

Registration Urged for Girl Scouts

Girl Scouts were urged to register immediately for Low Echo, established camp at Lake o' Woods. Registration has been open since May 1, and recently was opened to non-Scouts and Scouts from out of the area.

It was stated at headquarters that girls who do not sign up at once may find registrations closed.

Registration blanks and information booklets have been distributed to troops, or may be obtained at the Scout office.

Camp will open July 10 with a one-week session recommended for Brownie fly-ups; July 17th is a two-week session, July 31 and August 7 are each one week periods. The camping sessions begin on Sundays at 2 p.m. and end on Saturdays at 2 p.m.

A registration fee of $5 per week for scouts, and $7.00 per week for non-area Scouts or non-Scouts is required at time of registration and is not refundable. The balance of all camp fees must be paid in the area office the week before the camp goes to camp, and no fees will be accepted at camp. The fee for area Scouts is $13.50 per week, for the others $15.50 per week.

A physical examination is required of all campers and staff three days before arrival at camp. Health certificates will be given at the office when campers register. Parents are required to fill in the health section.

Complete details regarding program, staff, food rules, mail, etc. is to be found in the folder which accompanies the registration blank.

A balanced program of swimming, hiking, campcrafts, outdoor cooking, singing and dancing, and campfire programs is planned.

The camp will be under the guidance of Miss Irene Knox, Washington, D.C. Miss Knox is a teacher of home economics in that city and has had about 16 years counselling experience in Girl Scout camps throughout the country. She will be assisted by a staff of experienced adults including a registered nurse and lifeguard who will be in camp all times.

All solid red and solid black buoys are numbered, the red being even numbers and the black bearing odd numbers.

MRS. ISABELLA J. JONES

Convention Calls Medford Members

Representing the National Federation, Mrs. Isabella J. Jones of Pittsburgh, Pa., national legislative chairman, will be consultant and principal speaker at the convention of the Oregon Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs in Salem May 20-22. Convention sessions will be conducted by Mrs. Natalie Burns, Canby, state president.

Mrs. Jones is deputy secretary of the Pennsylvania department of welfare. Formerly a newspaperwoman, she edits the department's publication, "The Welfare Reporter." In addition she supervises the bureau of children's services, the state council for the blind, and is part owner and managing editor of a weekly newspaper.

Mrs. Jones, mother of two children, is a past president of the Pittsburgh Business and Professional Women's club, immediate past president of District 3 of the Pennsylvania Federation, and is currently serving as state chairman of legislation in addition to her national post.

A large delegation of Medford BPWC members will attend the convention.

Ruch Film

Ruch — The Ruch Parent Teacher association will sponsor a regular Conger-Morris motion picture at the school cafeteria Friday, May 20, at 7:30 p.m. The picture is entitled "Abbott and Costello Go to Mars," and marks the last PTA function for the school term.

Open House at Public Library Marks Completion of Murals

Open house at Medford public library last Friday, which marked the completion of two large murals in the children's department, was attended by about 150 persons. Since that time, many others have visited the department to view the murals.

Miss Maccine Titus, artist and member of the library staff, designed, painted and completed the murals May 1st. Cinderella and her pumpkin coach covers part of the north wall. The coach is drawn by two prancing palomino ponies three feet high. The size of the complete mural is 20 feet long by 5 feet high.

The mural on the east wall covers the entire space above the bookcases, and is 33 feet long and 5 feet high. It depicts Snow White and the seven dwarfs. Both are in oils.

Refreshments were served during the open house. Miss Sharon Tyler, Miss Carolyn Clugston and Miss Cynthia Hunt poured punch. Decorations were on spring flowers in keeping with the theme and were arranged by Mrs. Nora Jane McKay, head of the junior department.

Mrs. Shirley Darby and Mrs. Ted Graham received guests at the door.

The murals excited much favorable comment and those interested in the library join with the staff in the reaction that the murals are a welcome and lasting contribution to the cultural interests of the city.

Music Festival To Be Thursday

Seven hundred and fifty children from the fourth, fifth and sixth grades of the elementary schools of Medford will present a music festival tomorrow night, Thursday, at the high school auditorium. Combined bands, orchestras, and choruses plus a fourth grade chorus and dancers from the fifth and sixth grades will present selections in keeping with the theme, "Let There Be Music."

The senior high school choir and a brass ensemble from the high school will be special featured groups.

The public is cordially invited to attend the festival which will begin at 7:30 p.m. No admission will be charged.

4 p.m. and free plants will be given away as long as the supply lasts, it is stated.

The public is cordially invited to attend. A flavorful substitute for vinegar in potato salad is the brine left from a jar of sweet pickles.

County Women Receive Honors At State Meet

Three Jackson county women were in the public health news last week. Mrs. Henry Padgham was named local representative of the Jackson county public health association to the board of directors of the Oregon Tuberculosis and Health Association and Mrs. Chester Guches was elected to the executive committee of the state organization.

Mrs. John Cotton, Ashland, a past president of the local group, was pictured in Portland newspapers with Dr. J. Arthur Meyers because her father-in-law, Dr. Charles Cotton, of Minnesota, was credited as having done more for control of communicable diseases and tuberculosis than any other one person in the United States.

At the meeting of the OTHA held last week, Marshall Dana, a well-known editor in the state, was awarded an emblem for 50 years of work in the interests of public health in Oregon. Presenting the award was Mrs. Saidie Orr Dunbar, organizer of many public health movements and for many years executive secretary of the Oregon Tuberculosis and Health association.

Walter R. May, editor of the Oregon Voter, was named new president of the state organization. He replaces F. Sidney Hansen, M.D., Portland health officer. Others elected were Wendell Van Loan, Ed.D., superintendent of schools at Corvallis, vice-president, Claire Langton, M.D., Portland, second vice-president, Mrs. Wilbur Falloon, Portland, secretary and L. W. Palo of the First National Bank, treasurer.
