

Retail Coffee Prices Decline To Lowest in Past Five Years

New York—(U.P.)—The price of coffee in retail stores dropped to its lowest price in five years today.

The latest price cuts brought some brands of coffee to as low as 75 cents a pound, a little more than half the price 10 months ago.

Price War Rumored

The new low price of coffee was due largely to the resistance of American housewives to last year's high prices, along with bumper Latin American coffee crops and rumors of a price war among producers.

The 75-cent price tag was announced by the A&P food stores, America's largest grocery chain, which will sell bagged coffee for from 75 to 81 cents a pound and vacuum packed coffee for 85 cents, effective today.

"The dip in prices will bring our coffee down to the lowest point in five years," an A&P spokesman said.

Wholesalers and retailers began dropping prices last week, marking the third major coffee price decline this year.

Total Drop 33 Cents

Cuts in February rated up to 12 cents and cuts made March 1 were from 10 to 16 cents a pound. Today's cuts of up to five cents a pound make the total drop so far this year 33 cents a pound.

The cuts caused concern among representatives of coffee growing countries. They have scheduled a meeting here for Thursday to attempt to establish a coffee stabilization pact.

EARLY BIRDS

Omaha, Neb. —(U.P.)— Mrs. C. Hollensteele, Omaha, told police that some energetic thieves had beaten her to the punch. She said she had planned to move a two-car garage from a lot she owns. But when she got there, the lot was bare. The thieves had dismantled it, leaving not a single stick.

RIOTERS GET THE SHORT END—Police riot squad, using gas masks and billy clubs, battle with a truck load of students who invaded the strikebound area where bus company pickets were rioting in Singapore. The students, 20 truckloads of them, came out second best as they were washed down with water jets by the waiting police, injured in the fighting and arrested.

IT'S A PSYCHOLOGICAL FACT: PLEASURE HELPS YOUR DISPOSITION

How's your disposition today?

FEEL LIKE ROARING? That's only human. Little annoyances pile up... you're cross and edgy — Grrr! That's why, psychology says, everyday pleasures are so important. For pleasure takes the edge off annoyances... helps your disposition. So, if you're a smoker, you should choose a cigarette that gives you the most pleasure. And that means Camels!

For more pure pleasure
...have a Camel

CAMELS are the choice of pleasure... and wisdom, too! It's wise to get all the pleasure there is when you smoke. Because everyday pleasures are important. And "all the pleasure there is" means CAMELS, famous for rich flavor and mildness! No wonder Camels agree with more people than any other cigarette! Remember — the cigarette that's stingy with flavor won't give you CAMELS' pure pleasure. So... have a CAMEL!

No other cigarette is so rich-tasting, yet so mild!
