

Ike Receives Present of Livestock for New Farm

Gettysburg, Pa. — (U.P.) — The sun was lowering in the west over the rolling Pennsylvania countryside and two Black Angus cows with a straggling calf waddled along the edge of a small pond.

"That's a hen party for you," said President Eisenhower. "Not a bull in the bunch."

The Chief Executive looked contentedly around the lush, green acreage of his farm, at the pristine white walls and pastel blue shutters of his new house and down toward the barn where a newly arrived Berkshire sow grunted happily in the hay.

He shrugged his shoulders and turned to a Secret Service man standing nearby.

"Well," said the President. "It's about time to get back to the salt mine."

He crawled into his car and sped to a nearby grass landing strip, boarded a tiny two-engine plane and flew back to Washington Friday after a happy, bucolic afternoon when for a few hours, his most serious problem was how to trap the raccoon that has been eating his duck eggs.

The real reason for the President's flying trip to the farm was to receive a series of gifts dear to his heart—the two Angus cows and the calf, plus the new sow—more than 300 pounds of Indiana raised porker due to drop a new litter in July.

One cow, Millarden Miss Burgess 17, and her March calf were the gifts of the Brandywine Aberdeen Angus association, presented by Neal D. Ivey of Malvern, Pa.

Then came Elden Holsapple,

AUTOS LENGTHENED

Detroit —(U.P.)— In the past 14 years the average lengths of the lowest-priced models of all automobile makes have grown 6.1 inches. In 1941, the Automobile Manufacturers' association reported, the average length was 200.6 inches compared with 206.7 for present models.

Litter Predicted

Eldon predicted firmly and confidently that Belle would present the President with a litter of 10 pigs about July 15. Mr. Eisenhower promised to be at the farm for the event.

The next arrival was "Blackbird XIV," a 1,000-pound Angus. Blackbird was the gift of the Heart of Ohio Aberdeen Angus association, and presented by Fred and Herbert Penick, brothers of Hebron, O.

Modern Day 'Fagin' Admits Teaching Burglary To Sons

Chicago —(U.P.)— Police today held a modern-day "Fagin" who admitted teaching his two teen-age sons to be "real burglars" when they returned with only candy and cigarettes from a grocery store they looted.

John R. Peterson, 41, unemployed, was arrested Friday night after being implicated in the robbery by his sons, Walter, 15, and John Jr., 16.

The boys were seized earlier when police got reports that they were selling cigarettes to fellow students at the Hearst school. Confess Theft

They confessed pulling off the May 25 theft with their other teenagers who were also arrested but whose names were withheld.

The Peterson boys said their father asked after the robbery if anyone had seen them break in.

When they replied, "no," they said, Peterson bawled them out and said he would return to the grocery with them and show them how to be "real burglars."

Looted Store

The family trio hopped into their station wagon, drove back to the looted store and sacked it of 80 cartons of cigarettes, 72 pairs of nylons and quantities of food worth an estimated $500, police said.

They also took $35 from the cash register, police said.

Peterson took detectives to a south side garage, which he had rented, and showed them some of the loot. He also showed them a new bath tub, 41 cases of bathroom tile and plumbing and bathroom fixtures which he said he robbed from a home under construction in suburban Skokie.
