

TASTY ORANGE SAUCE

Fruits provide the flavor for many of the most delicious dessert sauces. A delightful fruit sauce can dress up an ordinary everyday dessert and make it a dish worthy of special occasions. This orange sauce adds both eye appeal and taste appeal to such dishes as gingerbread, cake, or cottage pudding.

- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1-1/2 tablespoons cornstarch
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup hot water
- 1/2 cup fresh orange juice
- 2 tablespoons fresh lemon juice
- 1 egg yolk
- 1/2 teaspoon grated orange rind
- 1/2 teaspoon grated lemon rind
- 2 tablespoons margarine

Combine sugar, cornstarch, and salt in a small saucepan. Stir in hot water and cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Mix the fruit juices with egg yolk and blend with cooked mixture. Cook until slightly thickened, stirring constantly. Stir in grated orange and lemon rind and margarine. Serve over squares of gingerbread, cake, or cottage pudding and garnish with orange sections. This yields one and one-half cups.

Women Medical Students Win Awards in Classes

Chicago — (U.P.) — Today's women graduates of American medical schools have come a long way along the trail blazed by Dr. Elizabeth Blackwell, America's first women physician.

Miss Blackwell's shyness with men and her wish not to marry were among the reasons she chose medicine as a career.

Her successors of 1955, on the other hand, often lead the men in classes and then marry them.

Six women last year received achievement awards from the American Medical Women's association for leading classes in which they were outnumbered by men, and 23 others were graduated in the top 10 of their classes at 20 male-dominated schools.

Typical of the modern outlook among distaff doctors are one who was graduated as a young grandmother and another who switched from economics to medicine with the help of her husband.

He took over the household chores while she studied her material medica.

College Women In Recent News

A number of Medford women students have been in the news recently according to dispatches from Oregon State college, Willamette university and Marylhurst college.

Miss Janet Coyle of Medford has been initiated into the Oregon State college chapter of Phi Sigma, national biology honor fraternity, according to a release from the school.

Purpose of Phi Sigma is to stimulate research among members.

A junior in agriculture, Miss Coyle is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Charles L. Coyle, 708 Park street, Medford.

Miss Margaret Huson, junior at Willamette university, was one of the hostesses for a tea given yesterday at the school by Mu Phi Epsilon, national women's music honorary. The tea was given at Lausanne hall on the university as a benefit event for Gads Hill, a Chicago music center which the group helps maintain.

The reception committee for the tea included Mrs. Melvin Geist, Mrs. Sally Sollinger and Miss Huson, president of the Willamette chapter of Mu Phi Epsilon.

Miss Dolores Zeleznik is newly elected vice-president of Mu Sigma, a recently formed club for medical secretary students at Marylhurst college. The new officers were guests of honor at a Mu Sigma luncheon on April 28.
