

Lewis, Nored Get Mantles In AAU Mitt Tournament

Larry Lewis and Larry Nored won championships for the Medford Police Athletic league by taking decisions Saturday night in the finals of the Oregon AAU Boxing tournament at Hillsboro.

Lewis defeated Noel Morfin, Burns, in the 112 class of the open division and Nored took measure of Ralph Powers, Albany, in the 119 bracket of the sub-open grouping.

Junior McDonald, Medford, had a Friday verdict in effect reversed and fought Denny Moyer, Portland, in the 139 open finale Saturday. Moyer was given a second round TKO.

Two Medford fighters, Larry Irvin and Jim Evans, were on the short end of decisions in Saturday afternoon sub-open scuffles. Lewis Anderson was awarded the nod in the 139 class, and Troy Ellis, Vancouver, Wash., was given the bout with Evans. Both decisions reportedly were disputed and unpopular.

Lewis was never really able to really hurt his rival Saturday night but piled up the points against a good opponent. Coach Hugh Jennings said that Nored staggered his rival time and again and fought a beautiful fight.

McDonald, hampered by a cold, was game but tired in his fight with Moyer. On Friday, McDonald had flattened Ron Gonzales and appeared certain winner but officials gave the bout to the Portland fighter on an alleged foul. After protest, McDonald was awarded the mix on a knockout and that put him into the finale.

In Irvin's last fight, after scoring a Friday KO, he blasted his foe all over the ring for two rounds. He was punched out for the third but his opponent didn't have anything either. Anderson got a split decision.

Ice Still Covers Fish Lake; May Not Open Saturday for Anglers

Ice and snow make it improbable that Fish Lake can be opened to anglers on Saturday, April 30, opening day of the general trout season, Resort Proprietor Lyd Morris said today.

Morris reported that there is six inches of ice over the entire lake and that it is just starting to break around the edges. There is still two to three feet of snow in the camping area, he said, and it is doubtful that those facilities will be usable even if the lake can be fished on Saturday.

The resort proprietor, who returned from the lake last night, expressed the belief that it would take good warm weather through this week to melt and break up the ice sufficiently to permit fishing. He will make daily trips to the lake and report to The Mail Tribune.

MOST IN YEARS
Prospects don't look good for Saturday, according to Morris.

There is more snow at the store area at the lake than he has seen in a good many years at this late date, Morris reported. He said there are drifts as high as five feet the last two miles going into the lake and he warned that persons with trailer houses "certainly should not try" to come in with them this week.

Morris said, nevertheless, that 18 to 24 inches of the snow is soft and appears as new snow. It could melt, he stated. Several fellows working for him at the lake walked out on the ice yesterday.
