

Firm Publishes New Book by Medford Woman

Another name has been added to the growing list of Medford authors with the release of the book, "Behind the Burden," written by Hildred Allen Jeffery. The author, the wife of William Jeffery, lives at 521 Mayette street, and is well-known among members of the Assembly of God church for her church work, particularly in the Women's Missionary council. Though actual church work, publisher's release date is set for May 5 advance notices and copies of her book have been received.

Mrs. Jeffery, born in Portland, is the great-granddaughter of Mrs. Elvira Brown Barker, the model for the University of Oregon campus statue of the "Pioneer Mother," sculpted by the noted sculptor, A. Phimister Proctor. Other members of Mrs. Jeffery's pioneer family were her maternal grandfather, the Rev. J. Bowersox, who came to Oregon in 1870 and founded an organized the Evangelical churches in Oregon; and her paternal grandfather, Emory Allen, who arrived in California in the 1860s. He was a farmer, school teacher and a Corvallis druggist.

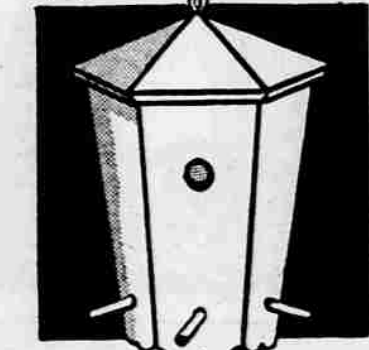

Mrs. Jeffery is a former member of the National League of American Pen Women, Hollywood, Calif., branch. She recently was a guest during a luncheon meeting of the branch at the Hollywood Plaza hotel.

Although "Behind the Burden" is Mrs. Jeffery's first book, it is a collection of works already published in newspapers and magazines and includes such writing as verse, an amusing story for children and inspirational work on the theme of "God's limitless love for man."

Mrs. Jeffery is particularly proud of the endorsement made her book by "First Mate Bob" Paul Myers of the Haven Rest, Hollywood, Calif., who wrote the introduction.

Steinway Firm Member Coming

Frederick Steinway, youngest son of Theodore E. Steinway, president of the Steinway and Sons, piano manufacturing firm, and a great grandson of Henry Engelhard Steinway, founder, will be in Medford Monday. The public is invited to meet Mr. Steinway who will be at Purucker's Piano house from 1 to 4:30 p.m., that day.

The visitor now is assistant in the wholesale sales department and is in Medford to meet anyone interested in knowing more about the firm and its product.

In 1948 Mr. Steinway joined the firm and, as is customary with all male members of the Steinway family, served as a factory apprentice for three years. He was production engineer and assistant to his brother, Henry Z. Steinway, general manager of the factories at Long Island City.

Rogue River Club Announces Tour; Program Given

Rogue River—A tour of an iris garden at their next meeting was planned by Rogue River Garden club women when they met April 19. The group is to meet at 11 a.m. at the home of Mrs. William Krauss and from there they will go to the home of Mrs. H. D. Weed. Those attending should take sack lunches and dessert and coffee will be served at the Weed home.

Among the guests at the recent meeting was Mrs. Harry Rose, a former president of the club and a former chairman of the Oregon State Blue Star Memorial group. At the meeting she exhibited a geranium flower which she explained is native to Australia and which was brought from southern California.

Mrs. E. W. Shock gave a report on a recent flower show for which she was chairman. She stated that 143 awards had been made. Judges for the event were Mrs. Robert Nichols, Mrs. Elwood Kendall and Mrs. Robert Roark, the latter being a student judge.

Mrs. Everett Lapham gave a program on wildflowers at the April 19 meeting and exhibited several varieties. They were erythronium or dogtooth violet, dwarf trillium or wake robin, fritillaria, birdsbill, which is a member of the primrose family, and one of the first wildflowers to appear, and red currant. She explained that the red currant should not be planted in gardens because it is a carrier of blister rust and attacks conifers.

Among the garden tips given at the meeting were ones which suggested that chrysanthemums be pinched back until July to keep them from becoming straggly, and suggestions for keeping cut flowers longer. Bouquets should be kept cool but out of drafts, it was explained. First stems should be cut off about an inch and placed in water of 110 degrees for about 30 minutes to drive out air bubbles, and each day stems should be cut off, or commercial preservatives may be used. The purpose of either cutting or preservatives is to prevent bacteria from plugging the stems.

Hostesses were Mrs. Herbert Brooks, Mrs. Marie Terpenning, Mrs. John Breeding and Mrs. Adolph Range. The meeting was held at the Civic Improvement club.

Couple Returns From California; Daughter Leaves

Mr. and Mrs. George Maddox have returned to their home at 340 South Groveland avenue after spending the past several weeks in Palm Springs, Calif.

Their daughter, Mrs. A. L. Clay, and small son, Scott, spent 10 days with the couple in California recently before leaving by air for Metz, France. In France they joined Mrs. Clay's husband, Lieutenant Clay, who is assigned to duty with the USAF at the NATO air base near Metz.

"BEFORE IT TALKS" Time is a vital factor in cancer cure. The American Cancer Society says that in its early stages, before it "talks," cancer is highly curable. Periodic physical examinations are urged as the best cancer insurance.

Political Parties Work for Support of Women in 1956

By PATRICIA WIGGINS
United Press Correspondent
Washington (U.P.)—The old saw that there is a woman behind every famous man is as outdated as last year's spring bonnet.

Top politicians in the nation's capital say that, in the words of comedian George Gobel, a man "can't hardly" be elected to public office anymore without lots of women backing him.

Sen. Leverett Saltonstall (R-Mass.) puts it most succinctly when he says "women aren't mere" any more.

BONNIE TARTAN

A bonnie lad is ready for action in a bonnie Tartan plaid suit. His cotton jacket and walking shorts are crease resistant and treated with Zelan durable water and spot repellent. The treated cotton is easy to keep clean and fresh looking. A young man can pick his favorite Tartan, for the cotton suit is made in the Black Watch, MacDonald, and MacMure plaids.

Leaders of both political parties, aware of the role the women's vote had in election of President Eisenhower in 1952, already are campaigning for the petticoat vote in '56.

A good example of the new approach—a recent three-day board of directors meeting of the Federation of Republican Women. The Republican National Committee didn't line up just women politicians around Washington to talk to the GOP group. Matter of fact, there were only two women on the program—Mrs. Mamie Eisenhower and Miss Bertha Adkins, head of the women's division of the committee.

The visitors—all 75 of them—got a handshake and chat with Mr. Eisenhower and briefings from three top-level White House assistants, three cabinet officers, more undersecretaries, the chairman of the Senate and House campaign committees, the chairman of the Republican policy committee and other big-wigs more accustomed to smoke than to perfume-filled rooms.

Major Role

Here are some of the bon mots tossed the ladies' way: Presidential assistant Howard Pyle—"Given the proper collection of dedicated women you can elect anyone to anything. As long as women work shoulder to shoulder, digging in, you can't beat 'em."

Rep. Richard Simpson (R-Pa.) chairman of the GOP's congressional campaign committee—Women have a "major" part to play in 1956. He urged women to do more about urging good candidates to run—"women can choose men; you know they do it all their lives."

PILLS CAN'T CURE CANCER No cancer has ever been cured by pills or powders, by quacks or "wonder doctors," the American Cancer Society says and urges all cancer patients to seek competent medical help.

Nail polish remover will take care of the gummy substance left on skin by adhesive tape.

MEDFORD (OREGON) MAIL TRIBUNE—NINE

Lose Weight With Scientific Snacks

Hollywood (U.P.)—Go ahead and eat between meals, you weight-watchers. But nibble "scientifically."

None other than a health and nutrition expert advises those trying to lose weight to snack between the three regular meal periods. It cuts down hunger, and the dieter is likely to eat less at each of the "three squares."

But you have to make sure you are not what Dr. Frederick J. Stare of Harvard University calls a "common nibbler."

Stare, head of the department of nutrition, Harvard School of Public Health, defined the two types of nibbling during a recent (Swift and Co.) food conference here.

"A scientific nibbler has a part of the main meal between meals," said Stare. "It may be a piece of fruit at 11 in the morning, instead of with lunch; a glass of milk saved from supper and drunk before retiring.

"He or she may eat as many as six or seven times a day. But the nibble must be part of what should have been eaten at meals, not as an extra. This is scientific snacking."

"The whole aim," said the nutritionist, "is to decrease the number of calories eaten in a 24-hour period. The right type of nibbling makes it easier for some dieters to do just that."
