

Holiday Brings Trips, Visitors; Author Is Guest

Traditionally the first week end holiday of the year is when residents make trips to the beach, the mountains or their lake cabins, and Memorial day this year is no exception. It is also a time when families get together and friends visit here.

Mr. and Mrs. Darell Huson and daughter, Darelyn, 45 Lindley street, left Saturday for Lake o' Woods where they have a cabin. Mr. Huson made the trip in last week end to open the cabin and reported that the water in the lake is lower at this time of year than at any time he has seen it in many years. He remarked that the lake level now is as low as it was last fall when they closed their cabin for the winter.

Among those who left for the beach are Mr. and Mrs. Chester Gueches and their son, Richard, of Griffin Creek, who are spending the week end at Crescent City, Calif., on the coast.

Mrs. Pat Pierce is to arrive today from Portland to visit until Monday with Mrs. Dora Carnall, 106 South Holly street.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Krugger, former residents now of Portland are visiting with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Mel Gogney, 428 Berrydale ave. and their sons and families, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Krugger Jr., 525 Boardman street, and the Robert Kruggels at 510 Alice st. The visitors moved from Medford last fall.

Mrs. Grace Coleman with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Smith of San Jose, Calif., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Coleman, 1115 East 11th st., and Mr. and Mrs. Harry DeJarnett, Pioneer road, Phoenix. They will be here through the holiday.

Mrs. Smith recently has had published her first book, entitled, "Wind 'til Sundown," a story about 20th century pioneering in South Dakota. She writes under the name of Verna Moxley.

College to Show Swedish Paintings

Ashland—An exhibition entitled "Swedish Children's Paintings" will be on view at the Southern Oregon college library through June 25. Librarian Myrtle Funkhouser has announced. The exhibit is one circulated by the Smithsonian institution traveling exhibition service and is sponsored by the Swedish Embassy.

Every summer the school children of Sweden participate in a picture contest organized by a national magazine of Sweden. The results of the contest are then presented at the National Museum in Stockholm and a selected exhibition goes on a tour of Swedish museums following that showing. The present traveling exhibit of 60 paintings by children aged 7-14 is an outgrowth of that exhibition.
