Keeney Home Is Scene of Tea Monday

Almost 90 women attended a tea given Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. R. J. Keeney, Colver road, by Jackson County Republican Women. Mrs. Wayne Stine was chairman and pouring were Mrs. Myron Root and Mrs. Frank Bash.

An informal program was given by Mrs. E. A. Littrell and Mrs. Philip Lowry who served as secretaries for their husbands during the session of the legislature which closed recently. Mr. Littrell was a member of the House of Representatives, and Mr. Lowry is a State Senator.

Taking turns speaking the two women described the manner in which bills are introduced, processed and either passed or fail, of the work of the committees, committee hearings and other legislative procedures.

Mrs. Littrell commented on the fact that Jackson county residents seemed to write more letters to their representatives than did other constituents, and told of the heavy work load of some of the committees. Twenty-five per cent of all the bills introduced in the House went through the various committees on which Mr. Littrell served, she said.

Mrs. Lowry said there is much talk of the necessity of having an annual assembly, and that an interim committee will study the problem. She said that in spite of the length of the 1955 session, there was not enough time for the legislators to do all the work which "piled up" since the last session.

She expressed her "great disappointment" that the sales tax bill did not "at least get to the people." She charged that Democrats in the Senate "played politics" to a much greater extent than did Republicans. Mrs. Lowry further said that secretaries some times have a better perspective of the entire process than do the legislators themselves.

Both Mrs. Littrell and Mrs. Lowry spoke of the lobbyists, pointing out that many of them perform valuable services for the legislators and that the session "could not get along without the Third House," as the lobbyists are called.

The two women were introduced by Mrs. Lester Adams.

A committee assisted Mrs. Stine and Mrs. Keeney. The Keeney home was decorated with spring flowers, and an arrangement of blue iris centered the tea table.

Mrs. Moore Hamilton, retiring member of the school board of the Medford district, was commended for her service to the schools and the community. Vincent Bevis, retiring president, presided.

New officers of the teachers' association were announced. They are Lee Ragsdale, president; Ernst Ludwig, vice-president; Warren Wolfe, secretary and Mrs. Della Weber, treasurer.

Mrs. Ruth Hockesmith was dinner chairman, assisted by Mrs. Virginia Waite, Mrs. Maxine Smith and Mrs. Gertrude Holmes were in charge of table decorations.

Installation Held By Howard Unit Lesson Presented

Installation of officers was held at a meeting of Howard Extension unit in Harmony hall of the Friends' church May 12. Mrs. R. D. Kay, a former chairman of the unit and a member of the Jackson County Alumni council, conducted the ceremony.

The 1955-56 officers are Mrs. E. M. Gleason, chairman; Mrs. LeRoy Bailey, vice-chairman; Mrs. William H. Seibert Jr., secretary and Mrs. Albert Stocks, treasurer. The officers were presented tulip corsages made by Mrs. Warren Holbrook, unit member. Retiring officers are Mrs. R. E. Merritt, vice-chairman and Mrs. E. A. Walton, secretary, the chairman and treasurer having been reelected.

"Simple Home Repairs," the final lesson for this year's course, was presented by Mrs. Verl Walker and Mrs. Robert Ottomann, project leaders. They demonstrated sharpening kitchen knives, fixing leaky faucets, hanging pictures and mirrors, repairing window screens, repairing window shades and venetian blinds, and fixing drawers, which stick.

Mrs. Stocks announced that the unit had been well represented at the festival held recently in Central Point, with 20 members of Howard unit participating in the days' events. Mrs. Will Robertson conducted a safety questionnaire.

Harmony hall was decorated with bouquets of lavender and white lilacs and spirea, the work of the hostesses, Mrs. Paul Robertson and Mrs. E. A. Walton, who also supervised the luncheon served at noon.

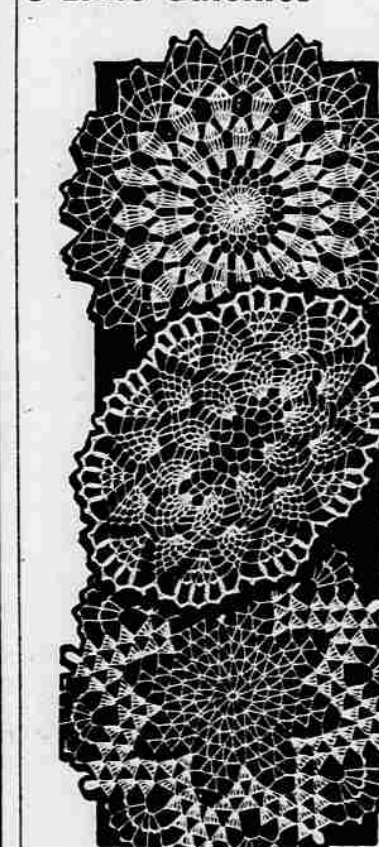

Members of the unit who had participated in the furniture refinishing workshops conducted by Mrs. J. S. Lydiard and Mrs. LeRoy Bailey, displayed sample pieces of their work.

Party Given

McLeod—Mrs. Glen Anderton invited a small group of guests to her home the afternoon of May 12 to honor Mrs. Carl Richardson on her birthday anniversary.

Attending were Mrs. Randal Axtell, Mrs. Harry Harding, Mrs. Roy Vaughn, Mrs. Robert Darrohn, Mrs. Richardson and the hostess.
