Mrs. Court (Mable Clara) Hall, 85, long-time resident of Medford until about 10 years ago, died at her home in Palo Alto, Calif., last week. Her body has been brought to Medford for funeral services and burial.

Mrs. Hall was the mother of Seely V. Hall, one of Oregon's best-known early-day aviators, who is now an official in the transportation services division of United Air lines.

She was born in Oregon on Jan. 10, 1870. Besides her son, she is survived by two grandchildren, Seely Jr., Seward, Alaska, and Owen, now stationed with the Army at Ft. Carson, Colorado Springs, Colo.

Mrs. Hall's body was flown here from Palo Alto by a special United Air lines plane.

Husband Well Known

He operated a taxi service for a time between Medford and Grants Pass, drove one of the early-day automobiles on a mail route to Klamath Falls, and was noted for his trips to Crater lake early in the season each year. He was an ardent sportsman and a great valley booster.

Seely Hall started with UAL as station manager at the Medford airport more than 25 years ago, and since then has held many important posts for United Air lines in all parts of the west. He now lives in Menlo Park, Calif., has an office in Denver, and annually flies some 100,000 or more miles a year on his job.

Japan's air force was dismantled after World War II and for seven years the Allied occupation prohibited Japan from engaging in either civil or military aviation.

Vaccine Plentiful For Second Round

Portland — (U.P.) — Surplus vaccine from the first round of anti-polio shots in counties around the state will probably be used in those counties for second - round shots, according to Dr. Harold M. Erickson, state health officer.

Although the vaccine technically belongs to the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, the foundation is expected to okay its use for completion of the free two-shot series for Oregon's first and second graders. Dr. Erickson said he has only to wait for completed inoculation figures from participating counties before he orders vaccine from the national foundation for second-round shots.

Children from all counties except Curry in southern Oregon will face the needle again in from two to four weeks. In Curry, authorities went ahead with inoculations when the vaccine controversy was at its hottest. Now they have announced that second and final shots in the series have been completed with vaccine left over from the first shots.
