

Three Men Killed, Ten Injured as Building Collapses

Dallas, Tex. — (U.P.) — Rescue workers freed a painfully injured worker today from the rubble of a collapsed building where three persons had been killed and nine others injured.

The workers began searching for more bodies after pulling Lloyd Cornet from a spot where he had been trapped for more than six hours.

The three-story limestone building collapsed with a roar late Wednesday after the rush of traffic had subsided.

Power Lines Broken
It crumbled into a bar and grill and music store and spewed chunks of debris across the street, breaking overhead power lines.

The building was located in downtown Dallas on Elm st., one of the city's three main thoroughfares.

Three persons in the bar and grill were killed. Seven others were brought out alive but two were injured critically and doctors said one was not expected to live.

Only the owner and a customer were in the music store. Neither was seriously hurt.

But more than 200 firemen and volunteer rescue workers dug for six hours to free Cornet.

He was pinned by his left leg next to a juke box, which he said saved his life. In the bar and grill, Dr. Bernard Weiner, risked his life to administer sedatives to the trapped man.

Noise of Tornado
Alvis Bailey Simmons, 40; William E. Kirby, 42; and Luther Gonzales, 32, were dead on arrival at the hospital.

One-hundred and fifty persons were next door in the Fox burlesque theater when the building came down.

They felt the impact of the collapse, but did not panic. Chester Tate, 53, ticket taker at the Fox, saw the building come down. He said it fell without warning and "with the noise of a tornado."

He went into the theater and cleared the patrons out.

Portland — (U.P.) — Bert R. Friedman has been named consultant to the Oregon Journal's advertising department.

THEY'RE 'PERSUADING' HER—Lenena Davis, 32-year-old widow and former ballet dancer, is "persuaded" by state troopers attempting to evict her from her home on the banks of the Des Plaines River at Lyons, Ill. She counter-attacked with bare feet, bare knuckles and full-throated screams. The eviction fight started more than a year ago when the sanitary district, owners of the land, wanted to run a railroad spur through it. The ex-dancer finally gave up the fight and her house was put to the torch.

75 Persons Join To Clean Up Cemetery

Gold Hill—More than 75 persons participated in a general cleanup day at the IOOF and Rock Point public cemeteries last Saturday. Five pickup trucks assisted in hauling debris from the grounds.

Dates of additional work days to finish cleaning the cemetery will be announced by trustees of the cemetery in the near future.

Memorial Day ceremonies were held at the cemetery Monday.

SLIGHT OVERSIGHT
St. Paul — (U.P.) — Minnesota lawmakers are considering a bill to correct an oversight of a previous session that outlawed sale of fireworks. The bill would ban sale of dynamite to minors.

Cat Didn't Want To Be Rescued

Washington — (U.P.) — At least one cat here has heard of the Bill of Rights.

When firemen tried to help the cat from a second-story ledge of the Capitol Wednesday, it protected its position by biting a fireman, scrambling higher and finally leaping to the ground where it disappeared into the shrubbery.

Plastic Surgery Credited With Added Intelligence

Ann Arbor, Mich. — (U.P.) — William Taylor, 27, St. Louis, Mich., said today he was "firmly convinced" that plastic surgery which gave him a new chin and a rebuilt nose also increased his intelligence.

"Before the surgery I was getting D's" the University of Michigan student said. "Since then I have been getting B's."

Paris Protestants Back Evangelist Billy Graham

Paris — (U.P.) — Protestants of all sects joined together for the first time in French history today to back Billy Graham's initial evangelistic crusade in a predominantly Roman Catholic country.

Protest leaders declared Graham's visit represented the first massive attempt at cracking French "indifference" to the Protestant faith.

Five-Day Series
The American preacher arrived by train from Nice Wednesday night. He will start a five-day series of meetings Sunday at the huge Palais Des Sports.

Graham will be the first Anglo-Saxon evangelist to preach at a large-scale Paris revival in three decades. The last one to appear was the late Evangeline Booth of the Salvation Army who preached here some 30 years ago.

The North Carolina evangelist, who recently completed successful crusades in Scotland and London, was greeted by some 200 persons who sang hymns in French as he stepped smiling off the train Wednesday night.

Greeted by Well-Wishers
"I can't tell you all how very happy I am to be in Paris," Graham said as well-wishers surged around the train door to greet him. At his side were his wife and a secretary.

Graham called for a moment of silence and then said quietly: "May God bless our stay here."

American Protestant leaders in France joined their French brethren in welcoming Graham to Paris.

Ford Employees Return To Work

Chicago — (U.P.) — Almost 2000 Ford employees in two plants returned to work today, ending a one-day "independent" walkout.

The 1918 members of the CIO auto workers union left their jobs at a Ford assembly plant and a parts depot yesterday on orders of the UAW Local 551.

James E. Hamby, local president, said the strike was called because UAW members were complaining about "company stalling" in negotiations at Detroit.

District Attorney Traffic Grid Victim

Cale, Ore. — (U.P.) — Three weeks ago this little county seat town put a new one-way traffic grid system into effect.

Tuesday, the first violator was apprehended for parking his car the wrong way on one of the one-way streets.

He was District Attorney E. Otis Smith.

Municipal Judge Jack Pierce said he strongly suspected the violator also had driven his car the wrong way to get it parked in that position, but he couldn't prove it. So he let the district attorney go for a $2 fine.

Indictment Returned In Death of Small Boy

Portland — (U.P.) — A second-degree murder indictment was returned by a grand jury yesterday against Earl Raymond Johnson, 29-year-old Portlander accused of striking his month-old son. The baby died last Sunday.

Johnson had been held on a charge of assault with intent to kill. An autopsy showed the infant died of a head injury.

Kaiser To Cast Ingots At Washington Plant

San Francisco — (U.P.) — Kaiser Aluminum and Chemical Corp. is installing ingot casting facilities costing approximately $755,000 at its reduction plant at Mead, Wash.

The casting facilities, using the direct chill method, will supply rolling ingot for the company's nearby Trentwood sheet and plate rolling mill and other potential customers.

Retirement of Molotov Rumored

London — (U.P.) — The London News Chronicle today reported widespread rumors in Belgrade, Yugoslavia, of the impending retirement of Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov and his replacement by a virtual unknown.

A dispatch from the newspaper's Belgrade correspondent said the rumors had it that Molotov would be succeeded by D. T. Shepilov, chief editor of the Soviet Communist paper Pravda, rather than by Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko.

Shepilov accompanied Soviet Communist Boss Nikita S. Khrushchev and Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin on the Kremlin's "forget and forgive" mission to Yugoslavia. Shepilov's inclusion in the delegation caused "some surprise" since Pravda sent two of its star correspondents to cover the talks, the Chronicle's correspondent said.

"Now, if the rumors are confirmed, Shepilov's inclusion is explained — this is a grooming for the new post that awaits him," the dispatch said.

The Chronicle said the reports give Molotov's age — he is 67 — and failing health as the reasons for his retirement.

The timber harvest from U.S. national forests between Oct. 1 and Dec. 31, 1954, was valued at $25,071,110.

Bender Provides Bail For Speeding Teacher

Washington — (U.P.) — Sen. George H. Bender left a congressional committee hearing Wednesday to give $28.40 to a Good Hope, O., teacher and eight honor students arrested by Fairfax County, Va., police for speeding.

Bender has been feuding with Virginia since radar-using patrolmen singled his car out of a whole line traveling at the same speed.

Joe DiMaggio Takes Marilyn To Preview

New York — (U.P.) — Joe DiMaggio took his former wife, Marilyn Monroe, to the preview of the movie reputed to have caused their bust up and on to a surprise birthday party last night.

"We're just good friends," DiMaggio said of the spectacular blonde bundle on his arm. "We do not plan to remarry. That's all I care to say."

The movie premiere was that of the "Seven Year Itch" in which Miss Monroe posed over a subway grating while her wide skirt was repeatedly blown over her head. DiMaggio, then her husband, watched. Friends said he didn't like it and that it contributed to the break up of their marriage.

After the preview DiMaggio was host at Toots Shor's Restaurant for a party of 50 in honor of Marilyn's 27th birthday.
