

Free Vaccinations For All Children Seen by Sen. Smith

Washington — (U.P.) — Sen. H. Alexander Smith, ranking Republican member of the Senate Labor committee, thinks Congress will provide Salk vaccine shots free to all children.

That would mean ditching President Eisenhower's request for $28,000,000 to provide free vaccine shots only for the children unable to pay for them.

Asked whether children might die of polio before they could be given a "means test" to see if they could afford to pay for the shots, Smith replied:

"We're not going to have a means test. We're going to give it to every child of the age prescribed. We're not going to determine whether they can pay or not. All children probably will get it free before we get through with it."

Standby Controls

Sen. Lister Hill (D-Ala.), chairman of the Senate Labor committee, has introduced a bill to set up standby controls and to give the vaccine free to all children.

Hill failed twice last week in efforts to win committee approval of his bill when the necessary majority failed to appear. Only one Republican attended each meeting.

Hill has called another meeting for Tuesday. Although Smith indicated he favors free shots to all children, he did not imply that Republicans favor the Hill measure.

Dionne Girls Sign Papers To Divide $1,000,000 Trust

Callander, Ont. — (U.P.) — The four surviving members of the Dionne quintuplets have signed papers to split up their $1,000,000 trust fund, it was disclosed today. They also have made their wills.

The girls soon will apply to the Supreme Court of Ontario for possession of the money the court has held in trust for them. They signed the papers Saturday at their 21st birthday celebration.

Olivia Dionne, the girls' father, said the "important business" took up most of the time at a Dionne family reunion.

Cecile and Yvonne, student nurses at Notre Dame de l'Esperance Hospital, and Annette, a piano student at the College of Marguerite-Bourgeois, drove back to Montreal yesterday. Marie stayed home to help her mother run the house.

The reunion was saddened by the absence of the fifth quintuplet, Emilie, who died last August.

It was not disclosed what will become of Emilie's share of the trust fund which was built up over the years from proceeds of the quint's movie contracts, advertising endorsements and gifts.

Dionne said the girls had not previously discussed with the family what they intended to do with their fortunes. It was believed they would reinvest in gilt edged securities.

Ford, Union Closer In Talks To Avert Threatened Walkout

Detroit, Mich. — (U.P.) — A softening of demands by both Ford Motor Co. and the CIO United Auto Workers raised hopes today that some way still might be found to avert crippling strikes in the automobile industry this year.

The union watered down its guaranteed annual wage demands considerably in a bargaining talk Sunday, while Ford eliminated one of the provisions it had included in its offer to set up severance pay for workers permanently laid off.

The two actions were the first signs yet in the nearly two months of negotiations that the two sides were starting to explore "the middle ground" between the union's and the company's positions.

Talks Resume Today

Negotiations resumed again today in an attempt to reach a settlement before Thursday when the union has said it will call 135,000 Ford workers out on strike if necessary to enforce its demands.

If a strike develops, it would be the first crippling walkout in the industry since 1950.

The union softened its guaranteed annual wage demand by cutting down the size of the payments it wants for workers when they are laid off. The union has been seeking a payment that would be the same size as a worker's regular take home pay. At Sunday's session, the union agreed it would consider a payment giving a worker 80 percent of his normal pay before taxes, high enough.

A union spokesman said this would mean the average worker would receive 11.5 per cent less than normal take home pay when he was laid off.

Provision Eliminated

The severance pay was one of the features of a company offer presented Thursday to the union. As originally proposed, a worker permanently laid off would have had to give up pension rights if he accepted severance pay. The company eliminated this provision Sunday.

A company spokesman said Ford had intended such a provision in the first place and had acted Sunday to clear up any misunderstanding.

Although the softening of demands by both sides raised hopes a settlement could be reached, the two sides still had to resolve the basic principle of the guaranteed annual wage.

Union President Walter Reuther told newsmen Saturday that a new contract must contain provisions to protect workers from layoffs.

Loyalists Prepare For Saigon Mop-Up

Saigon, Indochina — (U.P.) — Long convoys of motorized infantry rumbled into rebel strongholds in the Mekong river marshlands today as a prelude to a final mop-up offensive against the insurgent sects.

Reinforcements loyal to the American-backed government swung into southwest Cochinchina, 40 miles southwest of Saigon, to join the massive offensive against the 35,000-man Hoa Hao warlord army.

"We are awaiting battle orders at any moment," a Free Viet Nam officer said.

Senior army officers expressed optimism that they would crush the tough feudal warriors who tried to oust Premier Ngo Dinh Diem's government in civil war earlier this month.

Eagle Point High School Students Receive Honors

Eagle Point — Kay McCorkle, Eagle Point High school senior and salutatorian, has been awarded a scholarship at Oregon State college, it was announced at an awards assembly last week.

Other awards went to Alice Wilson, a senior from Shady Cove, for valedictorian, and to Tessie Ragsdale, who shared salutatorian honors with Miss McCorkle.

Others Honored

Pat Dickinson received recognition for outstanding mathematics work, Pauline DeHass was recognized as the ranking Eagle Point contestant in the Betty Crocker Homemakers of Tomorrow test, and Lucy Garder received a special award for editing the school annual. Linda Mallory was recognized for editing the school paper.

Athletic awards were presented to members of track and baseball teams for intermural sports. Band participation letters also were presented.

Deadline Seen for Stevenson Decision

Portland — (U.P.) — Neal E. Smith, national president of the Young Democrats, said here yesterday that Adlai Stevenson can clinch the Democratic nomination for president if he says he will run before Christmas.

Smith stopped briefly here on his way to San Francisco. He said he thought Stevenson would have to make up his mind before Christmas because there were "other good candidates in the field."

He mentioned Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan, John Leavelle of Pennsylvania and Averell Harriman of New York as other possible candidates.

Wager Produces 'Remarkable' Tool

Wahoo, Neb. — (U.P.) — An Army Ordnance safety official bet an employee at the Nebraska Ordnance plant here that he could not produce a durable, non-sparking tool, and the employee came up with a "remarkable improvement."

Walter Meier, Sr., chief draftsman for the National Gypsum Co., at the plant, won his wager with a tool that may be adopted for widespread use in the ammunition industry where non-sparking tools are a must for safety purposes.

Safety personnel at the plant here said the tool is a "remarkable improvement" over other non-sparking tools available. They said the tool would spark after it penetrated one thirty-second of an inch into metal, but this is considered to be an ample measure for safety purposes.

Officials also said the steel tool is expected to last much longer than other such tools, usually made of soft metal. Cost of Meier's tool would be the same as others.

Ma Falls Into Trunk; Pa Leaves Her There

Chicago — (U.P.) — John Vedeckis, 72, told a gathering of friends how his wife had fallen into a trunk the night before.

"Did she hurt herself?" one asked.

"I don't know," Vedeckis replied, "she's still there."

Vedeckis' friends found the 75-year-old woman still stuck in the trunk with only her arms and legs sticking out.

Vedeckis said he wasn't strong enough to pull her out so he went to sleep.

Mrs. Vedeckis was taken to a hospital.

Luminous Ceilings Predicted for Future

Schenectady, N. Y. — (U.P.) — Electricity will heat many of our homes within five years, according to Chester H. Lang, a General Electric vice-president, who also predicted:

(1) Luminous ceilings that can be varied in brightness and color and which go on automatically when a person walks into the room.

(2) Cordless clocks that work on short-wave from the Naval Observatory.

(3) A television set that looks like a picture on the wall.

The southernmost point in the United States is Cape Sable, Fla.

Infant Beaten by Father Succumbs

Portland — (U.P.) — A month old infant died of brain injuries here yesterday as a result of a blow dealt him by his irate father a week ago.

Dead was Randolph Ray Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Raymond Johnson of Portland.

The child's 29-year-old father was arrested last Monday on a charge of assault with intent to kill as a result of the beating. Johnson admitted he struck the child in a fit of temper while changing his diapers.

Johnson took the child to a hospital here the day following the beating and told nurses of the events leading up to the child's injury. He was arrested a short time later.

Police indicated today that a new complaint was pending in the case.
