

Nixon Sees Big 4 Meeting as Last Chance for Peace

Chicago —(U.P.)— Vice-President Richard M. Nixon said today the coming Big Four conference may be the world's "last chance" to avoid a "catastrophic war."

Nixon said the meeting may provide an answer to whether the Communists still want to "conquer the world" or whether they have "changed their ways."

"This conference could be the world's last chance to settle differences peacefully and avoid a catastrophic war," he said.

"The question it may answer is whether negotiated peace is possible, or whether the danger of nuclear war is to hang over us for generations to come."

Nixon said in remarks prepared for delivery at the convention of Rotary International that there is "no question" about the "desire and intent" of free world leaders for peace.

"Let us hope that world public opinion will be sufficiently strong to force the men in the Kremlin to do likewise," he said.

Change of Tactics

He warned that from past experience, "we must assume" that recent "conciliatory actions" of Communist leaders show a "change of tactics rather than a change of heart."

"It is a standard Communist tactic to retreat at times for the purpose of being better able to move forward toward their announced ultimate goal and world domination," Nixon said.

A Nichol's Worth of . . . Comment On This and That

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
United Press Feature Writer

Washington —(U.P.)— When I went to work for the United Press many, many years back there was nothing in the application that said I was honor bound to hold a jackass on my lap in a taxicab.

But that's what happened when Press Club Jr., a fine little jackass, arrived here at the express office.

Harman Nichols

My friend, Gibs Sandefer, who in addition to being a fancier of fancy little burros is concert manager for the Navy and Air Force bands, asked would I give a hand.

Gib volunteered to get a junior grade donkey, for free, for the National Press Club family picnic which will come off here Sunday. Not only that, he said he would furnish a tiny Mexican hand-tooled saddle for same. Something his foreman at Dead Horse Ranch in New Mexico makes when he isn't handling the Sandefer herd.

A Lovely Boss

Sandefer called his old pal, Dr. F. F. Schmidt, in Douglas, Ariz., who is known around the circles as "Jackass King of America." Schmidt agreed to send the animal.

Gib called me and asked if I'd go to the express office and help him out with the burro. On the way, I asked him why he didn't name the burro after some member of the club. He said he had talked it over with Mae Smith, the lovely and efficient lady who is the real boss of the club.

"Some of our members are sensitive," Gib quoted Mrs. Smith.

Anyway, we pulled up in front of the express office and Gib started to fiddle with the back end of the cab. My job was to run down a flight of steps and fetch up the reluctant jackass, which not only did not like steps, it didn't want to walk.

So, 90 pounds had to be lugged. No matter that I outweighed the little fellow by more than 100 lbs.

Some Lucky Child

Gib said he thought it would be fine to put Press Club Jr.'s crib in the back. Gib also said he would get in front with the driver and that I could cuddle the donkey in the back seat.

That's what happened. Press Club Jr. turned out to be a wiggly little burro. All the way back from the express office it squirmed and otherwise acted up. As of now, P. C. Jr. is in his own little corral in the lobby of the 13th floor of the National Press Building, possibly looking back in memory to the lovely desert and wishing for sand, all the while learning something, reluctantly, about the ways of big city life.

Come Sunday, the burro will go to some youngster lucky enough to hold the right ticket for the Press Club picnic. If the kid is anti-donkey, he can turn

Youths in Mailbox Bombings Due Probation

Portland —(U.P.)— Juvenile Judge Virgil Langtry indicated he would place on probation four teenaged youths after studying three recent mailbox bombings to which they have confessed.

The youths, who said they set off dynamite bombs in three southeast Portland mailboxes "just for the fun of it," appeared in juvenile court yesterday. No injuries were caused by the explosions.

Florida Robbery Suspect Captured

Las Vegas —(U.P.)— A suspect in an $86,707 Jacksonville, Fla., bank robbery May 20 had $9,500 in his possession when he was arrested last night in a parking lot of a swank Strip resort hotel-casino, the FBI said today.

The suspect, Alton D. Ellis, 41, Clearwater, Fla., insurance salesman, was taken into custody without incident by FBI agents and Sheriff's Sgts. Noble Witcher and Robert Griffin.

The sheriff's office said Ellis had been the subject of a search for several hours before he was finally located in the parking lot. His arrest followed a tip that he had been seen in the vicinity.

Ellis was the second suspect to be arrested in connection with the robbery. Two other men are still sought by the FBI.

A Clearwater dishwasher suspected of involvement in the robbery of The First National Bank of Jacksonville was arrested earlier.

It over to Dr. Mann at the zoo and hang the saddle on the apartment door.

STRIKE DEADLINE ADVANCED—Julius Nemeth (left) and Harry Crawley, members of Local 600 United Auto Workers of Ford Rouge plant at Detroit, read union notice which calls workers off the job for mass meeting concerning CIO-UAW-Ford Motor Co. contract negotiations.

CIO President Walter Reuther extended the strike deadline to give union and company more time to explore a new offer from Ford. The 140,000 Ford workers in 57 plants across the country had been poised to strike if agreement on their guaranteed annual wage demand had not been reached.

Firemen Continuing Residence Inspections
