Chamber's Forum Committee Plans 4 Meetings Yearly

(Editor's note: This is another in a series of articles, prepared by and published at the request of the Jackson County Chamber of Commerce, discussing the committees of the chamber, their jobs and their chairmen. They are published in the hope that they will lead to a wider understanding of the functions of the chamber.)

The sponsorship of at least four forum meetings — general discussion sessions — each year is the aim of the forum committee of the Jackson County Chamber of Commerce.

The most recent was one on taxation, at which State Sen. Lee Ohmart, Salem, was the speaker. Others are planned soon.

Chairman of this year's forum committee is Ray Johnson, manager of radio station KMED, who was appointed in January by John Pietsch, president of the chamber.

He has been a resident of Medford for several years, and his activities have included the Kiwanis club, of which he is a director this year; membership on the committee for Boy Scout Troop 2 sponsored by the Kiwanis club; co-chairman of the chamber's Greeters committee; membership on the old Medford Plan, and other civic jobs including the Kiwanis public relations committee.

Johnson is now vice-chairman of the chamber membership committee, and last year was a co-chairman of the Monday round-table session of the chamber.

Chamber of Commerce Men To Talk To Council

Frank J. Van Dyke and Ron Gandee, both members of the board of directors of the Jackson County Chamber of Commerce, will speak at a meeting of the Medford Central Labor council at 8 p.m. today in the Labor temple.

They expect to discuss the function and purpose of chambers of commerce, pointing out that while they are essentially businessmen's organizations, they have as their objective the community welfare.

Chicago — (U.P.) — Too much coffee gave George Welter, 20, a headache. The coffee—six quarts of it—was in a steel urn that fell off a 15-foot hydraulic lift and hit him on the head.
