

Presbyterian Leaders Pick Portland Pastor

Los Angeles — (U.P.) — Dr. Paul S. Wright, newly-elected moderator of the Presbyterian church, Saturday night envisioned a program for the coming year which stressed evangelism, leadership training and benevolent activities.

The 59-year-old pastor of the First Presbyterian church in Portland, Ore., said the nation and the world are on the crest of a great new religious enthusiasm.

"It is a major goal of the church to respond to this enthusiasm and fulfill the needs of the people," he said.

Succeeds Dr. Lloyd

Wright was elected moderator at the church's 167th annual general assembly to succeed Dr. Ralph Lloyd, president of Maryville College in Tennessee. Upsetting pre-election predictions, he acquired the highest honorary post in the church with 510 votes, compared to 393 for his only opponent.

He said he would press harder for non-segregation doctrines with emphasis on training in the church's colleges and hospitals. But the main phase of his program would be expansion through missions.

Wright said he seeks an intensive training program to provide lay leadership which he deems necessary to accommodate persons who are joining the church.

"We shall take advantage of this ground swell of religious feeling," he said.

Vote Down Women

One of the major questions before the general assembly was a proposal to allow women in the ministry. The assembly twice has approved it, but the churches turned down the action.

Wright said that as moderator of the church of more than 2,500,000 members he did not feel free to speak for or against the proposal to break with the past and ordain women ministers.

But he did say there is a "growing sentiment" toward opening to women the offices now held only by men. He noted that many women had distinguished themselves in the service of the church.

The assembly also considered merger of the Presbyterian church, the southern branch that broke off during the Civil war and the United Presbyterian church.

Wright foresaw no immediate action on the long-standing proposal. He said a committee would continue discussions with the two other communions and that "it is just a matter of time."

Scouts, Leaders Attend Session

Two men and two Explorer Scouts from southern Oregon yesterday attended a planning session in Eugene preparatory to a region-wide "Citizens Now" Explorer Scout meeting this summer.

Eugene Kooser, Medford, and Bob Manchel, Grants Pass, accompanied Gary Kliever and Jim Boyd, scouts from this area, to the meeting. They flew north in a plane loaned for the purpose by George Bros. Flying Service.

The "Citizens Now" program is an experimental project designed to get Explorer Scouts interested in their citizenship responsibilities earlier in life. If it turns out as planned in this region and two others where it is being tried, it will be expanded to nation-wide scope.

Bids To Be Invited

On Lower Rogue Span

Portland — (U.P.) — The U.S. Bureau of Public Roads announced Saturday it will invite bids for widening the approaches of the Rogue river bridge between Gold Beach and Wedderburn in Curry county.

Widening the approach spans was made necessary by relocation of Coast Highway 101 to the north. The route carries heavy logging traffic as well as tourist travel.

Multnomah Favors Continuing Levy

Portland — (U.P.) — Voters in Multnomah county Friday cast 56,215 votes in favor of continuing a county services tax levy and 12,044 votes in opposition to the levy. The vote will create no new taxes but will continue a present 4 1/2 mill levy.

Measure in the special election was supported in each of the 814 precincts in the county.

The vote will permit county commissioners to spend, $3,800,000 per year that was dependent on the levy. Vote was necessary because county commissioners last year sought to eliminate necessity for the levy by asking for a new tax base. The proposal was turned down by the voters.

Because loss of the income would have required severe curtailment of county services, commissioners agreed to go ahead with the special election which would cost an estimated $120,000.

Shipping Act Gets Backing by Official

Portland — (U.P.) — A prominent shipping official Friday night urged that the so-called 50-50 act be retained which required that half of all cargoes financed by the federal government be shipped in American flag vessels.

The plea was voiced by Raymond M. Hicks, president of the National Propeller Club, which met Friday night to celebrate National Maritime Day. Hicks is also a vice-president of the United States Lines of New York.

Hicks said propeller club officials should act against a movement to cripple the act. He urged that the present ratio be increased to 70 per cent.

Morgan Levels Blast At T. Lawson McCall

Portland, Ore. — (U.P.) — Howard Morgan, state Democratic chairman, Friday night sharply criticized the Republican party for the "direct subsidization" of Tom Lawson McCall with public funds when McCall was a candidate for Congress.

Morgan delivered a stinging rebuke to the Oregon GOP during a 30-minute talk over Portland radio station KEX.

The Democratic chairman said that McCall served as executive secretary for two interim committees of the "Republican legislature" while he was "engaged full-time in doing just one thing—running for Congress."

Morgan charged that McCall, who was defeated by Democrat Mrs. Edith Green last November, received $4,133.70 as secretary of the Public Employees Retirement System Interim Committee and the Public Assistance Interim Committee.

Charges Subsidization

"What this amounts to is the direct subsidization, from the public treasury, of a partisan Republican candidate in a public election . . ." Morgan said.

Morgan also flailed out at what he called the "disappointing" record of the Republican-dominated 1955 legislature. A "major failure," he said, was "the lack of any attempt by the 1955 Republican legislature to strengthen the corrupt practices act . . ."

He said the Republican party was "surprised and frightened" by Democratic strength and floundered for 115 days with no positive program of its own, while Democrats offered a constructive tax program based on ability to pay. This was the bill which passed in modified form, he said.

A tape recording of Morgan's talk will be broadcast over radio station KYJC at 7 p.m. Monday. The broadcast is sponsored by the Democratic party of Jackson county, according to county Democratic Chairman Robert Boyer.

Portland — (U.P.) — T. Lawson McCall, Portland radio news commentator, said Friday night there had never been anything secret about his work for two legislative interim committees during his 1954 political campaign.

McCall was attacked by State Democratic Chairman Howard Morgan, who accused him of helping finance his unsuccessful bid for congress with "public money." He said McCall continued to draw committee pay while actually campaigning full time. McCall denied there was anything wrong about his work for the committees, and said, "I was retained on the basis of merit by these two committees long before I had the faintest idea that I would be a candidate for public office."

Cadillac

One of the Great Steps of His Life!

When a man takes possession of his first Cadillac, many wonderful things happen to him.

First of all, of course, is the great "lift" he gets from the car itself. When he settles down behind the wheel, turns the ignition key and starts for home—well, it's a great life, and no fooling!

There's a wholly new feeling of security. Weight and size and strength are all about him. There's a new sense of mastery over the car. The response of the engine—the action of the brakes—the easy feel of the wheel . . . everything gives him a feeling of confidence he never knew in a motor car before.

And, of course, he can't help noting the quick glances of approval he gets from other motorists. Quite a change from yesterday, when he himself was stealing glances at the people in Cadillacs!

And so it goes on that first wonderful ride—with a new thrill every minute—until the car turns into the driveway. And then comes the greatest thrill of all—the wild and enthusiastic approval of that little group whose welfare is his constant inspiration.

Don't worry about dinner tonight—let's go for a ride!

This is only the beginning, of course. Every day and month and year adds to the satisfaction. There's the joy of the first cross-country trip; the pride from that first matching of gasoline and mileage; and the constant proof that the dream he dreamed is in almost everybody's heart.

Yes, when a man steps into his first Cadillac, he takes one of the great steps of his life.

And it's a much, much easier step to take than most people realize. The cost of a Cadillac is remarkably low. And once you own it . . . well, many contend that it is as economical, over the years, as any car you could buy.

Better come in and see us soon. We'll give you a ride that will thrill you—and some facts and figures that may amaze you. Why not make it today?
