Cliff Hansen, Crater Lake Area council Boy Scout executive, provided the tents that the Medford high track team used Saturday at the District track meet in Ashland. And he was the main hand in setting them up according to Coach Bob Newland.

There's a couple of corrections to be made in the District 3 Class A track meet results as published Sunday. They came to light after receipt in the mail Monday of the complete official tabulation and after a check with Gene Allison, Ashland, the meet director. There is no change in the qualifiers, however.

In the high jump the top height was 5 feet 8 inches not 5-9. It was made by Medford's Bud Kastner as well as Ashland's Doyce Lemley. They divided first and second place points, getting nine each. After reaching 5-8, Lemley tried 5-9 three times and missed. Kastner, knowing he had second place and a state meet spot cinched, didn't try to go higher. Along the way to clearing Lemley had two misses in the event and Kastner three. The Medfordite conceded first place ribbon to Lemley but the points still were split.

In the pole vault, a recheck of records showed that Parker and Lewman, Grants Pass, Don Goyette, Crater, and Gale Friend, Eagle Point, all cleared 10 feet to tie for third place. Results as first recorded on the scoresheet listed Parker third, Goyette and Lewman tied for fourth and Friend sixth. It was a case of a difference in the number of misses on the part of the vaulters. Points, nevertheless should have been split.

These, then, if we have figured our fractions right, should be the correct team scores: Medford 171, Grants Pass 102 5/14, Ashland 57 6/7, Klamath Falls 51 5/7, Crater 21 27/28, Eagle Point 15 1/4, Henley 6 and Phoenix 1 6/7.

MORRIS SHINES
Jack Morris, one of the all-time great athletes at Medford high whose football No. 21 was retired before his graduation, continues to shine in spring athletic activities at University of Oregon. Last Saturday morning he was a cog, as a fullback, for the Whites in the final varsity spring football scrimmage. In the afternoon he went out and won the 100-yard dash and the 220-yard low hurdles for the Freshman team against Oregon State in :10 flat and :24.9. Both times were better than those turned in the UO-OSC varsity meet.

In the final grid affair he ran 18-yards for one touchdown and sparked at least one other TD drive.

CHAPPIE DOES WELL
Center Norm Chapman is another ex-Medfordite reported as going great guns in Duck football workouts. Like Morris he's a freshman this year but, of course, doesn't have Morris' background of four years of military service. Chappie also took part in the Frosh-Rooks track meet and won the javelin with a 168-foot 7-inch cast. He was second in the shot put.

OTHER MEDFORDITES
Several other ex-Medfordites figured in the Oregon-Oregon State competition. Ed Bingham was second in the javelin (209 feet). Jack Moad was second in the shot and Dave Newland was third in the pole vault for Oregon's varsity. Benson Foley won the pole vault (12 feet) for the OSC Rooks.

MEDFORD GRIDDERS
Don Jacobs and Don Spinas were Black Tornado alumni joining Morris and Chapman in the Duck grid drills. Jacobs is the only one of the four with varsity experience at Oregon. He was a varsity reserve guard this year. Jake has had a back ailment but reportedly wasn't bothered with it this spring. Spinas transferred from Oregon.

AMBITIONS THWARTED
Medford high tennis team's ambitions to be the club to end the Roseburg winning streak was thwarted in two ways. In the first place North Bend beat the Black Tornado to it. Then the Tornado didn't get a chance for its match at Roseburg because of rain. The Indians won 71 straight team matches over a period of six years before tumbling to the Bulldogs. Roseburg claims a national record.

Ray Coleman Skeit Victor

Ray Coleman and Martin Clogston took the major share of honors Sunday in a skeet tourney at Medford Gun club. Coleman won two events. Clogston was runner up to Coleman and copped the other event.

In the 100-target open class Coleman broke 95 and Clogston 94. Coleman shattered 48 and Clogston had 46 1/2 in 50-target 20-gauge shooting. Clogston cracked 44 and Ed Pease was next with 41 1/2 in the 410-gauge 50-target affair.

All three were added target handicap events. There were 15 shooters. There will be no shooting at the local club on Sunday, May 22. Medford men will attend a registered shoot at Klamath Falls or the Journal rivalry in Portland. Sunday, May 29, will be a practice day.

On Saturday, June 4, Medford Gun club will be host to the Elks lodge state shoot. The Mail Tribune shoot is on Sunday, June 5.

ROOKS TIP FROSH
Corvallis —(U.P.)— In a baseball game called in the sixth inning because of rain, the Oregon State Rooks downed the Oregon Frosh 6-3 here yesterday. Dave Gambee, six-foot-six basketball ace, pitched the route for the baby Beavers, giving up but six hits. The Frosh won the annual series, three game to one.

DeMarco Beats Libby Manzo
New York —(U.P.)— Former lightweight champion Paddy DeMarco was forced to alter his future battle plans today in the wake of his second straight victory over unranked Libby Manzo of New York.

The Brooklyn "billy goat" suffered a gashed chin in battling to a split 10-round decision over Manzo Monday night in a widely-televised bout at St. Nicholas Arena.

The cut required several stitches and caused DeMarco to postpone a fight with Bobby Woods, prominent California lightweight, which had been tentatively set for early next month at Spokane, Wash.

Manzo, who had dropped a similar split decision to DeMarco at St. Nick's seven weeks ago, also suffered facial damage in their grudge return match. The ex-choir singer turned boxer was cut above the right eye in the third round.

Talent Keeps District Title by 2-1 Victory

Talent high is District 5B baseball champion for the second successive year.

The Bulldogs came through with some alert base running and scored the winning run in the seventh inning yesterday to defeat Malin 2 to 1 for the mantle in a game played at Merrill.

Talent, the Jackson County B champ and defending state co-titlist, will next meet the District 6 winner for the right to enter the state tourney at Echo. Moro reportedly has the District 6 banner and the inter-district fracas may be on Thursday or Friday.

Against the Klamath county B champions yesterday, the Bulldogs made the most of their opportunities and combined a couple of walks with sacrifices and two of their three hits to earn the victory. In the seventh it was J. Lloyd Wood who dashed across the plate with the winning marker. Pitcher Don Coghill, helping win his own game with his bat, as well as his throwing, got the rap which enabled Wood to score.

Wood Walks
Wood got on base by a walk. George Zickefoose sacrificed him to second base. Bob Hoffman thumped a pop fly and Third Baseman Lavon Travis went back on the play, leaving his base open. After the catch Wood, alert for the chance, scooted to the unprotected bag. Coghill then clubbed ball to third. He beat out Travis' throw but the ball went through first for an error. Wood tallied on the play.

A walk to Hoffman put the first Talent run on base in the third inning. Coghill sacrificed Hoffman to second. Then, on a bunt by half-pint Freddie Helm and the play on him at first base Hoffman romped in to score. Helm got credit for a hit on the play, since the Malin second sacker hadn't quite got to first in covering on the bunt.

A three-base error aided Malin to score its lone marker in the fourth canto. Ray Johnson hit a long fly ball to right field. Helm went a long distance for it and got his hand on it but the ball popped out of his glove. Marvin Macken grounded out to shortstop and Johnson rambled across the plate.

Triple Threatens
Malin came up with a bid in the sixth inning when Roland Harman, the lead-off man, tripled. The next three men grounded out, however. A nifty backhand infield stop by Zickefoose at second saved the day and provided the third out of the frame.

Coghill, duplicating Hurler Bill Owens of Malin, yielded just three hits. The Talent tosser struck out eight batters and issued one walk. Owens fanned three and gave three bases on balls.

Ron Weinhold got the other safety for Talent. Johnson cracked a double and Don Raj-

Carlton, Stanlee Foes Being Sought

Mack Lillard was in Portland today where he is seeking opponents for Lord Carlton and Gene Stanlee for his wrestling card at Merrick's arena Saturday night.

Lillard telephoned today to say that he might use Logger Porter and Cyclone Johnnie Cobb against the two famous newcomers. He said he was to meet with Porter and Cobb today in an effort to arrange the matches.

Stanlee won the title of Mr. America in 1952 and is said to have done much for youth movements, being constantly in demand as a speaker before boys' clubs. Both Carlton and Stanlee are well known by television viewers of wrestling in this area, having participated many times in matches in Hollywood.

A third bout will be arranged, the promoter said. Tickets are on sale at the Rogue restaurant, 42 South Central ave.

CHALLENGE TROPHY
