

Truman Refers to Attorney General as 'Dern Bungler' in Chicago Talk

Ex-President Departs From Prepared Text

Chicago—(U.P.)—Former President Harry S. Truman followed up on an address about civil rights last night by referring to Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell Jr., without mentioning him by name, as a "dern bungler," the Chicago Sun-Times reported.

Mr. Truman previously had departed from the text of his prepared address to say that it was the attorney general's duty to "preserve the Bill of Rights as well as protect the rights of the people."

The former President spoke before the Chicago Decalogue Society of Lawyers, which presented him its 1934 Award of Merit, and on the way out of a hotel with Justice William O. Douglas of the Supreme Court, he started to make some reference to his "blowing up," then added "It's just that we've got such a dern bungler in the attorney general's office."

In a speech on civil rights, Mr. Truman said "It is the duty of the attorney general of the United States, who has sworn just as I did when I took the oath of office, to preserve the Bill of Rights as well as to protect the rights of the people. Protection for Citizens."

"The Bill of Rights is just as important as the Constitution itself."

Mr. Truman made the off the cuff remarks immediately after saying "recent history has demonstrated . . . that unless citizens have rights against the government, no one can be safe or secure."

Mr. Truman's comment capped a busy day in Chicago in which he:

1. Announced that Adlai E. Stevenson is his candidate for the 1936 presidential nomination and voiced praise for Tennessee's young governor, Frank Clement.

2. Said the Democrats "can lick anyone who runs on the Republican ticket," including President Eisenhower.

3. Proposed an investigation of the American press by "an unbiased and qualified organization, adding "You know I have been having a little argument with the press," an apparent reference to his recent charges of

Anti-Trust Suit Will Be Filed Against Newspaper Publishers

New York—(U.P.)—The government shortly will file an anti-trust action against the American Newspaper Publishers Association, the ANPA convention was told today.

The civil suit will be based upon two charges, it was reported. The first contends that beginning about 1917 the ANPA, in concert with the American Association of Advertising Agencies, the Publishers Association of New York City, the Periodical Publishers Association, the Associated Business Papers, and the Agricultural Publishers Association had been and now is engaged in a conspiracy to restrain trade unreasonably in advertising. The second charge is similar but contends that the anti-trust act violation occurred during the same period of time in concert with the ANPA's own members.

Disclosure of the government's forthcoming action was made to members at the ANPA's 69th annual convention at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel here.

It was said that last week a committee representing the ANPA Board of Directors was informed by Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell Jr. that the Department of Justice was ready to sue the association in the U.S. District Court for the Southern District of New York.

KILLED IN WRECK

The Dalles—(U.P.)—Robert Reed, 67, of Blalock, was killed yesterday when a car in which he was a passenger plunged off the highway near Dufur, Ore. Vincent E. Ganbar, driver of the automobile, and Charles Udell, another passenger, both of Blalock, were injured slightly.

Two Persons Hurt In Auto Accidents

Two people were injured yesterday and this morning in automobile accidents on Medford city streets, according to city police.

Hurt this morning was Doris Hester Smith, 316 South Grove-land ave., driver of a car involved in a collision with two other vehicles at the intersection of Lindley and East Main sts. The accident happened shortly after 8 a.m.

Her car collided with vehicles operated by Alton E. Nordquist, 555 Keene way, and Flori Grace Sloniger, 398 Stewart ave. Mrs. Smith was treated by a doctor for chest injuries. She was cited for violation of basic rule.
