Cat Awarded Medal For Service Beyond Duty

St. Louis —(U.P.)— Mitty is a cat with the true maternal instinct. She has had 15 litters and recently was awarded a bronze medal by a cat food concern for service above and beyond the call of duty.

The members of each litter get names beginning with one letter of the alphabet. So far Mitty's owner, Miss Betty Kleine, has gone through "O."

RHEUMATIZ SOUNDS SO QUAINT

Our family enjoys reading your short items . . . many a chuckle over your down to earth remarks, writes Mrs. N. C. G. I'm sure that what my doctor thinks is "arthritis" is really rheumatism, because it acts so much like what my mother had before the days of arthritis . . . (Mrs. N. C. G.)

Mrs. G. is not quite so patronizing as a good many others who are mildly amused by my remarks concerning chronic joint disability, but she makes it plain that she doesn't take my teachings or advice seriously.

The lady informs me that she "tried" some capsules for two whole weeks and could not see that they did any good. Evidently she assumes I recommended the capsules. I didn't.

This is a bowling day, so I'm not going to call anyone knucklehead, wiseacre, geek or any other improper name — unless perchance some character on the green should get out of line. I must say, however, that Mrs. N. C. G.'s endeavor to humor me puts me out of humor—until I potice the lady refers to my short items. THAT may account for a good deal of the trobule with you poor souls.

When I submit my daily item, article, lesson, piece or contribution it is from one-half a column to a column long. If there's only a wee bit of space available, the office boys clips off the overlap and tells 'em to start the presses. No wonder my teachings are not easy to understand. There's a difference between what I write and what you read. And this makes me feel red in the face, for all the names I have called you long-suffering . . .

Well, now, let's forgive and forget and keep our fingers crossed and hope that this and the next paragraphs will be printed. The distinction between what I call rheumatiz and what most joint disability patients and their doctors call arthritis is this: Rheumatiz is physical degeneration, and arthritis is inflamation of the joint. In most instances of joint disability of more than a year's duration there is no evidence of inflamation, hence it is a mistake to treat it as arthr-itis (joint inflamation).

Now, please, if you are subject to joint disability, don't assume that I recommend a remedy. I don't. Instead of "trying" something which you believe I recommend, send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope and ask for the pamphlet CALCIUM AND RHEUMATIZ.

I do not mean to say all chronic joint disability is rheumatiz. In a minority of such cases the trouble is really joint inflamation (arthr-itis) due to one or other specific infection—streptococcus, pneumococcus, staphylococcus, gonococcus, tubercle bacillus, syphilis germ, etc. I do mean to imply that if your physician calls your trouble arthritis and proceeds to give this or that treatment without further effort to find out what ails you, he's just stringing you along.

QUESTIONS & ANSWERS

Scintillating Scotomata

I am subject to spells when I seem to set a sort of half-blindness and light scintillates at one side of my eyes for half an hour, and then follows a headache. A doctor said these attacks are scintillating scotomata, but there is nothing to do for it . . . (H. F.)

Answer—You describe mild migraine. Send stamped envelope bearing your address, ask for pamphlet "Why Have Headache."

Gambling With Teeth

Four years ago started having back aches in upper part of back. Two years ago had all upper teeth out in hopes of curing back, but no soap. Lower teeth not too bad, but am advised to have them all out . . . (Mrs. G. J.)

Answer—My advice is, keep your teeth as long as you can. Have a tooth extracted ONLY when your physician AND your dentist are both of the opinion that it should be extracted.

Police, Aid Car Save Woman's Life

Burns, Ore. —(U.P.)— State police from Ontario and Burns with the help of a special Red Cross car from Boise were credited today with helping to save the life of a Burns woman.

A hospital spokesman said Mrs. Agnes Kennedy, wife of Donald Kennedy, needed an emergency transfusion after an operation early yesterday.

However, the hospital's weekly quota of blood from Boise was exhausted and the hospital was unable to contact donors. The Boise blood center was contacted and a Red Cross car was dispatched with four pints of blood.

The Red Cross car was met at the Oregon border by an Oregon state patrolman operating out of Ontario. He sped the blood supply to Juntura. There another Oregon state police officer from Burns transferred the supply to his vehicle and rushed it to the Burns hospital.

The entire operation from the onset of the emergency to the delivery of the life - saving blood took only three hours.

The woman is expected to live and was listed as improving.
