessment and Taxation.

The committee last night ended weeks of argument and reached agreement on a bill that would add a 45 per cent surtax onto the present personal income tax structure and lower exemptions from the present $600 to $500.

Agreement was not unanimous. Sen. Phil Lowery (R-Medford) declared the committee had created a "shocking document."

Sen. Lowell Steen (R-Milton-Freewater) said such a tax portended a "dreary, bitter road for Oregon." Lowery and Steen announced they would submit a minority report in opposition.

Due on Floor Monday

The two reports will reach the floor of the Senate Monday morning. If the majority report is adopted and the bill passed, the Senate version then would have to be submitted to the House for concurrence. It bears little resemblance to the income tax plan sent to the Senate by the House, with the exception of the reduction of personal exemptions.

The Senate bill would raise some $44,000,000. The House planned to raise only $25,000,000. The house bill had raised the rates of taxes levied in each income bracket and then had included a 5 per cent surtax. The Senate committee left present rate percentages unchanged and added the 45 per cent surtax.

Also included by the Senate was a so-called hardship clause which would exempt from taxes a single person earning less than $1000 a year or a husband and wife earning $1500 annually.

The committee last night cleared its desk of a withholding tax increase bill previously adopted by the House. But, it included a $100 wage minimum before which a 2 per cent tax would not be deducted from farm labor paychecks.

Tobacco Tax Passed

Also passed from the committee with a do-pass recommendation was a tax on all tobaccos. The House had approved only a cigarette tax, but members of the House Taxation Committee indicated yesterday they would concur in the Senate tobacco tax if the upper house deemed that plan workable.

The bill as amended in committee would provide for a special election if both the income tax and the tobacco tax should be referred by the voters.

The revenue that would be created by the Senate's tax plan was considered adequate to meet the needs of the state for the next two years without recourse to a state property tax, provided it was not made inoperative by filing of referendum petitions. There would be enough money in finance the proposed $15,000,000 building program on a pay-as-you-go basis.

Dolson, assistant vice-president, all from the Portland home office of the First National bank, will be here to conduct the forum.

Lawrence L. Clark, trust officer of the Medford branch, is in charge of arrangements.

Eisenhower To Honor Dr. Salk and O'Conner

Washington — (U.P.)—President Eisenhower called Dr. Jonas E. Salk to the White House today to give the famed scientist his personal praise and a special citation for developing a polio vaccine.

The President also planned to honor Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis which financed Salk's work.

Salk arrived here by plane Thursday night and was immediately besieged by two small autograph-hunting boys scheduled to receive their first shots of his polio vaccine today at their Arlington, Va., school.

Kenny Vinograd, 7, and his brother, Ricky, 6, sons of a Washington patent attorney, thrust a piece of white paper into the 40-year-old scientist's hands as soon as they could reach him. A swarm of photographers had the doctor go through the signing process repeatedly while they snapped pictures.

Salk was accompanied by his wife, Donna, and their three sons, Peter, 11, Darrell, 8, and Jonathan, 5.

Salk attended a morning session of today's Welfare Department conference on distribution of the vaccine "just to listen." Asked if he had any ideas about distribution, he said "that's not an area of my competence."

No DST in Medford, But Fast Time Plan Has Effects Locally

Start of Daylight Saving Time early Sunday morning in California and other parts of the nation will mean changes in Medford area radio, television and transportation schedules.

Medford, along with the rest of Oregon and Washington, will remain on standard time.

The change to "fast time" in California, in general, will mean that network radio and television shows will be presented one hour earlier than usual. Few changes are contemplated in the times of most local programs.

Many 1 Hour Earlier

KYJC and KMED, the local radio stations carrying network programs, noted these changes: For KYJC, programs originating through the Columbia Broadcasting System will be moved up an hour, while those from the American Broadcasting Company will remain at the same time. For KMED, all National Broadcasting Company shows will be heard one hour earlier, with a few exceptions.

Television station KBES-TV will have no changes prior to 6 p.m. each day, and no changes at all on Tuesdays and Wednesdays. "Quite a shuffle in programs is planned," KBES officials said, but in general, with the above exceptions, network shows will be one hour earlier.

Bus Schedules Change

The two bus lines serving Medford, Greyhound and Trailways, will have schedule changes starting at 12:01 a.m. Sunday. For Greyhound, the changes will be in the nature of minor adjustments, one of which will be that the bus which has been leaving for Portland at 11:50 p.m. daily will be moved up to 11:20 p.m. each day.

Trailways plans a complete new schedule which is brought about, in part at this time, by DST, but also is part of a company program to speed up schedules through use of express buses.

Southern Pacific railroad officials indicated that no change in passenger train schedules from Medford is contemplated.

Airlines Set Changes

Schedule changes are planned by each of the three airlines serving Medford.

United Air lines planes on most schedules will leave Medford about one hour and 15 minutes earlier than they have in the past. An exception to this is the 4:10 p.m. north bound flight, which will leave five minutes later.

Both West Coast Air lines and Southwest airways have an-
