

Wild Mixed Tag Tussle Ends in Draw; Foursome Rematched for No Time Limit

Mack Lillard today rematched Gerry Hunter and Yogi Hussane to meet Bonnie Bartlett and Champ Thomas in a no-time-limit mixed tag team match headlining next Saturday night's wrestling card at Merrick's arena.

The rematch is an aftermath of last Saturday night's brawl between the same two teams which turned into one of the wildest 30 minutes of the current season and ended in a draw. Most of the fans which lacked a little of filling the arena screamed and shouted their approval and were left limping with excitement when Timekeeper Emil Westwong's gong ended it with each team owning one fall.

Newcomer Logger Porter displayed a rough and tough style which drew scattered boos from the fans as he pinned Larry Presnell two falls out of three. Porter, who wrestles in black jeans cut off just above the ankle, showed a lot of strength and speed in gaining the nod.

Cyclone Cobb stopped Joe Hahn in two straight falls in the other match. Hahn fell into an abdominal stretch and was unable to come out for the second go-round.

While the tag match rules prohibited one of the men from wrestling a woman, they did not prohibit extra-curricular activities in the corners and outside the ropes. A police officer also got into it when he had to escort one of the more rabid fans back to their seats when they got carried away with excitement and approached the ring for battle with Hussane.

Hunter Takes First Fall
The first fall went to Miss Hunter with a body press. She was locked in a standing body scissors by Miss Bartlett but Miss Hunter fell over backwards, pinning Bartlett to the mat. It took 12 minutes and 45 seconds.

Thomas grabbed the evenner when he pinned Hussane in seven minutes and 40 seconds.

There will be regular play on Thursday, May 3. A board meeting will be held that day at 9 a.m.

with drop kicks and a press. At one time in the match Hussane had Thomas in a full nelson and took him to the corner for Hunter to punch but Thomas slipped out of the hold and Hussane, caught the full force of the blow on his nose.

In another instance Thomas ducked a shoulder butt and the force caught Hunter, who was standing on the apron outside the ropes. Hunter caught Hussane, on the apron, with a shoulder butt which Bartlett avoided.

Partner Helped
Several times during the match either Hussane or Hunter, whichever was outside the ring at the particular moment, would sneak in to grab the hair of an opponent in an effort to lend as assist to the partner. At one time Bartlett and Hunter were mixing it in the ring and Thomas came in to keep Hussane from interfering and all four were going at it full steam, much to the displeasure of Referee Buck Davidson.

Hunter ripped Davidson's shirt from his back shortly before the match ended and was choking Bartlett with the shreds when Davidson finally took it away from her.

After the match was over Hussane vent his wrath on Davidson. Thomas, who had left the ring, and Porter, who had just emerged from the dressing room, combined with Davidson to give Hussane a brief but thorough working-over.

MEDFORD MAIL TRIBUNE SPORTS

Littler Champ of Champs Golf Winner by 10 Strokes

By HAL WOOD
United Press Sports Writer
Las Vegas, Nev. — (U.P.)—It is possible that Gene Littler isn't as much better than the rest of the current field of golfing greats as the records indicate, but he'll do until something better comes along.

The quiet man from Palm Springs, Calif., is only 25 years old and still hasn't won such major events as the National Open or the PGA championships—but he proved here again Sunday that he is ready to step into the shoes of Bobby Jones, Ben Hogan and Byron Nelson.

Sure, Littler won the $37,500 Tournament of Champions—one of the most difficult feats in golfdom. But the story is in how he turned the trick. He whipped the star-packed field by 13 strokes—the largest margin ever recorded in a major tournament since Hogan won the $15,000 Portland, Ore., Open in 1945, by 14.

In this field were Sam Snead, Ed Furgol, Dr. Cary Middlecoff, Bob Toski, and National PGA champion Chick Harbert. But they couldn't come close to the blond bomber from California.

"The 72 holes I played in this tournament probably were the greatest I've ever had," said Gene today.

Littler said he plans to go from here to Ft. Worth, Tex., for the Colonial Tournament starting Thursday.

"I'll play in a couple of other tournaments, then come to San Francisco to get ready for the Open. I'm hoping to win that one this year after coming so close last year."

Played It Easy
Littler played it easy Sunday. He shot an even-par 72 after taking 10-stroke lead on the field at the end of 54 holes. He had a 72-hole total of 280 blows—eight strokes under par for distance. First prize was $10,000 in silver dollars—the biggest single jackpot the young star ever has collected.

There was a three-way tie for second place, at 293, between Pete Cooper, Birmingham, Mich., Jerry Barber, Los Angeles, and Bob Toski, Livingston, N.J., they each collected $2,566.66—but about as much as they usually get for winning a tournament.

Ed Furgol, St. Louis, Billy Maxwell, Odessa, Tex., and Dr. Cary Middlecoff, Kramers Lake, N.Y., finished in a three-way tie for fifth at 296 and each picked up $1,326.66. There was another three-way tie at 298 for eighth between Doug Ford, Klamath Lake, Harbert and young Bud Holscher, each winning $1240.

Pre-tournament favorite Sam Snead and former National Open champion Julius Boros, each with 299, came next and collected $1190 each.
