Cougars Trip UW; Oregon Rained Out

Seattle (U.P.)—Washington State College made its long delayed Northern Division baseball season opener a successful one here yesterday by beating Washington 5-3.

It was the Huskies' first loss in five starts.

WSC broke up a 3-3 tie in the ninth when Ron Foisy singled, Bill Rich was safe on an error and both advanced bases on a sacrifice bunt by Terry Sparks. Ron Overby then delivered a sharp single between third and short to score the game winning runs.

The two teams meet again today.

Eugene (U.P.)—Oregon was rained out for the fifth straight time yesterday in trying to get its Northern Division baseball season underway. The Ducks were to play Idaho in a double-header today—weather permitting.

Elks To Protect All-Star Ruling By Idaho Group

Ontario, Ore. (U.P.)—Ontario Elks will meet here tonight to protest an Idaho High School Interscholastic Activities association ruling that could sound the death knell of the annual all-star football classic here.

The association's board of limiting participation by Idaho schools, coaches, school officials and employees in all-star contests unless those contests have been approved by the board of control.

Specifically Armed
Jerry Cammann, Vale High school athletic director, said the rule was aimed specifically at the annual Elks classic here, since it was the only all-star contest in which Idaho teams played.

The game, which raises funds for Oregon and Idaho Elks charities, draws players from the Snake river and Boise river valleys in Oregon and Idaho.

Cammann said that unless new means of recruiting Idaho prep players, the ruling may mean the end of the Ontario all-star game, which normally is played in August.

They figure to "take a long trip" when Kluszewski meets them squarely. Regarded as the most powerful man in baseball, the 6-foot 2-inch, 235-pound in-fielder is a man of whom it is said "even his sweat has muscles."

That power made him an All-Big Ten end at Indiana in 1945, the year the late Bo McMillin's "Po' Lil Boys" won the conference grid crown. It also helped him to a pair of minor league batting championships his first two seasons in organized baseball. In 1946 at Columbia he led the Sally League with .352 and in 1947 at Memphis he paced the Southern Association with .377.

Yet it wasn't until last season, his eighth in the majors, that those muscles really paid off. He compiled his highest big league batting average with a .326 mark as he led the majors in home runs and in runs batted in with 141.

"But I figure I'll hit more home runs by not thinking of them," he revealed. "I'm just swinging the bat."

"Yet," Kluszewski smiles, "if I do get close to Ruth's record—I know the closer I get the tougher it will be."

St. Mary's in 6-3 Loss to CP

Central Point—Wayne Allen allowed one hit in pitching Central Point Grade school to a 6 to 3 victory over St. Mary's Grade school here yesterday afternoon.

Allen's only hit was a single by Pavlat, but Central Point collected six hits of Gary Miksche. Gary Legler and Joe Foster each got two singles in three times at bat for Central Point.

St. Mary's runs were scored on walks.

Report Awaited From Larsen on Italy Incident

New York (U.P.)—The U.S. Lawn Tennis Association was waiting today for an official report from Italy on the "ball boy incident" that has resulted in the suspension of former National champion Art Larsen of San Leandro, Calif.

The impetuous Larsen, southpaw who held the U.S. title in 1950 and currently is ranked fourth nationally, reportedly slammed a ball at an Italian ball boy during a tournament at Genoa on Saturday.

The ball struck the boy in the face and he left the court crying as the crowd booed Larsen loudly.

Larsen finished runner-up in the tournament, bowing to Italian champion Fausto Gardini in Monday's final round, 6-4, 8-6, 6-2. The suspension placed on him Monday by the USLTA prevents him, at least temporarily, from taking part in any more European tournaments.

ALSTON FINED
Brooklyn (U.P.)—Walt Alston's heated argument with Umpire Babe Pinelli in last Friday night's game with the New York Giants Cost the Brooklyn manager a $50 fine. It was Alston's first fine in his managerial career.

Las Vegas, Nev. (U.P.)—Sam Snead and Cary Middlecoff today were rated the co-favorites at 6-1 for the $37,500 Tournament of Champions. Gene Littler was pegged at 7-1 and Mike Souchak at 8-1 for the richly-endowed golf tournament starting Thursday.

Labor Committee To Air Compensation Law

Sajem (U.P.)—The House Labor and Industries Committee scheduled a meeting for 1 p.m. today in an effort to reach agreement on a revised unemployment compensation law.

The committee has before it the Senate-approved bill that would increase maximum payments to idle workers to $35 per week. Rep. Gust Anderson R-Portland, chairman of the committee, said both labor and management here opposed to the Senate's version of the bill, but for different reasons. He said he hoped to settle on a course of action in the committee today.

The bill is one of the last major pieces of legislation still awaiting House action.
