Long Canes for Ladies Once Stylish in France

"If this was a cane for a woman, she must have been an amazon," I said.

"Not at all," replied the proprietor of the shop. "This was made in the time of Marie Antoinette, when it was fashionable for ladies to carry long canes. Who knows, maybe she herself touched this."

"Look at this," he said, seizing the stick, which was just a little under four feet long. He gave the head of it a twist and removed it.

He thrust the butt of the cane forward. "See! She carried her powder here. You can even smell it now. Right from the time of Marie Antoinette."

Well, that was no test for me. For all my nose could tell it might have been Max Factor's latest. I did like the stick though, and while I didn't go for the Marie Antoinette connection, or any part of it, the piece was evidently an expensive one without any spur-of-the-moment valuing by the proprietor.

For example, the removable

On The Side

(Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

My Irish wife has clear blue eyes, My heaven by day, my star by night. And twin-like, truth and fondness lies Within her swelling bosom white. I would not give my Irish wife For all the dames in saxon land. I would not give my Irish wife For the queen of France's hand. —Thomas D'Arcy McGeer.

There are too many cocktail bars by the side of highways. Too much temptation for motorists to stop and imbibe a few cocktails. It is claimed that after consuming three highballs or cocktails an autoist has fifty-five times as much chance of being in an accident as a completely sober driver. The number of roadside thirst emporiums should be sharply decreased by law.

Horses and Women

Just what is this feminine style trend called the "long look"? Does it call for long hair? How about tight corsets? Why do I want to know? Well, sir, I am just trying to find out if we are going to have a period of peace and prosperity. James Lever, world famous expert on the history of dress, says peace and prosperity has reigned during practically all periods when women wore tight corsets and long dresses and featured long hair. That in periods when short dresses, short hair and plunging necklines were popular, the countries where those styles prevailed suffered from unrest, inflation and a variety of additional troubles.

Briefly

In England a woman found guilty of murder can be hanged, but not if she is an expectant mother. . . . Am asked what is the patron saint of taxicab drivers. It is St. Flaccus. . . . Florida has the highest percentage of widows of any State in the Union. New Hampshire the most widowers, California the most divorcees and Nevada the most bachelors.

Asking

Queries from clients: Q. When a young woman receives red carnations from a man, what does that mean in the language of flowers? A. The message the gentleman wishes to convey is, "I am carrying the torch for you." Q. What was the name of the film in which Greta Garbo and Clark Gable appeared together. A. It was titled "Susan Lenox." Based on the novel by David Graham Phillips called "Susan Lenox: Her Fall and Rise." Q. What is the capacity of St. Patrick's Cathedral, New York City? A. St. Patrick's can accommodate 5,000 people; 3,000 seated, the rest standing.

Sidelights

An unusual number of men married to Scorpio (October 2-November 22) women suffer from uxophobia. Or, so say the stargazers. . . . All long distance trains on Italian railways have film theaters attached. Great idea. Should try it here.

claimed. It is probably true. Yet there have been some exceptions. As for example, the great theatrical producer of the yesterday, Theodore Liebler. He weighed over 300 and lived to be 90!

Divorce

As a student of horses and women I have found some of the grounds for divorce voiced by women quite interesting. For example, a California woman, the mother of seventeen children, gave as the principal reason for seeking a divorce that her husband wanted more children.

Notes

It said that physicians seldom live to be over 80. Might be true. Yet I know of one celebrated physician who did. That was Hippocrates, the father of medicine, who lived to be 109 in a period when the average life expectancy was about thirty-two years.
