

Annual Meeting Clinic Association Set for May 16

Plans are now complete and invitations in the mail for the annual meeting of the Southern Oregon Child Guidance Clinic association to be held May 16 at St. Mark's Guild hall in Medford. The public is invited to the evening's activities which will begin at 7:30 p.m. with a social hour and dessert arranged for by St. Mark's auxiliary-guild. A silver offering will be taken.

"An Ounce of Prevention" is the subject chosen by the speaker of the evening, Mrs. Joy Hills Gubser, assistant superintendent of the State Department of Education.

The annual business meeting of the association will be held, and new members of the board elected. The clinic association is now carrying on a drive for new members. Those who join become voting members, and by showing their interest and paying the annual dues of $2 are able to assist in the growth and expansion of the clinic and its services to the community, it is pointed out.

Mrs. Dwight Houghten and Mrs. L. A. Mentzer were responsible for mailing the invitations to members all over the county.

Education Discussed for Annual Meeting of League

Six phases of education which will be discussed in a series of meetings leading up to President Eisenhower's White House conference next fall were the topic of a talk given by Mrs. Betty Lou Dunlop, instructor at Southern Oregon college, for Medford League of Women Voters Saturday. The meeting, the annual luncheon and election of officers of the league, was held at the Medford hotel.

Mrs. Dunlop's talk here followed soon after the announcement that she had been awarded the triennial fellowship of American Association of University Women in Oregon, this being the first time that the award had gone to an educator.

Mrs. Dunlop defined education as the formal training developed, adopted by and made available to society which will tend to develop the child into a socially acceptable adult. In order to develop a system of education that fulfills the requirements of society, Mrs. Dunlop spoke of the need of recognizing the differences in children, incorporating into this system facilities for the development of the different intellectual levels and various aptitudinal interests of children. This is all necessary in order that all fields necessary to a wholesome, well rounded society, in which the artistic, the professional, the mechanical as well as the intellectual fields are filled with trained, well adjusted adults, the speaker said.

Complying with President Eisenhower's plan, the discussion on the six phases of education will be held May 9 here in Medford, Mrs. Dunlop said. In the local conference, and again in the state and national conferences, the pros and cons of all six subjects, will be discussed, she declared. The first question will be "What should our schools accomplish?" Following this will be, "How can we get the school facilities we need?", "How can we get enough good teachers and keep them?", "How can we organize our school systems most efficiently and economically?", "How can we pay for our schools?", and "How can we obtain a continuing public support of education?"

In speaking of President Eisenhower's having cited a need for the equalization of educational opportunities, Mrs. Dunlop gave a few statistics which emphasized this need. Throughout the United States she said, the average expenditure per child in school is $200, in Oregon it is $319, in New York $325, in Mississippi it is $89.

California, Mrs. Dunlop said, is a state of adult and retired people with only 170 children per 100 adults. While in Kentucky 272 children for every 1000 adults. The income in these two states is such that from the same percentage of tax base, the California child has a little over $300 while the Kentucky child has a little less than $100 to pay for his education. This inequality of opportunity should be stabilized if possible, she said.

Mrs. Dunlop referred lightly, but unfavorably, to the inequality of expenditure by the public between what it pays for education as compared to what it pays for liquor and tobacco.

Mrs. Dunlop said society must accept the fact that it has to work hand in hand with the schools in order to develop the student society demands. The subject of discipline should be dwelt upon extensively, she added. A child needs the dignity that results from self-discipline, she said. In this day and age, violence, extravagance and over-indulgence are magnified falsely and made to seem important beyond all necessity through the modern media of TV, radio, newspapers, comic books, movies, and magazines, Mrs. Dunlop declared. This should be counteracted through education, not the formal system of training found only in schools, but in the home, the most important media of education wherein we will evolve the well-adjusted, productive, whole man society needs so badly, the speaker added.

The conference May 9 in Medford will be open to the public and anyone interested is urged to attend. It is thought that everyone who has children in school, or who is interested in the field of education will be interested in having had a part in this development of an answer to the question, "Where do we go from here in education?"

Class Party Held By Piano Pupils

A class party held at the piano studio of Mrs. Nell Taylor Saturday afternoon served to demonstrate progress in solo and two-piano ensemble playing of the students for parents and friends who attended. Mrs. Taylor's younger pupils participated.

Playing were Myrnalou Cummins, Vicki Vorheis, Carl Voegtly, Alan McLarty, Linda Garner, Beverly Bush, Christine Finch, Susan Root, Marcia Harrington, Pat Ellis, Karen Ruhl, David McLarty, DeEtta Lawson, Karen Mayfield, Vance Welty, JoDee McDuffie, Carolyn Finch, Karen Carpenter, Molly Barker and Anne Barker.

Hostesses were Carlyn Finch, Karen Carpenter, Karen Mayfield, Molly Barker, Anne Barker and JoDee McDuffie. The event was planned to coincide with National Music week.

Junior High Operetta To Be Friday

As a climax to National Music week observance, Medford Junior High school will present its annual operetta Friday, May 6. Ray Lewis, vocal music instructor, is in charge, assisted by Jerry McDougall and Don Darneille. Approximately 250 eighth and ninth grade singers will participate.

The operetta, "Steamboat A-Comin'" by Mildred Kerr and Roger Wilson, is considered especially appropriate since it is typically American in music, scenes, and story. Music week participation always promotes work of American composers and music which can be considered a basic part of our national heritage.

This lively, humorous production takes place in the south during a period in the growth of this country which might be called the "golden age of the river." Three of the scenes are set in a river village, the fourth on a river boat.

Special featured soloists will include Dana Ragsdale, Bruce Boldenow, Tom Morris and Jack Foster. The dramatic leads are Pam Cooksey, Dana Ragsdale, Maureen McCurdy, Nancy Adams, Larry Albright, David Frohnmayer, Tom Morris, Cecil Easterly and Ted Lawson.

At 4:30 p.m. Wednesday portions of the operetta will be presented over KBES-TV. The Friday evening performance will begin at 8 at the Junior High school gymnasium. A small admission will be charged.

Members Attend Lady Bug Session

A group of Jackson county members of the Military Order of Lady Bugs attended a recent spring council meeting held in Roseburg. The meeting honored Mrs. Margaret Hodges, Findley, Ohio, national lady gold bug, or president.

The group visited the Roseburg Veterans' hospital, and plans were made for the state encampment at Ocean Lake, Ore., in July.

Attending from Jackson county were Mrs. Cornelius Rost, Ashland, royal lady gold bug, or state president; Mrs. R. E. Schulz, a past royal lady gold bug; Mrs. Fred Lawrence, secretary; Mrs. Phyllis Brownlee, assistant secretary; Mrs. Merrill Beneka, chairman of ways and means and Mrs. Ivan Lusk. Roseburg Circle was hostess group.

Providence Guild To Meet Wednesday Providence guild will meet Thursday, May 5, in the social room of Sacred Heart hospital. The work session is set for 10 a.m.

League Holds Meeting And Election

Medford League of Women Voters reviewed its achievements and activities at the annual meeting and luncheon held Saturday at the Medford hotel. Election was held, with Mrs. Donovan Foster remaining as president of the group. Mrs. R. D. Hiatt was elected secretary and Mrs. John Ousterhout, director. Mrs. R. S. Hinman gave the nominating report.

Mrs. Frank Fairweather gave a resume of the meat inspection legislation committee. Mrs. Fairweather and Mrs. H. P. Bosworth Jr., both attended the public hearing on HB 99 held in Salem. Mrs. Fairweather said that only last week the bill had gone to the floor of the House from the ways and means committee, and before the meeting was over was able to report that it had just passed the House, 52-2, and would be up for vote in the Senate the first thing Monday, May 2.

The league, as a body of 85 active members, voted to wire Sen. Phil Lowery requesting his utmost support of the measure.

Mrs. Hugh Collins, budget committee chairman, read the proposed budget which was accepted and adopted.

Mrs. Foster read the proposed changes in the organizations by-laws and they were accepted.

Mrs. Foster, in speaking of work that will be continued next year, said the trade survey made of the community has been concluded and the data forwarded to the League's national headquarters to be incorporated in the most extensive survey ever undertaken to determine the actual effect of international trade.

The league's individual liberties study and the "know your town survey" will be continued next year.

Mrs. G. A. Dierdorff, reporting on the redistricting bill, said difficulties obstructing it previously had been eliminated and adjusted and that the bill would probably be passed in this legislative session.

Mrs. Homer Marks was thanked by the members for her handling of the general meetings this year.

Mrs. Fred Carr introduced the speaker, Mrs. Betty Lou Dunlop, instructor at Southern Oregon college.

The last general meeting of the year will be May 28, following the League's state convention in Eugene, May 22-24.

The last unit meetings of this year will be those held this month. The evening unit will meet Tuesday, May 3, at 8 p.m., in the home of Mrs. R. S. Hinman, 675 Oakdale drive, phone 2-7404. Mrs. Fred Burich will present the results of the trade survey of which she has been co-chairman.

Central Point PTA Schedules Meeting

Central Point—Central Point Parent-Teacher association will hold its final meeting of the year Thursday, May 5, at 3:30 p.m., in the library of Junior High school. A refreshment period will be held from 3 o'clock until 3:30, preceding the business meeting. Refreshments will be served by mothers of first grade pupils.

The program will include music by the Girls' chorus, installation of new officers, a report on the state convention and a style show by girls of the eighth grade.

Stamp Club

Southern Oregon Stamp club will meet at Girls' Community club Thursday, May 5, at 8 p.m. The program will be presented by Kenneth Lewis, Ashland, who will speak on his collection of Hawaiian stamps. Anyone interested in stamps is invited to attend.
