

Three Milers Break Four Minute Mark In World's Most Amazing Race

Tabori Wins In 3:59.0; Tie For 2nd

London — (U.P.) — Laszlo Tabori, a 24-year-old former Hungarian Army officer, and two Britons all broke the four-minute barrier in the most amazing mile race ever run.

Tabori was clocked in 3:59.0—one second slower than the world record—as he led home Chris Chataway and Brian Hewson of England over a rain-softened track at White City Stadium. Chataway and Hewson both were clocked in 3:59.8.

Broken by Bannister
As a result, five of the world's mile kings now have broken the four-minute barrier, a feat first performed by Roger Bannister in 3:59.4 at Oxford slightly more than one year ago. Bannister, now a doctor, was on hand today, catching his close companion Chataway in his arms after the runner staggered across the finish line.

The world record for the mile is the 3:58.0 run by John Landy of Australia at Turku, Finland, June 21, 1954. The only other time the four-minute mile has been broken was by both Bannister and Landy in the British Empire games at Vancouver, Canada last Aug. 7. On that occasion, Bannister was clocked in 3:58.8 and Landy in 3:59.6. Not Considered Among Best
Apart from the fact that the track was softened by a heavy overnight rain, the latest "miracle mile" astounded track observers in that the three runners, while rated better-than-average, nevertheless were not considered among the world's best prospects for breaking the four-minute barrier.

Tabori ranks second as a miler in his own country to Sandor Tharos, who originally was scheduled to run in this race but withdrew after becoming air-sick in the plane trip from Budapest the night before. The 24-year-old Chataway gained fame as a pacer for the record feats of both Bannister and Landy. Hewson, a 22-year-old tailor's cutter who is now in the army, was tabbed a few years away from peak performance. He is the youngest runner ever to break the four-minute mark.

John Disley, another Briton, finished fourth in 4:09.0—a time which once was considered good for the distance.

Saturday's race was part of an international meet involving British, Hungarian and German runners.

Gordon of Oxford jumped into the lead and set a pace of just over two minutes for the first half mile.

Chataway and Hewson flashed across the finish line in such a nip-tuck finish that their times were announced as the same.

But Chataway officially was awarded second place and Hewson was placed third.

The incredible triple-breaking of the four-minute barrier was seen by millions of Britons on television sets.

Zauchin Socks Three Homers; Bats in 10 Runs

By CARL LUNDQUIST
United Press Sports Writer
A 24-year-old kid from the sand lots of Detroit, Norbert Henry Zauchin, made Red Sox fans forget momentarily that there ever was a ball player named Ted Williams.

Zauchin's near-record performance of three home runs, a double and 10 runs driven in Friday night in a 16-0 triumph over Washington was enough to keep the folks in Boston happy. Zauchin, a six-foot, 4½ inch first baseman, started out Friday night with a two-run homer in the first inning off Bob Porterfield. In the second inning he drilled a bases-loaded homer off lefty Dean Stone. He slammed a double off the left field wall to bring in one run in the fourth and homered with two on in the fifth.

His total of 10 runs batted in was one under the American league mark of 11 held by Rudy York of the Red Sox and Tony Lazzeri of the Yankees. Zauchin was hitting only .214 with just five runs driven in for the year before he went on his spree.

Echo Blasts Talent In State B Baseball Play-Off; Glide Wins

Echo — Echo and Glide posted triumphs Friday night to reach the Saturday finals in the Oregon Class B baseball championship play-offs here.

Echo blasted Talent High school's Bulldogs 12 to 2 while Glide got by the Gaston Greyhounds 7 to 5. The loss put Talent and Gaston into consolation competition for third place. Talent was defending state co-champion.

The host team rolled up five runs in the fourth inning to bust

Tribe Places 4 Players on Waiver List

By MILTON RICHMAN
New York (U.P.) — The faltering Cleveland Indians have placed four of their biggest names, including Bob Feller, on the latest waiver list, it was learned Saturday from a top baseball source.

The other three Cleveland players on the list were first baseman Vic Wertz, pitcher Art Houtteman and outfielder Ralph Kiner.

Even though American league officials are aware there is no limit to the number of times a player may be placed on and then withdrawn from a single-league waiver list, some of them viewed the move as an attempt on the Indian's part to deal one of the four to a National league club.

Of the four men the Indians asked waivers on, Houtteman has the best record and is drawing the lowest salary. The 27-year-old right-hander, receiving an estimated $20,000, has won four games and lost one, all decisions but one coming in relief.

Feller's Record 1-1
Feller, whose salary has dwindled to approximately $25,000 has a 1-1 record, his only victory being a one-hitter against the Red Sox in the first game of a doubleheader, May 1.

Kiner, obtained from the Chicago Cubs, is batting less than .250 while receiving a $50,000 salary, and Wertz, Cleveland's batting hero in the 1954 World Series against the Giants, is making $25,000 and hitting at the same clip as Kiner.

The waiver list upon which the four appear does not expire until June 15.

If no American league club claims any of the four by that time, the Indians are then free to try to deal them to a National league club. On the other hand, if some American league club does put in a claim for either of them, the Indians are notified by the American league office and have 48 hours to withdraw the name from the single-league list.

100-Mile-an-Hour Club Elects Lee Wallard

Indianapolis, Ind. — (U.P.) — Lee Wallard, Tampa, Fla., race driver, is the new president of the 100-Mile-An-Hour Club, billed as "the world's most exclusive club."

The group is composed of drivers who have gone the full 500 miles in the Indianapolis Memorial Day race without relief at speeds exceeding 100 miles an hour.

Wallard, winner of the "500" in 1951, was elected Friday night at the annual "100-Mile-An-Hour dinner."

Three new members—all Californians—were initiated. They are Cal Niday, Don Freeland and Freddie Agabashian.

The special award given annually to the person chosen for the outstanding contribution to auto racing went to Seth Klein, who served as starter for the Indianapolis classic from 1925 through 1953. Klein now lives in Florida.

Southern Cal Wins PCC Track And Field Meet

Dellinger Runs Mile In 4:09

Eugene — (U.P.) — Southern California's Trojans ran away with their 15th consecutive Pacific Coast Conference track and field championships today but the mighty band from Troy had to share the spotlight with two distance runners from Oregon.

Bill Dellinger, Oregon's NCAA mile champion, kicked off his specialty in 4:09, the fastest mile in the nation this year by a collegian. Only a few hours earlier in the IC4-A championships at Randall's Island, N. Y., Alva Grim of Maryland ran the mile in 4:09.9 which until Dellinger's feat had been the fastest time by a varsity athlete. Dellinger's mark also was a new PCC record.

Another Oregon distance star, Ken Reiser, set a new conference record in the two mile in 9:02.6, fastest collegiate time in the country this season.

Only other meet record broken was in the high jump where Southern Cal's fabulous one-shoed Ernie Shelton leaped 6 feet, 10 inches, a height he has equaled in nearly every meet he has entered this year.

5 Marks Tumble In NAIA Regional
Renton — (U.P.) — Jerry Swan of Western Washington college turned in a 9:24.9 clocking in the two-mile run here last night to come within one-tenth of a second of the NAIA mark at the state's small college track meet.

Swan's performance wiped his mark of 9:45.8 set last year off the books and earned him the nod as the outstanding performer in the meet.

Lyle Balderson, Eastern Washington, Ivan Phillips, Whitworth, Ron Walters, Gonzaga, and Ken Swailwell, Western Washington, also shattered meet records.

9.8 In Century
Balderson churned the 100-yard dash in 9.8 seconds to erase the old mark of 10 seconds flat set in 1954 by alt Hill of Seattle Pacific college.

Walters high jumped 6 feet, 3 3/8 inches to break the 6 feet, 3 3/4 inches mark established in 1953 by Ron Chadwick of Eastern.

Phillips turned in a 1:54.5 effort in the 880 to rub out the 1:55.4 standard set last year by Ben Morning of Seattle Pacific college.

Swailwell tossed the discus 159 feet, 10 5/8 inches, topping his 1954 mark of 153 feet, 4 1/2 inches.

Winners in yesterday's meet go to the NAIA finals in Abilene, Tex., June 3-4.

Golliday Equals Century Mark

Columbus, O. — (U.P.) — Northwestern's Jim Golliday, aided by a wind reported at 3.7 miles per hour, tied the world record of 9.3 for the 100-yard dash yesterday for the second time in two weeks.

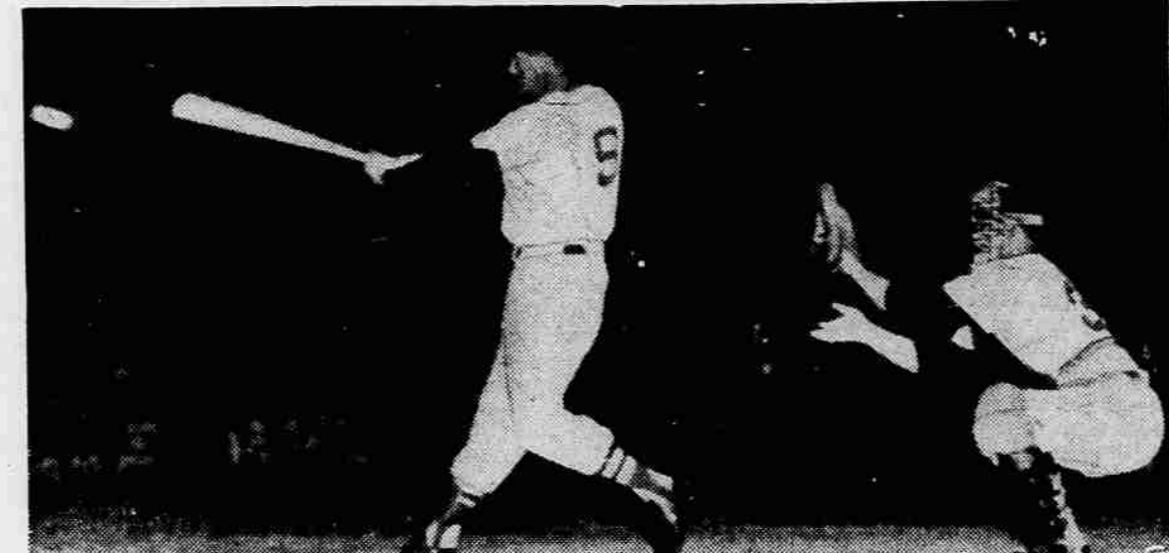

Golliday's clocking came in the first heat of the semi-finals of the event in the 55th annual Big Ten outdoor track championship.

It was nearly equalled in the next semi-final by Harry Nash of Minnesota, who was timed at 9.5 with a 6.3 mph wind. There was no chance, however, that Golliday's time would be submitted for recognition as equaling the world record. Yesterday lily beat Jesse Owen's :21.1 time for the 220 yard dash in trial heats with a time of :20.9, but conference coaches threw out the clocking due to winds over 5 mph.

There was a question whether the wind velocities announced at the meet were accurate. Weather Bureau officials here said the velocity was varying between 20 and 25 mph and Big Ten coaches also were skeptical that the velocity was as low as 5 or 6 mph.

Ray Famechon Retains Featherweight Mantle

Dublin, Ireland — (U.P.) — Ray Famechon of France retained his European featherweight title Friday night by pouncing out an unpopular 15-round decision over Billy Kelly of Belfast. Famechon, who scaled 125 pounds to Kelly's 125½, won out on superior skill.

RETURNING TO BASEBALL. Ted Williams, famous Red Sox slugger, homers twice in hitting contest prior to veterans fund game in Boston with New York Giants. Owen, Red Sox, is catcher as Williams belts out long one. Teammate Norm Zauchin won contest with three. (International)

Coaches List Price, Smith On All-Star

Portland — (U.P.) — Kelly Hoy of Oregon College of Education and Arvey Nelson of Oregon Tech were selected today as pitchers on the all Oregon Collegiate conference baseball team, named by OCC coaches.

Bob Smith of Southern Oregon was named as catcher. Other members of the first team included Gene Owens, OCE, first base; Ritchie Price, SOCE, second base; Walt Ponsler, OTI, third base; Dick Shick, Portland State, third base; and Larry Buss, OCE; Willie Stinson, OTI, and Jack Cochran, Eastern Oregon, outfielders.

Second team members included Wally Harding, PSC, catcher; Ted Schadewitz, EOCE; and Keith Johnson, SOCE, pitchers; Ned Landers, SOCE, first base; Ron McKichan, OCE, second base; Merle Steward, PSC, third base; Cal Smith, OTI, shortstop; and Jerry Bristow, EOCE; Ray Anderson, Portland State, and Jack McRae, OCE, outfielders.

Giants Make Triple Play

New York — (U.P.) — The New York Giants executed the second triple play of the 1955 season Saturday in the fourth inning of their game against the Brooklyn Dodgers, thanks to a brilliant back-handed catch by second baseman Davey Williams.

With Gil Hodges on second and Carl Furillo on first, Jackie Robinson hit what appeared to be a Texas League single to short right - center. Williams raced back and caught the ball, then whirled and threw to shortstop Alvin Dark who stepped on second base doubling Hodges and then relayed to first baseman Whitey Lockman before Furillo could return to the bag.

The Pittsburgh Pirates engineered the season's first triple play on May 5.

Cards Name Walker; Eddie Stanky Fired

St. Louis, Mo. — (U.P.) — Eddie Stanky was fired Saturday as manager of the fourth-place St. Louis Cardinals and Harry (The Hat) Walker, onetime National League batting camp and manager of the Rochester Red Wings since 1952, was named to replace him.

The announcement was made by Cardinal President August A. Busch at a press conference at Grant's Farm, his plush country estate, attended by Stanky, ended Stanky's turbulent tenure with the club in his fourth year although his contract still has another year to run.

Walker, a garrulous player whose nickname originated from his cap-tugging, game delaying tactics at the plate, came to the Cardinals after three successful seasons with the Cardinals' farm club. The Red Wings won the Junior World Series in 1952, finished first in the International League standings in 1953 but lost the playoffs and wound up third last year. The club is now in third place.

The 37-year-old Walker, a brother of Cardinal Coach Dixie Walker, began his baseball career with Cardinals organization in 1937 on the Montgomery, Ala., farm club. He got up to the parent club in 1940 but played only seven games before he was sent back to the minors. He returned to the Cardinals in 1941 and stayed until 1947 when he was traded to the Philadelphia Phillies in mid-season.

That year he won the league's batting championship with a .363 average, the only man ever to do it while playing with two clubs in the same season.

He played briefly with the Chicago Cubs and the Cincinnati Redlegs before returning to the Cards in a trade in 1949. He played half the 1950 season and then was sent to manage the old Columbus, Ohio, Red Birds for the 1951 season in which Columbus finished in last place.

Stanky's dismissal climaxed a stormy four years in St. Louis for the peppery little manager. Never popular with the fans, he was forced to publicly apologize for his tactics on the field after the Cardinals forfeited a game last year because of his vow to forsake the tactics that had earned him the nickname, the brat, in his days as a player with the New York Giants.

Stanky blamed his failure to head a winning club on his young players. And the players reportedly blamed their failure on Stanky.

Carmelo Costa Lopsided Victor

New York — (U.P.) — Speedy young Carmelo Costa of Brooklyn was named featherweight challenger today by the International Boxing club because of his lopsided victory over Lulu Perez Friday night.

The stocky, brown-haired son of a city water department caretaker is practically certain to fight champion Sandy Saddler for the 126-pound crown at Madison Square Garden in late July or early August.

Harry Markson, managing director of IBC, said, "We want the match. So do the fighters and their managers. Now, it's a matter of terms and a date."

26th Victory
Costa, 21, registered his 26th victory in 32 professional bouts Friday night on a unanimous 10-round decision over black-haired Perez of Brooklyn in the TV-radio fight before 2,000 at the garden.

Carmelo, who combined lightning footwork with a bob-weaver attack, was not only faster, smarter and more accurate than Lulu, but he actually out-punched him. Perez was supposed to be more explosive than Costa, who has garnered but three knockouts in his career.

Boat Racers Of 7 Cities In Regatta

Outboard motorboat racers have registered already from at least seven communities in southern Oregon and northern California for the annual regatta on Sunday, June 5, at Emigrant lake south of Ashland.

A representative group from Medford, Coos Bay, Crescent City, Calif., Grants Pass, Yreka, Calif., Klamath Falls and Roseburg have signed up, according to Fred Daniels, chairman of the race committee for the Medford Junior Chamber of Commerce. The Jaycees and the local Western Speedboat association are co-sponsors of the races.

Fishing boat and stock outboard races are scheduled with fishermen to have their romps starting at 11 a.m. and regular racing hulls to begin their laps at 1 p.m. Racing hull classes will be A, B and D hydro, B and D utility runabouts and D service runabouts.

Money prizes of $25, $15 and $10 along with trophies will go to the top three in each class.

Interested racers are to have their entries in to Mrs. Bill Barnes, 604 Whitman pl., by Saturday, June 4. She is secretary of the speedboat association.

There will be separate admission prices for children and adults.

The junior chamber will operate concessions at the lake.
