Gronchi Elected President of Italy

Rome—(U.P.)—Giovanni Gronchi, 67, speaker of the Chamber of Deputies and a left-wing member of the Christian Democratic party, was elected President of Italy today.

Gronchi, a man who wants to bring leftists into the government, won the right to succeed retiring 81-year-old President Luigi Einaudi on the fourth ballot in the Italian Parliament.

He needed only a simple majority of 422 of the possible 843 votes to win. On the first three ballots, a two-thirds majority, or at least 562 votes, was necessary.

The final official vote on the fourth ballot was 658 for Gronchi and 70 for Einaudi.

Dead line Sunday Classified is at noon Saturday; 10 a.m. Monday for at noon Saturday.

Sky Review for May

By J. HUGH PRUETT
Astronomer, Extension Division
Oregon Higher Education System

The beautiful planet Venus, which has been so gorgeous in the dawn sky all this year, is now rising about due east an hour before sunrise for those who have a level horizon. But it has lost much of its earlier splendor since it does not now appear quite as brilliant and is no longer high in a dark sky.

Mercury is now too near the sun for observation. Mars, still in the evening twilight, is the reddish object very low in the west an hour after sunset near the orange star Aldebaran in the Hyades. It is hardly brighter—due to increasing distance—than the Big Dipper stars.

Jupiter High in West
As soon as darkness falls the planet Jupiter is brilliant high in the west. Aside from the moon, Jupiter excels in brightness everything else now in the evening sky. Yellow, non-twinkling Saturn rises in the east-southeast about an hour after sunset.

Let us observe our spring "fixed stars" about 6:30 p.m. standard time. The familiar Big Dipper is now only a little north of overhead and is upside down. The celestial jewels in its ample bowl seem likely to be scattered. A little west of north and near the horizon where the Dipper was dominant six months ago, the W of Cassiopeia rules the scene.

In the northeast the brilliant Vega, principal star in Orpheus' heavenly harp, flashes in splendor. If horizon obstructions do not interfere, Deneb—of lesser brightness — can be seen near the north-northeastern horizon.

Arcturus Conspicuous
Very high in the east-southeast, orange Arcturus, the harbinger of spring, is conspicuous. Note the dimmer stars out toward the left which form the figure of a large kite. The only other bright star in the eastern half of the heavens is blue-white Spica, now somewhat south of southeast, and only fairly high in the heavens.

A little to the southwest of the zenith Regulus, at the end of the handle of the Sickle, sparkles with blue-white light. Fainter stars making up the rest of the handle and the curved blade of the sickle can easily be traced northward from Regulus.

Sirius, the Dog star, is now flashing various colors almost on the horizon in the west-southwest. Much higher and above Sirius, Procyon marks the location of the Little Dog. Red Betelgeuse, the shoulder of Orion, is also near the sky line and practically due west. Well up in the northwest, yellow Capella is dominant.

Low in the sky a little east of due south there is a conspicuous little figure of four stars, none bright, in the form of a distorted square which outline the Crow.

Furniture Store Adds Interior Decorator
Marvin Hammer, formerly of San Francisco, has been added to the staff of Modern Furniture company, 1222 South Riverside ave., as an interior decorator, it has been announced by Kenneth Kerr, owner. Hammer's services will be available to store customers at no added cost, Kerr said.

Hammer, a graduate of New York School of Design, formerly with Sterling Furniture company and Macy's department store in San Francisco, as well as operating his own business.

STA-OFF CORN REMOVER
Gives instant relief from pain and positively removes hard corns, soft corns between the toes, callouses, warts, papillomas, club nails. It contains several different oils that soften, loosen and does not cause the irritation as do strong acid mixtures. When all others have failed try this one. Try our Bunion Relief, which relieves pain, soreness, swelling first or second application. Both remedies sold on money back guarantee.

Swine Men Warned On Disease Control

Chicago—(U.P.)—Swine producers must exert "ever greater efforts" to bring swine diseases "under the most rigid control possible," the American Veterinary Medical association warns.

Surveys show that the nation seems to be making headway in battling some of its most severe swine problems, but no gains have been made in the past year in reducing certain others, the association said.

Major diseases reported brought under better control are hog cholera, gastroenteritis, enteritis complex and respiratory diseases. Important diseases for which increases were reported are swine erysipelas, atrophic rhinitis and leptospirosis.

"As animal populations continue to increase, there is a greater movement of livestock in normal commerce, the problems of disease control are bound to grow more difficult," the AVMA said.

Residents Settle Address Confusion

Akron, O.—(U.P.)—Residents on one street in this city apparently have settled the confusion about their address.

First the street was Denby ave. Then it became Paskal ave., and then Denby again.

The controversial street came up again for another name change, back to Paskal ave. Jerry Paskal, a local real estate operator, built homes on the block-long street and changed the name from Denby to Paskal.

A resident of the street told the Akron city council that residents there were referred to as living on "Celery Row" because the name sounds like that of a residents. The name stays Denby type of celery.

The council decided in favor of the majority of the street's residents. "It was something sentimental with me," Paskal said.

Russians Agree To Austria Air Rescue

Vienna, Austria—(U.P.)—The Russians have sprung a new diplomatic surprise by agreeing to formation of an Austrian air rescue force and to "consider full air sovereignty" for the nation.

Soviet High Commissioner I. Ilyichev proposed that Austria should be allowed to buy and operate five helicopters and five light planes for mountain rescue work. The proposal, made at a meeting of the four-power Allied Council, completely reversed previous Soviet policy.

Britain's Sir Geoffrey Wallinger promptly countered that Austria should be granted "full air sovereignty" — including the right to operate commercial airliners. He was seconded by U.S. High Commissioner Llewellyn E. Thompson.

Ilyichev, with rare good nature, agreed to have the question of full air sovereignty submitted to the Allied Council's air directorate for "consideration and study."

Salem—(U.P.)—The Oregon Supreme Court has under consideration an appeal contesting the authority of the city of Bend to add fluoride chemicals to the city water supply.

The power of ready cash

This may be a story about you

Brown needed money bad.
That's why he was willing to sell Jones a good piece of property for $5,000. Jones offered him $1,000 down and a 20-year mortgage. But no one, including Brown, wanted Jones' mortgage. So when Smith came along with an offer of $4,500—spot cash—he got the property. Two years later, he re-sold for a $1,000 profit.

The same old story is happening around you every day. The man with the ready cash is the man with the power. While others dicker and hunt for money, you step in and buy—usually at a lower price. While others pay out interest, you receive interest.

Payroll Savings Plan. It's one of the world's surest, easiest means of amassing big funds of money. For example, do you know that if you put just $7.50 a week into the Plan, in 9 years, 8 months, you'll have $4,277 cash? Here's the reason why:

A 100% Sure Investment Plan
When you sign up for Payroll Savings at your pay office, you name an amount (a few dollars or as much as you want). Every payday, before you can get your hands on it, that money is automatically saved out and invested in U. S. Series E Savings Bonds. Now, these Bonds earn such good interest that in 9 years, 8 months, they pay you back $4 for every $3 you've put in. No wonder the money piles up fast!

Declare Your Financial Independence
Remember, when you join Payroll Savings, you're starting to make money with money. And you're building cash power that will help you make even more in the future. It's the surest road to financial independence. Take that

Do You Have Cash Power?
The way to get cash power has been staring you in the face for years: the
