

Personal Income Surtax Expected To Be Accepted

Salem — (U.P.) — The 45 per cent surtax on personal income taxes passed by the Legislature to bring in some $44,000,000 toward meeting an anticipated deficit in the next biennium is expected by its sponsors to be accepted by the people without challenge at the polls.

But if the act should be referred, the Legislature which wound up its work and adjourned Wednesday night, made provisions for a special election this fall to pass upon the program.

Special Session Seen
If the measure should be defeated, then a special session of the Legislature probably would be called, the lawmakers said. And if no other solution acceptable to the people was found, it would mean, they said, that the state would have to impose a property tax for the first time in many years. The state has been using the income tax as a property off-set tax, and has left the levy against property to local levels of government.

Should the cigarette tax of three cents a pack designed to bring in an added $10,000,000 be referred, and not the income tax, then there would be no special election. The matter would go on the ballot in the next regular general election in November, 1956.

Moscow Shifts To New Foreign Policy

Moscow — (U.P.) — The Soviet Union has shifted to a new foreign policy of trying to ease the cold war through more conciliatory diplomacy while pressing for a meeting of the Big Four heads of state, Western diplomats declare.

Diplomats said the new softer diplomacy included the Soviet shift toward agreement on an Austrian treaty, the constant reference in the Soviet press to "reducing international tension" and the gradually mounting campaign for Big Four talks "at the highest level."

Soviet support of a Big Four meeting at the top has been indicated in the official newspaper Izvestia which carried a Tass dispatch from London quoting the British press as predicting Foreign Secretary Harold MacMillan will press for such a conference during the Paris Big Three talks.

Non-Farm Work Higher on West Coast

San Francisco — (U.P.) — Non-farm employment of wage and salary workers in California, Oregon and Washington rose in mid-March to 5,025,000 up 100,000 over March, 1954, according to figures released by the Department of Labor.

The department's Bureau of Labor Statistics said the 48,200 increase over February was slightly in excess of normal seasonal expectations and was spread generally over most industries.

California wage and salary employment reached 3,875,000 in mid-March, 37,000 more than in February and nearly 90,000 more than last March. Oregon gained 3000 for a total of 440,000, while Washington totaled 710,000, up 8000 from February.

Attack on Spruce Budworm Scheduled

Portland — (U.P.) — Annual attack on the spruce budworm in the forests of northeast Oregon will be resumed next month, according to Regional U. S. Forester J. Herbert Stone.

Aerial spraying operations will be conducted over 630,000 acres of both Douglas and white fir where the forest pests is in epidemic stage.

A total of $661,000 has been spraying. Congress has voted made available for this year's $562,000 for the cost of spraying in the Ochoco, Malheur and Wallowa-Whitman, national forests and for 25 per cent of the cost of spraying adjacent private lands.

The Oregon legislature appropriated $99,000 for the balance of the private lands cost.

Insecticide and air service will be provided by contractors after competitive bidding.
