

TRYING TO SCORE on Del Crandall's short fly, Andy Pafko, Braves' outfielder, reaches desperately for plate but his arms just aren't long enough and he is thrown out by Jack Shepard, Pirate catcher in game at Milwaukee. Umpire Al Barlick calls this easy one. (International)

Marciano, Cockell End Training

San Francisco — (U.P.) — Rocky Marciano put the final polish on his body attack Saturday and challenger Don Cockell did his last target practice for the nose as they finished training for Monday night's international heavyweight championship fight at Kezar stadium.

Chunky Cockell, a pig-and-poultry farmer of Horam, Eng., was one of the most lightly regarded challengers in heavyweight history as he took his last workout at nearby San Rafael, Calif.

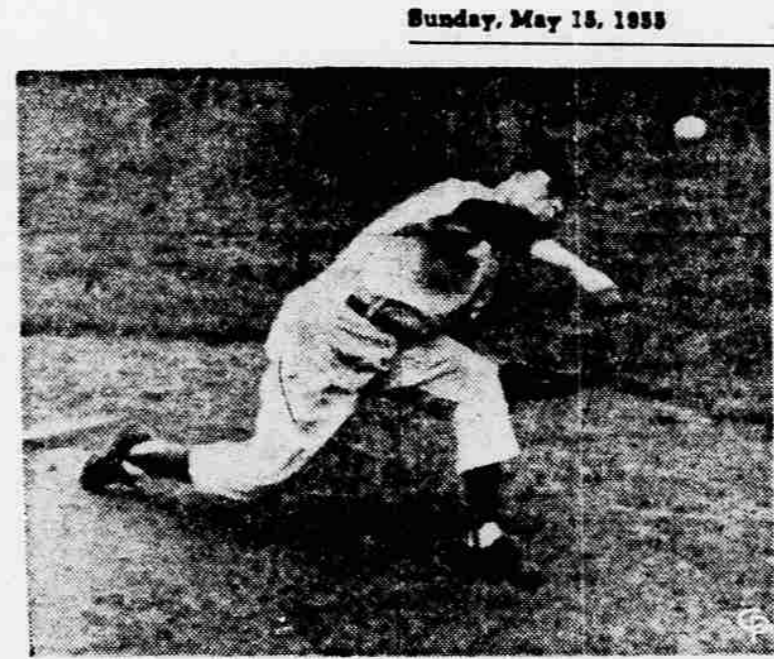

Quotations against him from various odds-makers ranged 10-1 to 20-1. It was 5-4 he wouldn't last five rounds, 2-1 he wouldn't go 10, and 5-1 he wouldn't finish the scheduled 15 rounds.

Nevertheless, co-promoter Jim Norris and his associates hoped for at least 30,000 fans and a gate of at least $380,000. "It all depends on the weather," Norris said.

Brown-haired, 26-year-old Cockell was a lowly underdog for his fight at the concrete and stucco oval where the football Forty-Niners play, because of his comparative record and because he had been unimpressive in training. His work did not enhance his title of British Empire champion.

Marciano at Peak
Meanwhile, 30-year-old Marciano of Brockton, Mass., appeared at the peak of his career during his sparring sessions at Calistoga, Calif., as he prepared for his fifth title defense. Unbeaten Rocky, the ring's first perfect-record heavy champ, seeks his 48th straight professional victory.

Rocky's entourage closed the Calistoga training headquarters Saturday after the champ stepped through a light two-round drill with Keene Simmons. They will move to San Francisco this morning where Marciano will go into seclusion until weigh-in time, Monday.

Wash. Crew Beats Cal.

Seattle, Wash. — (U.P.) — The University of Washington's smooth stroking crew outrowed California's varsity on Lake Washington Saturday to win the 2 1/2-mile rowing duel by six lengths.

Washington's victory in the varsity race came after a near tragedy was averted in the previous race when a Washington oarsman "caught a crab" and was flipped overboard. Bowman Doug Wetter's oar hit the water on the back stroke and tossed him into the drink a half-mile from the finish line.

The exhausted rower was having a hard time keeping his head above water and Ivar (Buzz) Girkeland, Washington's lightweight crew coach, dove to the rescue and kept Wetter afloat until he was picked up. The accident cost Washington's Junior varsity any chance of winning that race, and the Bears finished four and a half lengths in front.

Washington won the varsity event in 14:29, far off the course record set by Cal in 1949. California's time was 14:54.6.

Washington started off rowing 32 strokes per minute, then steadied down to 30 at the half-way mark, and kept the beat there until the final hundred yards before going back to 32. Cal looked rather sloppy at the start, but smothered out a half mile from the finish.

Lause Winner Over Tiger Jones

New York — (U.P.) — New York fight fans and living room experts through the nation today were promised a rematch "in about seven weeks" between middleweights Eduardo Lause of Argentina and Ralph (Tiger) Jones of Yonkers, N.Y., after one of the best bouts here in years.

Lause, hailed as the greatest puncher to come out of the Argentine since Luis Angel Firpo, battled to a unanimous 10-round decision over Jones Friday night in a nationally televised and broadcast bout at Madison Square Garden. Each weighed 157 1/2 pounds.

It was a "blood bath" from start to finish, with Lause providing the blood. The Latin required 30 stitches to close two separate cuts over his left eye.

Despite these wounds, Lause came on strong in the late rounds to gain the decision.

Await Tests In Johnson Inquiry

Philadelphia — (U.P.) — Police Inspector John F. Driscoll awaited the results of lie detector tests of Harold Johnson and two of his handlers before proceeding with an investigation of Johnson's second-round collapse in a bout with Julio Mederos.

The tests were administered to the 26-year-old Johnson, matchmaker Pete Moran, who has an interest in the fighter, and trainer Harold (Skinny) Davidson at the state police barracks here.

Driscoll said he would issue a statement on the tests "as soon as I can."

Johnson "blacked out" on his ring stool May 6 after six minutes of fighting against Mederos, whom he had defeated easily in a previous meeting.

Americans Practice In St. Andrews

St. Andrews, Scotland — (U.P.) — Dale Morey of Indianapolis shot a 73 on the St. Andrews course today for the best score of eight U. S. Walker Cup golfers who tried out the ancient links where the International matches against Britain will be played next weekend.

Following the practice rounds, each of the Americans praised the course, especially the condition of the turf. Of the nine-man U.S. team, only Captain Bill Campbell of Huntington, W. Va., ever had played St. Andrews before.

Bruce Cudd of Portland, Ore., the youngest player on the team at 21, was suffering from a stomach disorder and was the only American who did not work out. He was expected to be in shape for a practice round on Sunday, however.

Dick Yost of Portland, Ore., had the best practice round, with a 74, while Campbell and Billy Joe Patton of Morganton, N.C., each shot a 75. Lt. Joe Conrad of

Game Commission Sets Up Operational Guide

Portland — (U.P.) — The State Game Commission yesterday set up an operational guide for access to hunting and fishing areas.

The commission, at its meeting here, also approved three access projects. Two are on the Wilson river, at Siskeyville and Kansas Creek tracts. The third is on the Big Nestucca at the mouth of Three Rivers.

Future policy, the commission decided, would be to provide access if economically practical and funds were available where fisheries were located or planned, or where access to public areas was monopolized for private profit.

A spokesman said an analysis of the access problem on all fishing and hunting areas would be conducted on a statewide basis, in order that a future program of operation could be devised.

St. Antonio, Tex., went around in 77; Harvie Ward of San Francisco and Jim Jackson of Glendale, Mo., in 78 each, and Don Cherry of Wichita Falls, Tex., in 79.

Oregon State Posts Sixth

Moscow, Ida. — (U.P.) — Oregon State College's unbeaten Beavers won their sixth straight Northern Division baseball victory today as they trounced Idaho 13-5 for the Vandals' 11th straight loss.

Oregon State collected one run in the first, four in the third, one in the sixth and then exploded for seven runs in the final inning.

The big inning came on two walks and three straight hits, including a bases empty homer by Phil Jantze. Flip Kleffner hit a bases empty home run for Idaho in the seventh.
