Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph E. Kunkel, married May 23, 1905, in Iowa, observed their golden wedding anniversary recently with a dinner at the home of their son, Owen Kunkel. The honored couple lives at 201 Willamette avenue in Medford.

Rudolph Kunkels Observe Golden Wedding Anniversary

The 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph E. Kunkel was observed Monday evening, May 23, at a dinner at the home of a son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Owen Kunkel, 28 Highland drive.

The Kunkels live at 201 Willamette avenue. They were married May 23, 1905 at the home of her parents in Minden, Ia. They moved to Medford in 1937 and Mr. Kunkel has been engaged in the building contracting business throughout his life and is still associated with his son in the business.

Mrs. Kunkel until the last two years has been active in St. Peters Lutheran church work.

The couple has four children.

Owen A. Kunkel, in whose home the dinner was held; Mrs. Albert Tounsignant of Medford; Mrs. Burl Thomas of Yakima, Wash., and Mrs. Harry Bamesburger of Valparaiso, Ind. They also have seven grandchildren.

At the dinner Monday evening in addition to the honored couple and the hosts were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Peterson and son Rodney, of Underwood, Ia.; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Tounsignant, and son David, and the hosts' children, Leilani and Deanna.

Couple Visits Sorrento, Capri; Like Farms Better Than Cities

(This is the fourth letter received by the Mail Tribune from Mr. and Mrs. Melvin A. Krows, 1215 East Main street, during a trip to Europe. The following letter was written at Nice, France.)

Since leaving Rome we took the train to Naples, "the slum of Italy," a city of 1,400,000 of which 60 per cent are unemployed due to the bombing and a deterioration (human) which has been going on for a century, we are told. Once it was the main sea port of Italy, now only a very few vessels touch here.

City Repulsive
Thousands of beggars and sellers of junky stuff swarm around tourists like flies. The city is dirty and repulsive after centuries of art and culture. From Naples we traveled by bus stopping at Pompeii where a great area of the city has been excavated showing it as it was 2,000 years ago with the exception of the roofs which were in most cases of wooden beams. Baths, bake ovens, fountains, etc.

Streets paved and water to homes and fountains, by lead pipes with frozen faucets and stop-cocks. Chariot and cart wheels were grooves in the pavements; narrow stone walks worn several inches deep by pedestrians. Fountains worn deeply by persons placing their hands to lean over to drink. The volcanic deposit is from 16 to 25 feet.

Famed Sorrento
Continued to Sorrento famed the world over, for what reason we do not know. The city is dirty and the best hotels have as many as six parlors on main floor with paintings and statuary, oriental rugs, venetian chandeliers and elevators for two persons; plumbing stopped up, dark halls and rooms that smell bad and this is in hotels charging as much as $16 per room per day. Capri was a blessed relief, it is about 16 miles off the coast on a small island with mountains up to 4,000 feet. It is clean and beautiful, flowers everywhere, and fruit. The hotels, even though at least 100 years old, were pleasant and well operated and the food excellent. The town rests in a saddle between the mountains and is reached by a funicular tram.

Blue Grotto
The Blue Grotto was really something. Our boat had 200 passengers and it tied up against a vertical cliff 1,000 feet high and the small row boats came along side and each took three passengers. They lay on their backs, in the boat and entered the grotto (about 200 feet away) through a hole four feet high and eight feet wide. About 30 feet in, it opens to a cave 100 feet wide and 20 feet high. The light enters through the water, something like a swimming pool lighted from below.

Returning to Naples we took the train to Nice, France.

Good Farming
The farms along west coast of Italy are wonderful, well farmed and irrigated. Grain, hay, grapes, oranges and fine truck gardens. Over night at Pisa, once a city that controlled Turkey, Arabia, etc., etc., now a city of 83,000 and of not much importance.

Passed through Carrara with its wonderful marble quarries. From Pisa to Nice the railroad follows closely the coast of the Mediterranean sea with thousands of beach resorts and hotels. The coast is rugged and the few beaches are gravelly. The season is not "on" yet. We can think of lots of places where we would rather vacation.

Ratty Hotels
Nice is another big city with ratty hotels, fancy stores, etc. Fancy ladies on the streets lead poodles and carry unwrapped vegetables and bread, etc. Most live in dark apartments with five to six floor walkups. The store fronts and trees smell and look like dirty barnyards, the sweet little doggies' places of convenience.

Prices in France about 100 per cent over other continental cities.

Tonight to Monte Carlo.

School Friends
Guests on Friday At Patio Party

Jacksonville — Mr. and Mrs. Ray Offord Jr. and Mrs. Offord's sister, Mrs. Virgil Swanson, entertained Friday evening at a patio party for students from the fifth through ninth grades at Jacksonville schools. The event was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Offord on Old Stage road.

Assisting also were the Offord's three sons, Lynn, Gene and Steven, students.

Refreshments were served from the patio fireplace and dancing was a diversion of the evening. About 85 students attended.

Dead line for Sunday Classified is at noon, Saturday.

Rose Society Show Set Friday at Gymnasium

Every member of Medford Rose society has been assigned to committee work for the first annual rose show of the society, to be held Friday, June 3, in the boys' gymnasium of Medford Junior High school. Dr. and Mrs. L. G. Gentner are co-chairmen in charge of the show, and they urge every rose grower to enter blossoms.

Entries may be made from 7:30 to 10 a.m., and the show will be open from 1 to 9 p.m. Out-of-state judges have been assigned by the American Rose society and Harold Frye, representing the mayor's office, will make the awards at 8 p.m.

A large committee will assist growers with their entries. On this committee are Mrs. Clarence Wilson, Mrs. Charles Hobbs, Mrs. Sam Harrison, Mrs. Ernest Rippon, Mrs. Jack Crump, Mrs. George Hartley, Mrs. Thomas W. Carter, Mrs. L. M. Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. Randal Axtell, Mrs. R. W. Smith, Mrs. Elfa Long, Glen Brown and E. A. Carter.

Working on identification of roses will be Mrs. Kenneth Farley, Miss Florence Bain and Mrs. George S. Jennings. On the secretarial staff will be Mrs. Wynne P. Grier, Mrs. D. M. Cleveland, Mrs. Howard Walter, Mrs. Burton Simmons, Mrs. Lola Russell and Mrs. Gaston Floux.

Placement of arrangements will be in charge of Mrs. Ward Spatz, Mrs. Robert Corbin, Mrs. Vaughn Quackenbush and Mrs. Arnold Bohnert. An education will be set up for the afternoon and evening hours and in charge of this will be Mrs. Farley and Miss Bain.

Mrs. Charles Koyle is hostess chairman and working with her are Mrs. Hamilton and Mrs. R. W. Smith. Miss Claire Hanley is chairman of an old-fashioned rose display, and tea chairman is Mrs. Walter Peabody, assisted by Mrs. Grier. Mr. and Mrs. Axtell will arrange a "wishing well" and Mrs. George Renaker is sign chairman.

The Gentners point out that there will be a table for unnamed roses. These will not be entered for competition, but the society will try to help identify these roses.

The society invites everyone having species or old-fashioned roses to display them at the show.

Since for many this will be their first time to enter a rose show, a "rehearsal" is set for

Federated Club Has Iris Show

Eagle Point—The iris show held by the Eagle Point Federated Garden club May 22 at the Eagle Point Grange hall was well attended. The club wishes to extend its thanks to all those who helped to make it a success. Arrangements from neighboring clubs, Phoenix, Medford, and Central Point added to the day and were appreciated by the club.

Of particular interest to iris fans was the specimen display from Katherine's gardens of Medford. Many varieties were also shown by Ray Dennis of Central Point and Mrs. Lawrence Messal, Eagle Point.

The Rogue Valley Herb society showed herbs fresh from the garden and also articles and favors made of dried herbs and spices.

Entertainment was furnished by Colleen Hope's dancing students, most of whom were Eagle Point students. A group studying under Eve Prentice played several accordion selections.

Refreshments were served during the afternoon. The next regular meeting of Eagle Point Federated Garden club will be a picnic at Dahack's gardens June 1, at 11 a.m. Members attending are to take their own table service. The new officers will be installed.

Teacher Speaks On Pilot School

The last regular meeting until the fall season for Alpha Rho chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, was held May 23 at the home of Mrs. James Dunlevy, 408 Ardmore avenue. Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Dunlevy, Mrs. Harold Skinner and Mrs. John Lamberty.

Karl Hayes, from the Pilot School for Exceptional Children at Phoenix, Ore., was the guest speaker. He illustrated his talk with slides showing the artistic ability of the children enrolled in the school.

Another guest was Mrs. Andrew Bulkley, who was a member of a Beta Sigma Phi chapter in Greenville, S. C.

A report on the regional conference in Vancouver, British Columbia, was given by Mrs. Larry Allen, who attended as a delegate from Alpha Rho chapter.

The next meeting of the chapter will be in September.

Rosalind Russell, star of "Wonderful Town," with her son, Lance

"Ever stood next to your youngster in church?"

If you have, then surely you've felt that surge of warm feeling spread over you... as I have.

"Maybe it's his wide-eyed, absorbed expression... perhaps it's the happy feeling I get just at being in church with Lance and my husband, Fred—and knowing we've already introduced our son to God. As we attend church each week with Lance, we see his heart grow bigger with the qualities of love, friendship and tolerance. Because Faith has made our lives so much richer we want Lance to grow up in its wisdom."
