Beavers Give Up Judnich; Obtain 7th New Player

Portland — (U.P.) — Sale of outfielder-first baseman Walt Judnich and acquisition of a new pitcher were announced here today.

By UNITED PRESS
There were no games in the Pacific Coast league last night. Play resumes tonight with Los Angeles at San Francisco, Oakland at Seattle and San Diego at Sacramento.

day by the Portland Beavers baseball club of the Pacific Coast league.

The 35-year-old Judnich was sold on waivers to the San Francisco Seals. He is scheduled to report to the Seals immediately.

The new Beaver hurler is Edward F. Burtch, on option from the Kansas City Athletics. Last year, with the Philadelphia A's, Burtch appeared in 46 games, all in relief, winning five and losing four.

Burtch is the seventh new player acquired by Portland in the past week. Earlier they picked up pitcher Bob Alexander, former Beaver, on option from Baltimore; outfielder Joe Taylor and catcher Al Robertson from Kansas City; outfielder Luis Marquez, a former Portland favorite, by purchase from Toledo; outfielder Carl Powis from San Antonio, and outfielder Clarence Maddern from Seattle.

Washington Ousts OSC From First

By UNITED PRESS

Washington's Huskies may not be going anywhere in the Northern Division baseball race but they've drummed up a nice business in wrecking winning streaks and may yet have a hand in deciding the 1955 title holder.

Earlier in the year, the Huskies put the stopper to a seven-game Oregon winning string. Yesterday, the Huskies turned back Oregon State college, 2-1, after the Beavers had notched six straight and seemed about to pull a Brooklyn Dodgers getaway in the five-team loop.

Score Twice
Washington tallied both its runs in the seventh to down the Beavers as Lou Roselli doubled to drive home Larry Watson, then stole third and came in when OSC catcher Dan Lovejoy dropped the ball on an attempted steal.

Jerry Exley singled and Chuck Fisk tripled him home for OSC's only tally in the second frame. Monte Geiger held the Beavers in check thereafter. The two teams meet again today.

Washington's victory moves Oregon back at the head of the parade with an 8-1 mark; OSC stands 6-1. Washington State 6-7 and Idaho 0-11.

Whitman Leads Coast Batters With .378 Mark

San Francisco — (U.P.) — Veteran Gene Bearden of San Francisco leads the Pacific Coast League pitchers with a 5-0 mark, and Dick Whitman, former Brooklyn Beavers, leads the hitters with a .378 mark, according to statistics released today.

Bearden, appearing in 10 games for the Seals, has pitched 54 innings, walked 20 and struck out 18. Bud Daley of Sacramento and Allen Gettel, Oakland, are tops in wins with six each.

George Piktuz of Los Angeles leads in strikeouts with 47. Whitman and Milt Smith and Earl Rapp of San Diego are tied for leadership in hits with 54 each; and Rapp tops two other departments, home runs with 12 and runs batted in with 52.

Wenatchee Trims Lewiston, 4 to 1

Jerry Zuvela of Wenatchee has been back in the Northwest league only a few days but he already has zeroed in on the pitching.

Zuvela did most of the damage last night as Wenatchee tripped Lewiston 4-1 in 10 innings in the loop's only game.

His triple with the bases loaded drove in three runs in the first inning of the overtime and lefty Gene Hayden of Wenatchee blanked Lewiston in the last of the 10th to receive credit for his second victory of the year.

Lewiston got its single run in the second when Bernie Bernadou's single chased Joe Riney home from third. Wenatchee tied it at 1-1 in the fourth on Herb Anderson's double which scored Lloyd Jenney.

Sport Parade

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer

New York — (U.P.) — A theater was the place to see Don Cockell make his unsuccessful bid for the heavyweight championship of the world.

He's the bell-like fat man from England who was technically knocked out by Rocky Marciano Monday night. It wasn't Oscar Fraley much of a fight, because both men have a chance in a case.

But a movie house — where I saw it on closed television — was the proper setting.

There it had all the elements demanded by the flickers: humor, drama, pathos and courage. All it lacked for a time-honored script was the scorned challenger coming out of nowhere to victory.

Fight fans crowded into 83 theaters in 59 cities east of Denver to see the fight held in San Francisco. Due to various "bugs" which will take a lot of ironing out, it began as a comedy. But it ended on a high note—a display of bulldog courage for which the British long have been famed.

It got off on a hilarious note when the commentator didn't know he won on the air. Fortunately, he is not a profane man. Yet, you heard him discussing arrangements with various persons and the picture was gray and yellow and fading and flickering like one of those early films. It reminded you of those replays of the Willard-Demsey bout and you expected to see the Keystone Kop at any moment.

The tempo was created when Cockell appeared, edging through the lack luster picture. It brought to mind those typical newsreel shots of a blank-faced survivor of an ordeal. They missed Rocky until he was in the ring.

Just before the bell the picture blanked out. Then, came various announcements advising there would be delays of one minute, three seconds and 15 seconds, reminding oldtimers of the "Perils of Pauline."

Then the fight finally got under way, and it still seemed unreal, Cockell as blubbery as a Japanese wrestler and reminiscent of a young Tony Galento.

It wasn't long despite the hazy view, before you knew definitely that he could not win the title from Marciano. By the fourth round there was a lot less bounce to all of those Cockell ounces. It settled to a mere question of time.

But then, you forgot the mediocre picture, in your admiration of a man much too brave for his ability.

It went into the ninth round and the last three were pitiful. Yet, through those last three rounds, your heart went out to the brave man from Britain and you winced under the rain of blows he absorbed. Cockell was sick at the end of the sixth round and a lot sicker in the seventh. In the eighth he drew roars of admiration even from a theater audience as somehow he weathered a total of 112 Marciano punches. And in the ninth, he was a man out on his feet, but somehow still on them.

As poor as was the image on the screen, it was a good theater offering. It had comedy, drama, pathos and courage. Lots of courage.

Willamette Wins Title With Twin Victories Over Lewis and Clark

Portland — (U.P.) — Willamette won the Northwest Conference baseball title yesterday by twice beating Lewis and Clark at Vaughn Street park here, 2-0 and 7-4.

Dave Gray hurled the shutout for Willamette in the first game, although he gave up seven hits to only four Bearcat blows off lefty Ray Hyde.

Linfield, last year's champ, took a pair from Pacific at McMinnville, 3-2 and 2-1 to move into a tie for second place with Whitman.

Miss Romack Advances To Second Round Play

Portrush, Northern Ireland — (U.P.) — Barbara Romack of Sacramento, Calif., faced Mrs. B. E. Garrett of England today in the second round of the British Women's Open tournament.

Miss Romack, U. S. amateur champion who saved her money for three years in order to compete in this tournament, passed her first round test yesterday with a 2 and 1 victory over Rita Easton of South Africa. Miss Romack is the only American in the field of 60.

Lineup Completed for Davis Cup Zone Play

The lineup was completed today for quarter-final action in the European zone Davis Cup tennis competition.

The four pairings will pit defending champion Sweden against France, Chile against Belgium, Italy against Denmark, and Great Britain against India.

Denmark struggled to a 3-2 victory over South Africa yesterday at Copenhagen, while Great Britain eliminated Austria, 4-1, at Vienna.

Italy, meanwhile, gained a decisive lead over West Germany.

Don Mueller Breaks Batting Streak Bat

Milwaukee — (U.P.) — The bat Don Mueller used in compiling his 24-game batting streak is broken — but the New York Giant rightfielder isn't the least bit disturbed.

Pitcher Sal Maglie broke the bat when he singled during his victory over the Chicago Cubs last Sunday. Maglie, who didn't even know he had Mueller's bat, apologized but Don brushed off the incident.

"I can get a whole carload of bats," he said, "but the Giants have only one Maglie."
